

Message from the Dean

Dr. Arthur C. Gunn
Dean

From the establishment of the School of Library Service at Atlanta University in 1941, we have based our program on the education of professionals who understand the basic principles and ethics of the field, and are committed to the provision of service to all segments of society, especially those to whom access to information has been less than desirable in a democratic society. In 2002, as we face a slowing economy, a widening digital divide and the impact of September 11, these principles and ethics, and the commitment to service, become even more important.

Continuation of accreditation for the education program is essential if the School is to carry on the legacy begun in 1941. To that end, activities in the School during 2001-2002 have been focused on preparing for a reaccreditation visit by an External Review Panel of the American Library Association Committee on Accreditation scheduled for April 8-9, 2002. Faculty, staff, students, alumni, University administrators and employers have worked together over the course of the academic year to produce a Program Presentation Document that outlines the School's strengths and challenges for the future, and plans for continuous growth and improvement. I will have the pleasure of representing the School before the Committee on Accreditation during the 2002 Annual Conference. The support offered by President Thomas W. Cole, Jr. and Provost Winfred Harris, and the commitment of the faculty, students and staff to the education program, help to ensure a positive response from the Committee on Accreditation.

When I am asked how things are going in the SLIS, I get a chance to brag about the improvements to the School's technology infrastructure and the resources that are available to aid instruction. You can read about these and other program developments in this issue of CAU/SLIS NEWSLETTER. I'd simply like to take this opportunity to invite alumni and friends to visit the School to see first-hand the changes that have taken place. I especially want to invite alumni and friends who plan to attend the 2002 ALA Annual Conference to keep open Saturday, June 15, between the hours of 12 Noon and 4:00 p.m. when the School

Inside this issue:

Technology	2
School Media Program	3
Cobb Cohort Program	4
SLIS in the Community	5
Faculty/Staff Profile	6
Student Workforce	8
ALA/SLA	9
In Memoriam	10
Alumni News	11
Calendar	12

Message from the Dean (continued from page 1)

will host a Reunion Picnic on the Trevor Arnett Quadrangle. Also, the School will co-sponsor, along with the Black Caucus of the ALA, the Clark Atlanta University Press, and the Atlanta University Center Robert W. Woodruff Library, a Forum titled BLACK LIBRARIANS & PUBLISHING: GET-

TING OUR VOICES HEARD on Monday, June 17 between 9:00 a.m. and 12 Noon in the CAU Science Research Center. We invite alumni and friends to join us on campus for what we know will be intellectually stimulating and socially enjoyable activi-

A Complete Technology Renovation

The School of Library and Information Studies has experienced a complete change in its technology infrastructure since the start of the 2001-2002 academic year. Wiring has been upgraded to the three-prong grounded standard, and Cat 5e cable has been installed in all faculty offices, labs and classrooms. These upgrades help to move the School into the mainstream of technological development within the University.

Faculty members are working with the University's Distant Learning Instruction Teaching Education (DLITE) Center learning how to use technology to prepare courses for on-line delivery. Kenneth Chong, a doctoral student in the University's Biology Department, is one of four Graduate Research Assistants and is responsible for maintaining the Labs and assisting faculty members in adjusting to new equipment and software.

Some of the latest desktop technology is now available in the Cataloging and Computer Lab and in the School Media Lab. The same technology is available in faculty and staff offices, and in the work areas used by Graduate Research Assistants and Work Study student workers. Other upgrades include USB memory keys, new LCD projectors, and document and digital cameras. Faculty members have been issued laptop computers to use for in classroom presentations and lectures and in their scholarly endeavors, while other machines are available for students to borrow to complete their assignments, presentations and research projects. Future upgrades being considered include establishing a wireless network and teleconferencing capabilities.

SLIS students in action in Mr. Aaron's Library Automation Course.

