GENERAL INFORMATION

BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS

The Seminary is located at the Southern terminus of Capitol avenue, one-fourth mile south of the limits of Atlanta, Ga. Its Campus of seventeen and one-half acres is composed of rolling land, the highest in the vicinity of the city, and is covered by a beautiful grove of pine and oak. When the drives, walks, etc., are finished, the campus will have the form of a handsome park. Electric cars run to its edge and its buildings overlook the city. It would be difficult to find a more central, accessible and beautiful site in the South.

The campus already contains Gammon Hall, the Library building, four commodious houses for professor's families and ten cottages for married students.

Gammon Hall is a handsome building of fine modern architectural design. It was erected and furnished at a cost of $30,000. It is built of brick with stone trimmings, and is one hundred and ten by fifty-two feet, and four stories high. The students' rooms are large and well ventilated, and each floor is provided with baths.

The Library building is one of the most beautiful structures of the kind in the South. Its dimensions are sixty-eight by forty-eight feet. Its foundations are granite, with cut stone trimmings. The super-structure is of brick, trimmed with heavy rock faced stone and terra-cotta, with tasteful Roman arabesque ornamentations. On the right is the library proper, with two stories of alcoves for books. The library, as now arranged, will hold about twenty thousand volumes. On the left from the entrance hall is the reading room. Below in the basement story, connected by stairway and convenient dumb-waiter, is the workroom. The entire building has been thoroughly finished, and is complete and elegant in all its appointments.

Gammon Hall and the library building are heated by steam and lighted with electric lights.

LIBRARY AND READING ROOM

Students have free access to the theological library of twelve thousand volumes, consisting of works in all departments of theology and related branches. It is classified and arranged by departments, in alcoves, for convenient reference, and is rendered available by a valuable card-catalogue.

We have begun a collection of works relating to the religious history and moral reforms of this section, which embraces already many rare and valuable books, and promises to be one of the most complete of its kind in the South. For the special collection of works on Africa and missionary work for Africa, see under the Stewart Missionary Foundation for Africa.

The Reading-room is supplied with the leading reviews and homiletical magazines, and a large number of religious and secular papers. A special alcove of valuable works of reference, consisting of general Biblical and ecclesiastical cyclopedias, commentaries, etc., has been placed in the Reading-room, so as to be easily accessible to the students for constant use. The room is in charge of a curator, who keeps it comfortable and opened to students at stated hours.

FREE TUITION AND AID

The Seminary grants free tuition as well as free rooms to its regular students. The rooms are heated with steam and furnished with two bedsteads, mattresses and pillows, and such furniture as is necessary for two to occupy each room. Students will need to bring sheets, pillow cases, towels, one blanket and one comfort. Books are supplied for cash at a discount of twenty to thirty per cent. from publishers' list price.

ENGLISH BIBLE

In order to increase the efficiency of the Seminary in preparing men to preach the Word, we place special emphasis on the study of the English Bible. In addition to the other work in the English Bible we have a special course in the Books of the Bible. This course covers three years, and includes the study of the entire Bible, book by book. Such study is coming to be recognized as a necessity in theological seminaries. The object is to give the student a better understanding of the Bible. Hebrew and Greek are not enough. They are valuable and necessary for critical study. It is the English Bible, however, that the preacher of this country must use most. He ought to master it. He ought to know its contents from Genesis to Revelation. He ought to be acquainted with the sources of information for each book, and the best helps for its study. He should know the times of each book. The books of the Bible are divided among the professors, so that each one has the ones most appropriate to his department, for most careful and systematic treatment.

SPECIAL LECTURES

Several valuable courses of special lectures by distinguished ministers have been given before the Seminary. In addition to these, occasional lectures on special topics of great importance to those preparing for the ministry, are delivered by prominent and successful ministers, representing different denominations. Atlanta, being the central city of the South, affords unusual opportunities to students to hear the representative ministers and lecturers of the Nation.

RELIGIOUS PRIVILEGES

Daily prayers are held in the chapel, conducted by the professors. All class exercises are opened with prayer or hymn. The "Devotional Hour" is a service of prayer and consecration that has been held every Tuesday since the organization of the institution. It has been attended with large results in deepening the religious experience and intensifying the spiritual life of the students.

