Dear Millicent:

Thanks very much for your recent letter. Since receiving it I have been developing some sketches which will all add up to a final one for you to consider. This is taking a bit of time but this is the way I work. I think the most satisfying results are otherwise hard to obtain. You may be interested to know that I did months of pure research on my original version (the final one) of the "Amistad Mutiny" before I even picked up a brush to undertake the actual painting.

I'll keep you posted as things progress.
Very best wishes to your family from Ted and me.

Very sincerely yours,

Fale