Smart-Board Training

Great, I say, because of the excellence of the things themselves, because of their newness, unheard of through the ages, and also because of the instrument with the benefit of which they make themselves. - Siderus Nuncius

These words appropriately describe the two electronic smart-boards that have been added to the list of hardware now available in the SLIS. This technology allows the instructor or a student presenter to demonstrate navigation of a Web site for a class, add notes to lesson plans, write over PowerPoint presentations, and engage class members in discovery and sharing. Assistant Professor R. Bernard Welmaker conducted training sessions in using the smart-boards for faculty and staff members.

SLIS Faculty and Staff learning to use the electronic smart-board.

School Media: A Viable and Active Program

Following up on a recommendation made by the School Media Program Task Force, the SLIS has established an aggressive plan to recruit, admit, educate, and graduate increased numbers of professionals to help eliminate the shortage of school media specialists in Metropolitan Atlanta, and throughout the State of Georgia and the Nation.

Dr. R. Bernard Welmaker and Dr. Anita O'Neal serve as advisors to students specializing in school media management center services, and they teach the school media and other appropriate literature courses. Together they bring to students more than fifty years of library/media experience. Welmaker and O'Neal are involved in establishing and maintaining close working relationships with media coordinators locally and across the state. They also provide workshops for practitioners and for others who serve in para-professional roles. Dr. O'Neal is the Internship coordinator and oversees placement of student intern efforts to satisfy the practical experience requirement.

Fifteen master's-level and nine specialist-level students are enrolled for 2001-2002. Four SLIS students sat for the Praxis Examination at the end of Fall Semester 2001, and all received passing scores. The Praxis is a national examination that qualifies applicants for state certification. Financial aid is available to all qualifying students who are pursuing a school media specialist career.

A School Media Lab was established in 1996 to address the special needs of the school media curriculum. The Lab houses digital still and video cameras, traditional media production tools, computers, and other digital media tools specifically designed to integrate the new technologies into student learning experiences.

*District 5 GA Library Media Association
Millicent Norman, 74; Chair*

President's Budget Includes $10 Million To Recruit New Librarians

President Bush's FY 2003 budget contains an increase over last year of $15.8 million for the Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS), $10 million of which is earmarked for a new initiative to recruit and train a new generation of librarians. Based on census data, more than one-quarter of all librarians with master's degrees will reach retirement age before 2009. This does not take into account early retirement, death, or other reasons for leaving the profession before the age of 65.

The IMLS initiative, 21st Century Librarians, will provide scholarships and fellowships in support of master's programs; doctoral students, who will be the professors teaching the next generation of librarians; distance learning technology to support training programs for librarians in underserved rural areas; and recruitment of a diverse and skilled workforce, including librarians with diverse language skills and up-to-date technical knowledge.

C&RL News, March 2002

How Much Do You Know About Your Library School?

1. In what year did the School of Library Service open?
2. How many students were in the first graduating class? What degree did they receive?
3. In what year was the School first accredited?
4. Who was the first African American to receive the Ph.D. degree in library science?
5. In what year was the Specialist in Library Service degree program established?

*School of Lib. &
Info. Studies
Trevor-Arnett Hall*

1st African-American Ph.D. in Library Science

Answers: (1) 1941; (2) 22, B.S. in L.S. in 1942; (3) The School was accredited in July 1943 with accreditation retroactive for previous graduates; (4) Eliza Adams Gleason; (5) 1971

SLIS Graduates Returning to Receive Specialist Degrees

The SLIS has witnessed an increase in the number of practitioners holding the M.S.L.S. degree who are returning to pursue the Specialist in Library Service degree. The Specialist program was initiated in 1971, and was designed as a formal continuing education experience for persons who hold the master's degree in library/information studies. This sixth-year program of study is planned with students in terms of their individual career goals and provides opportunities for updating knowledge and skills, strengthening areas of specialization and redirecting career goals. Courses are selected and the research project is carried out in consultation with a faculty advisor appointed by the Dean of the School. Students may complete the Specialist degree program in two years. All requirements for this degree must be satisfied within six (6) years of the date of matriculation in the Program. (see photo on page 5)

