April 29, 2020

Anonymous, Clark Atlanta University

“During this horrible time this pandemic of COVID -19 has changed a lot of people’s lives including myself and my loved ones. I am a graduating senior, I looked forward to walking across that stage for many years way before even finishing high school. This pandemic has stolen all the joy I had been building up for years. Yes, I know I still have graduated and will receive my diploma it just won’t be the same. Other then myself, my young sister college experience was also affected due to COVID-19 , she was just getting use to college and now everything has been changed to remote work. I am thankful that during this time I was able to continue working and my loved ones and myself have been healthy through these tough times.”