On Sunday morning the professors preach in rotation at the University Church. All students are expected to attend this service, unless specially excused. The weekly prayer and class meetings, together with the revival and Sunday School work in this and the city churches, furnish the usual opportunities for religious work.

LITERARY SOCIETY

The Theological Literary Society affords a fine opportunity to the Students of the Seminary for literary culture in connection with their studies. The frequent discussions of questions in theology and debates on great moral issues, are especially helpful to minister. It also gives valuable drill in the knowledge and practice of parliamentary law.

CONTROL AND MANAGEMENT

The Seminary is under the general control of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church in connection with a special Board of Trustees. It is in the broadest sense denominational—not sectarian—and cordially welcomes ministers and candidates of all evangelical denominations to the full privileges of the institution. After personal visitation and examination into the character and work of the Seminary, the hearty endorsement of the bishops and other learned men of various denominations has been given to the institution.

ADMISSION

Gammon Theological Seminary is devoted exclusively to the work of preparing young men for the ministry. By faithful, earnest training it is sought to make them able preachers of the Word, diligent pastors and wise administrators of church polity.

Applicants for admission who are members of any branch of the Methodist Church must bring with them a local preacher's license or some official evidence that they are deacons or elders. If not yet licensed to preach, a certificate must be obtained from the Quarterly Conference duly signed by the Presiding Elder and Secretary. In the interim of the Quarterly Conference a certificate signed by the Pastor and Sunday-school Superintendent will be accepted. The following form of recommendation may be used if action is by the Quarterly Conference:

"We, the members of the Quarterly Conference of ..... hereby express our judgment that is called of God to the work of the ministry, and we commend him to the care and instruction of Gammon Theological Seminary."

Applicants from other churches will bring certificates from their pastors or other church officials.

Candidates must show proficiency in the English branches.

The following bills are payable strictly in advance:

	$19 00

THIRD TERM—

Incidental Fee	5 00
Table Board (two and a half months)	12 50
	$17 50

No student should reach here with less than $25.00. Bring your money with you. Do not leave it with your friends to be sent you later. You will be disappointed.

No loan fund is available from any source to any student the first month. And none to new students the first term. The Seminary claims the right to know what kind of students receive aid and what is the promise of usefulness in them for the church.

The expenses have always been kept at the lowest possible point consistent with the comfort and health of students. Tuition and room rent are free. An Incidental Fee of fifteen dollars per year is charged to students in Gammon Hall, which includes the use of the Library and reading-room and the expense of steam-heating, lighting and furniture of the rooms of the student and care of public rooms.

To those who occupy cottages, the incidental fee is five dollars per year, payable in advance.

The Seminary makes special provisions for the boarding of its students at the Clark University Dining Hall at a cost to them of five dollars per month. Under this arrangement the entire expense for a year can be brought within sixty-five dollars.

Aid from loans without interest is granted to deserving students who do their utmost in the way of self-help. No aid will be granted unless a reasonable amount is deposited by the student on entering the Seminary. All aid is promised subject to approval by the faculty after examination of candidates as to their Christian character and their possession of good natural talents and a fair education. No young man with grace, gifts, and energy need be deprived of the advantages opened to him in this Seminary.

The loan fund cannot be granted in any large amounts until a student has shown that he has the education, ability and adaptation to the work of the ministry that promises usefulness in the work of the church. To obviate any misunderstanding all correspondence with the officers of the Seminary should be preserved.

Through the generous interest of friends ten comfortable cottages have been erected on the grounds for the use of the married students. It should be distinctly understood that these cottages are for those ministers only who entered upon the marriage relation before the opportunity for a theological education was opened to them. Formal application for cottages, free of rent, should be made early. Necessary heavy furniture has been provided for these homes. Freight rates are very high and heavy furniture should not be brought.

Recognizing the almost unanimous public sentiment as to the use of tobacco by ministers and the fact that the Methodist Episcopal Church will not admit to her traveling ministry any who do not promise to wholly abstain from its use, each student is asked to sign the following pledge:

"In view of the costly benefits conferred by the Seminary upon its students and its requirements with reference to tobacco, and most of all because of the high moral obligation upon the Christian ministry, I promise wholly to abstain, henceforth, from the use of tobacco.