CAU/Cobb County Cohort Program

A cohort program involving the SLIS and the Cobb County Public Library was launched at the start of the 2001-2002 academic year. The program allows students to complete most if not all of their courses within a two-year framework. Gone are the days when students had to fight Atlanta's dreaded rush-hour traffic to make classes scheduled for 5:30 on campus. Classes are offered on-site for Cobb County Public Library employees and others who live and work in the area beginning at 6:00 p.m. Plans call for students to complete 18 credit hours at the Library and 18 credit hours on campus, primarily on Saturdays. The brainchild of Gale Rogers and Donnie Griffin, Cobb County's director and assistant director, the program was initiated in an attempt to increase the pool of qualified practitioners from the Library's para-professional ranks. Future plans call for similar programs to be started in other parts of the Atlanta metro area.

Internships

The Faculty, staff and students thank the supervisors and other staff members of the internship sites listed below for their support of the Clark Atlanta library education program. Also listed with the Intern sites are graduates who gained the practical experience needed to help them launch productive careers.

Atlanta Fulton Public Library

Roland Lemonius

Atlanta History Center

Todd Prusin

Atlanta Public Schools

Cassi Gwyn

Susan Pruitt

Garrette Sparks

Delores McLemore

11th Circuit Court of Appeals

Dana Eden

DeKalb County School System

Cynthia Thomas

Howard McCalla

Linda Broadus

Emory Univ. - Special Collections Department

Stacy Swazy

Fort Valley State University

Shaundra Walker

Fulton County School System

Lucretia Turner

Georgia Power Company

Regina Beard

Georgia State University Law Library

Bessie Gray

Kennesaw State University

Claudia Silverman

Roni M. Glover

Lylah Salhuddin

Melissa Jacobson

Cathy Carpenter

Solvay Pharmaceuticals, Inc.

Olafare Ijmayowa

Walt Disney World Library & Research Ctr

Sherida Wagner

SLIS IN THE COMMUNITY

Class discusses management issues at Cobb County. This course was offered as a part of the Cobb Cohort Program.

Dr. Abdullahi and students wearing traditional African clothing.

Specialist students in Dr. Welmaker's Research Methods course.

Garrette Sparks reading to a group of Children at Medlock Bridge Elementary School in Alpharetta, GA.

Moriba Jackson, Garrette Sparks, Dr. Brown, and Tawanna Cannon attending an ALA Conference.

Dr. O'Neal and alumni Chris Snell

Faculty Profiles

Ismail Abdullahi
Associate Professor
Ph.D., University of Pittsburgh
M.L.S., North Carolina Central University
Dr. Abdullahi teaches Library and Information

Center Management, Government Documents, and Information Resources in Science & Technology, to name a few. His research interests include international librarianship and issues related to diversity in the field. He enjoys traveling and shortwave radios. Words of Wisdom: There is no progress without pain-F. Douglass

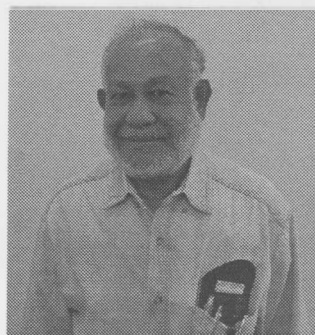

Robert Aaron
Lecturer
M.L.S., Emory University
Mr. Aaron's research interests include on-line searching issues, digital reference, and competitive intelligence.

His favorite books are Lord of the Rings, To Kill a Mockingbird, Dune, or anything by Ursula Leguin or David Brin. His hobbies include musical performance, electronics, and cycling. His music group, The Atlanta Singers, has completed 2 CDs.

Lorene B. Brown
Associate Professor
Ph.D., University of Wisconsin
Dr. Brown enjoys reading biographies, cooking and playing the piano. She teaches cataloging and classification, and indexing and abstracting. Her research interests include Thesauri Construction and Library Education. She encourages students to always put passion into their work.

Abulfazal M. F. Kabir
Associate Professor
Ph.D., Indiana University
Dr. Kabir teaches information resources, collection development, and Information Resources for the Social Sciences. His primary research interest is in the area of library history.

He reminds students that there are no short cuts to becoming a professional librarian. He encourages students to make learning a lifelong process.

Anita O'Neal
Lecturer
Ed.D., Clark Atlanta University (May 2002)
Dr. O'Neal teaches Children's Literature, and Young Adult Literature. Her research interests include School

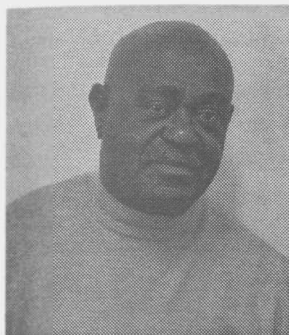

Library Media Services, Children's Literature, and Censorship and Intellectual Freedom. She enjoys traveling, reading, dancing, and attending plays and concerts. Words of Wisdom: Be true to thyself.

Bernard Welmaker
Assistant Professor
Ph.D., University of Michigan
Dr. Welmaker teaches several courses including Young Adult Literature, Research Methods, and Ethnic Materials for Young Adults.

His research interest is in bibliotherapy. His favorite authors are Clive Cussler, Tom Clancy, Robert Ludlum, Rex Strout and John Grisham. Words of Wisdom: Cattle are born, but the horns come later.

FACULTY/STAFF

Arthur C. Gunn

Dean, SLIS

Ph.D., University of Pittsburgh

Dr. Gunn's research interests include African Americans and Library Services, and African American Humanities Literature. He enjoys collecting hand-blown glass birds, antique mirrors, and has a passion for classical music. He has a wide range of literary interests including books on politics, history, and African-American biography. In his own words: We should remember that all things are possible when we believe in ourselves.

Gwen Callaway

Assistant to the Dean

M.S.L.S., Atlanta Univ.

Gwen enjoys gardening, belly dancing, and is a certified mixologist. She also has an M.S. degree in Developmental Biology.

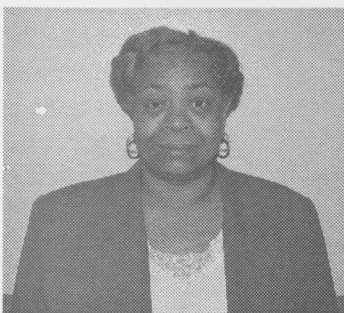

Lillie Brown

Administrative Secretary

B.S., Rust College

Lillie enjoys sewing, cooking, and traveling. Her favorite authors are Sidney Sheldon and Toni Morrison.

Doris Callahan

Senior Secretary

Doris enjoys cooking, reading and is a huge movie buff. Her favorite authors are King, Morrison, McMillan, Grisham, and Koontz.

FACULTY STAFF UPDATE

Dr. Lorene Brown, Associate Professor, has been invited to serve as a member of the Regional Advisory Council (RAC) for the National Network of Libraries of Medicine in the Southeastern/Atlantic Region. Their goal is to improve access to health information and to work with the National Library of Medicine to promote their products. The advisory group is to help plan and implement programs to reach the constituent's groups. The term of office ranges from 3 to 5 years.

Dr. Ismail Abdullahi, Associate Professor, was elected to the International Federation of Library Association and Institutions (IFLA) Standing Committee for Education and Training. He will serve on the Standing Committee until 2004. Dr. Abdullahi gave a leadership workshop at the Library Association's (LA) Diversity Council in London. At the recent ALISE conference in New Orleans, Dr. Abdullahi served as a panel speaker of "International Journals: A Factor in the Mosaic." His presentation emphasized the importance of inclusion of international and diversity issues in LIS education.