MISSIONARY TRAINING FOR AFRICA

STEWART MISSIONARY FOUNDATION

The Rev. W. F. Stewart, A. M., of the Rock River conference, established in connection with the Seminary a department under the above title. There is reason to believe that this will prove one of the most important movements in modern missions.

Mr. Stewart consecrated for the endowment of this foundation a group of farms of six hundred acres in Central Illinois, all under high cultivation, which he conveyed, in trust, the income only to be used to maintain this department. In writing to the faculty Mr. Stewart thus outlined his purpose:

'My hope is that it may become a center for the diffusion of missionary intelligence, the development of missionary enthusiasm, the increase of missionary offerings, and, through sanctified and trained missionaries, hasten obedience to the great commission to 'preach the gospel to every creature.' In addition to the direct work of the recitation room, I have contemplated other educating means that would reach our schools and missions and the whole membership of the church.'

The Stewart Foundation seeks to organize Missionary Bands of the Friends of Africa in all the schools of the F. A. and S. E. Society and in the leading colored churches for the diffusion of missionary intelligence and the cultivation of a missionary spirit.

PRIZE PRODUCTIONS IN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES

1. All students who are classified in the normal, college preparatory, college, or other advanced classes beyond the English grades (and only these), should prepare one prize production, either missionary essay, oration, or hymn, to be presented to the faculty of the local institution. No one shall receive a second time a prize for the same kind of production. The essay or oration should be upon some subject connected with Africa as a mission field, or missionary work in Africa; and should be limited to 1,200—1,500 words (actual count). The hymn should be upon some missionary subject, and should not be less than four or more than eight single stanzas of four lines each, or not less than three nor more than six stanzas of six to eight lines each.

2. When the productions are presented, the faculty of each institution should decide what productions are worthy of public competition, and these should be presented in a missionary anniversary, to which the general public is invited, to be held before the close of February, at which judges, selected by the faculty, shall decide which are the three best essays or orations, and which are the three best hymns, and the order of merit.

The manuscripts of these three successful essays or orations and three hymns, in the handwriting and with the name of the author, should be forwarded at once to the President of Gammon Theological Seminary.

3. The author of each of these three essays or orations shall receive a prize as follows: For the best, fifteen dollars' worth, and for the others, each ten dollars worth, of the publications of the Methodist Book Concern, catalogue prices, not marked special, or, at the student's option a Teacher's Bible, handsomely bound in morocco with protected edges. The authors of each of these three hymns shall receive a Methodist Hymnal with Tunes, handsomely bound in morocco.

The best essay or oration and the best hymn shall be presented in the General Missionary Anniversary in Atlanta in May; and the three best essays or orations and the three best hymns from all the universities and colleges, as decided in that anniversary, shall receive in place of the foregoing, more costly prizes.

IN ACADEMIES

The prizes in the academies are given under the same conditions as described in the foregoing for the colleges, except that the competition is limited to students who are classified in the highest English grade and above; only one essay or oration and one hymn are to be awarded prizes in each academy, and these prizes are to be the same as the less costly in the colleges, and the best essay or oration and the best hymn from all the academies shall be presented in the General Missionary Anniversary and be awarded a more costly prize.

IN THE CHURCHES

Prizes in the churches are to be given under the same conditions as those in the foregoing for academies, except only one essay or oration and one hymn are to be forwarded from each Missionary Band for Africa, and they are to receive prizes of the same value of those given in the academies; and the best essay or oration and the best hymn shall be presented in the General Missionary Anniversary, and be awarded more costly prizes.

The interest which the investigation, thought and public presentation of the productions awaken, has been used by the Holy Spirit to impress upon some of our most gifted young people the call of God to consecrate themselves to missionary work in Africa. Five have already gone from the Seminary as missionaries in Africa, four of them accompanied by their wives. It is also hoped that the interest awakened by the work of the Foundation will lead others also to consecrate their business and incomes to the support of missions in Africa.