Professor Anita J. O'Neal, '69, Lecturer, has successfully completed all requirements to receive the Ed.D. degree in Educational Leadership from Clark Atlanta University. Her degree will be conferred at the 2002 May Commencement. Professor O'Neal's doctoral dissertation is titled "A Comparative Study of Administrators', Teachers', and Media Specialists' Perceptions of the Roles of the Media Specialist in the School's Instructional Program."

Dr. Fazel Kabir, Associate Professor, had a very busy year traveling, writing and serving on committees. He attended the ALISE, ALA and APALA Mid-Winter conferences in New Orleans and served as convener of the ALISE SIG History session. He presented an invitational paper at the National Conference of Asian Pacific American Library conference in San Francisco. The title of the paper was Raganathan: A Universal Scholar of Library Science.

Dr. Arthur Gunn is currently serving as Interim Director of the Atlanta University Center Robert W. Woodruff Library.

Ms. Doris Callahan has been promoted to Senior Secretary, School of Library and Information Studies. Her service to the University includes 17 years and three deans. Doris has three children and is the proud grandmother of one grandson, Malik Rashad Callahan.

Faculty/Staff Spotlight

The SLIS is excited about the return of Gwen Callaway. Gwen earned her M.S. degree in Developmental Biology from Atlanta University in 1976 and her M.S.L.S. degree in 1977. She brings a friendly, creative, and enthusiastic personality to the SLIS.

Callaway served as the assistant to the SLS Dean from 1990-1992. She continued working for CAU, assisting in the development of the Center for Excellence in Teaching and Learning and the newly established Department of Engineering. Gwen has also worked as an Information Specialist at the Georgia Pacific Corporation. She served CAU as Director of Special Events, and had the pleasure of meeting Nelson Mandela, Colin Powell, and Quincy Jones while working in that capacity.

Her professional focus is on making Clark Atlanta one of the premier SLIS programs in the country. Her agenda includes expanded marketing and recruiting efforts, technology initiatives, research and publication, and increasing Alumni involvement.

Student Workforce

The SLIS is also supported by a strong student workforce. They perform a variety of tasks in support of Dr. Gunn and the faculty and staff. Currently they manage the computer lab, support operations in the Office of the Dean, troubleshoot technology problems, edit the newsletter, and oversee updates to the School's Web page.

Each student also brings his/her unique experiences to the school. Marcia Cooper is an undergraduate student pursuing a degree in business administration. She is originally from Liberia, but attended high school in Minnesota. She is a first-year Clark Atlanta student.

Kenneth A. Chong is a Clark Atlanta University Ph.D. candidate pursuing a degree in Molecular Biology. Hailing from New York, he attended and received his B.S. degree in Biology from Morgan State University.

Harold Goss, Jr. is a SLIS student. He completed his B.A. degree in Psychology at the University of Georgia and then four years of service as a transportation officer in the United States Air Force.

Regina Beard comes to the SLIS with a B.S. degree in Journalism. She is from Kansas by way of New York

City. She enters the program with more than ten years of experience in banking.

Gwen's personal objectives include pursuing a Ph.D. degree and starting her own business.

City. She enters the program with more than ten years of experience in banking.

Saundra Ross was born and raised in Montgomery, Alabama. She earned her B.S. degree in Social Science at Troy State University. She brings a wide range of experience to the SLIS, including public library experience, time spent with the YMCA in Birmingham, and in the performance arts.

Left-Right: Marcia, Kenneth, Sandra, Harold, and Regina

SLA Student Chapter

The SLIS student chapter of the Special Libraries Association is a small but dedicated group of individuals with career interests in law, business and economics, health sciences, and art/museum librarianship, as well as in other specialized areas and in archival studies. Associate Professor Ismail Abdullahi is the group's advisor. The Chapter encourages professional exposure for its members through colloquia, visits to special libraries, and programs focused on professional development and awareness. Students are paired with mentors who provide guidance and encouragement, and help in bringing individuals together who share similar interests and career goals. Previous colloquium speakers have included Sally Griffith, President of the Georgia Chapter Special Libraries Association, and Karen Jefferson, Head of Archive and Special Collections in the Atlanta University Center's Robert W. Woodruff Library. Dr. Abdullahi recently presented a training program for chapter members and other SLIS students titled "Preparing an Effective Presentation."

The

2001-

Morna Gerrard, SLA Student Chapter President

2002 SLA Officers

President - Morna Gerrard
Secretary - Beth Day Cackowski
Public Relations - Stacy Swazy

ALA Student Chapter

Associate Professor Lorene Brown is advisor to the SLIS student chapter of the American Library Association. Student membership in ALA is an important career resource that provides opportunities for attendance at the organization's annual conferences and placement service support. Members receive a subscription to American Libraries and are listed in the annual ALA Membership Directory. More than 40 official ALA Student Chapters are located at accredited education programs across the country. The CAU Student Chapter offers enrichment and involvement in professional and community activities.

Alumna Michelle Carnes kicked off the organization's 2001-2002 program year with a presentation to students, staff and faculty members titled "Me A Librarian?" She discussed new trends in the field and the technologies being used to manage information. Students were reminded of the importance of networking and the need to become involved in professional associations to help shape future developments in the field.

Kevin Robinson, ALA Student Chapter President

2001-2002 ALA Student Chapter Officers

President - Kevin Robinson
Secretary - Morna Gerrard
Treasurer - Regina Beard

In Memoriam Lucretia P. Parker (1917-2002)

It is with sadness that we share with you news of the passing of Mrs. Lucretia J. Pettiford Parker, class of 1954 alumna and former Librarian of the School of Library Service at Atlanta University under the deanship of Dr. Virginia Lacy Jones. Mrs. Parker died of a heart attack at her home in Atlanta on Sunday, February 24, 2002. Graveside services were held on March 1, 2002, at the Greenlawn Cemetery in Portsmouth, Ohio, where she was buried with her husband.

Mrs. Parker was born in Springfield, Ohio, to Dana and Edith Pettiford. After graduating from high school, she attended Wilberforce University in Wilberforce, Ohio, where she graduated with a B.A. degree. While there, she met Lloyd Andrew Parker from Portsmouth, Ohio. They dated throughout college and married soon after graduation. Mr. Parker entered the Army and held the rank of Lieutenant Colonel at the time of his death at age 34 in 1951. Soon after, Mrs. Parker moved to Atlanta and entered the Atlanta University School of Library Service and earned the M.S. in L.S. degree. Upon graduation, she accepted the position of Librarian for the School of Library Service where she served until her retirement on July 31, 1976.

She was a member of the American Library Association and of the American Library Association Discussion Group of Library School Librarians. She was a member of the Metropolitan Atlanta Library Association. She served as a resource person for elementary and high schools, and she served as a consultant for two special libraries, North Carolina Central University, and the Urban Affairs Center at Michigan State University. Mrs. Parker assisted in developing a course on the use of the library and library materials specifically designed for minority group students.

Lucretia P. Parker

In a letter written to Dr. Thomas D. Jarrett, President of Atlanta University, Mrs. Parker wrote, "I hope that my years of service have proven in some measure as beneficial to the University as they have to me. May I express my appreciation to you that it was during your administration that policies were adopted which recognized the contribution which librarians make toward the academic program of Atlanta University.

Mrs. Parker is survived by her daughter, Cheryl R. Parker Robinson, and her son-in-law Dr. Willie C. Robinson. The family has established the Lloyd and Lucretia Parker Class of 1939 Endowment Scholarship Fund at Wilberforce University for the benefit of a bright and needy student each year. Contributions can be sent to Wilberforce University Development Office, Attention: Ms. Edie Marshall, P.O. Box 1001, Wilberforce, Ohio 45384.

RETIREMENT

Dr. Donald Oehlerts, Associate Professor, has retired after 10 years of service in the School of Library and Information Studies. Dr. Oehlerts taught Introduction to the Library Profession, Information Resources in the Humanities, Archival Management and Academic Library Management.

Ms. Almeta Woodson, SLIS Librarian, has retired after 38 years of service. Ms. Woodson graduated from the Atlanta University School of Library and Information Studies in 1961. She compiled the Fifty Years of Service: A Chronological History of The School of Library Service, published in The Georgia Librarian/Fall 1991, pages 71-79.

CREATIVE CORNER

On Note-taking

by
Lylah Salahuddin

I write them because in their passage they smear lasting trails of understanding along the walls of my mind and weeeeeeeeeee
down my arms marking tributaries through my fingers and drip to the page distilled

ALUMNI NEWS

Ms. Ella Yates '51 and Dr. Charles Churchwell '53 were recognized by SLIS and the CAU Alumni Association as outstanding alums, and were recipients of the 2001 Alumni Service Award. The award is given to a distinguished alumna/alumnus in the following categories: Art/Entertainment, Business and Industry, Education, Science/Medicine, Religion, Social Work, Service to the Alumni Association, and Service to the University.

Ms. Yates was the first black female librarian appointed by the Governor of the State of Virginia and the first black to be named director of the Atlanta Public Library, where she supervised the building of the present Atlanta-Fulton County Public Library central facility.

Dr. Churchwell was the first black male to head a major research library in the United States; Dean of Library Services, Washington University, St. Louis. He served in leadership positions at the University of Illinois, Houston, Miami, and Clark Atlanta University.

Barbara Shelvin '95 served as the indexer for Judge Horace Ward's book titled Desegregation of the University of Georgia, Civil Rights Advocacy, and Jurisprudence (2001, Clark Atlanta Univ. Press). Judge Ward's wife, Ruth LeFlore Ward, was a 1963 graduate of the SLIS.

What's New?

Please keep in touch and let us know about your professional and personal accomplishments so we may include them as news items in future issues. Also, let us know about any address change. Please fill out this form and return it to:

Gwendolyn Callaway, Assistant to the Dean
School of Lib. & Info. Studies, Clark Atlanta University
223 James P. Brawley Dr., S.W., Atlanta, GA 30314
Phone: 404-880-8694 Fax: 404-880-8977
E-mail: gcallaway@cau.edu

Name	_____
Home Address	_____
City	State	Zip
Home Phone	Grad Year
Employer	_____
Work Address	_____
City	State	Zip
Title	Work Phone
E-mail Address	_____
Update News	_____
	_____
	_____

2002 CALENDAR OF EVENTS

Clark Atlanta University

This newsletter is published two times a year for the School of Library and Information Studies and its alumni to encourage faculty/staff/students and alumni interest in and support of SLIS.

Arthur C. Gunn, Dean

Executive Editor: Gwen Callaway

University Editor: Earle D. Clowney

Contributing Writers: Gwen Callaway, Kenneth A. Chong, & Harold Goss, Jr.

Design/Layout: Kenneth A. Chong & Harold Goss, Jr.

*Questions? Comments?
Information? Address
Corrections? News? Events?*

Address submissions to
Gwen Callaway, CAU
School of Lib. & Info. Studies,
223 James P. Brawley Dr., S.W.,
Atlanta, GA 30314.
E-mail to gcallaway@cau.edu

We're on the Web!
www.cau.edu

*Clark Atlanta University
Sch. of Lib. & Info. Studies
James P. Brawley Dr., S.W.
Atlanta, GA 30314*

March 29	Good Friday
April 6-9	Visit of the Committee on Accreditation
April 14-20	National Library Week
May 18	Semester Ends
May 19	Baccalaureate
May 20	Commencement
June 13-19	ALA Conference, Atlanta, GA Alums, mark your calendars for a wonderful SLIS 60th Anniversary Celebration.

"I'll find a way or make one" "Culture for service"

Celebrating

60
Years