It has been my pleasure to work with the editorial staff of I.T.C. for three years. I am indeed grateful for having had the opportunity.

Producing a Yearbook requires much hard work and many responsibilities and offers no material reward. I challenge you to take up where we leave off.

It is impossible to express adequately our thanks to those who have worked untiringly to help make this book what it is. To the many friends who aided us financially, through their advertisements and patronage, we say "Thank You!"

Sincerely,

Jesse L. Douglas
Editor-in-Chief

BUILD ME MEN

Build me men to match my radios,
Conquerors of time and space,
Who shall bind mankind together
In one world-encircling race;
Men in tune with Cosmic purpose,
Men whose fertile minds reveal
New dynamic powers, devoted
To the cause of human weal;
Men to master corporations,
Men to banish lust and greed;
To make science, art, and business
Servants of the common need.

Build me men to tame the atom,
Packed with pulverizing power,
Turn to peace its dread destruction,
Crush forever demon war;
Men to tap the priceless treasures
Deep within the human breast,
Reach maturer moral stature,
Share in God's eternal quest;
Men to use the rich resources
Of our broad and wealth-filled earth
To build boldly in creating
A new order based on worth.

Build me men to match my rockets,
Minds and hearts whose cosmic thrust
Dare launch forth in untrod orbits,
Make a world of mutual trust,
Build me men to match my bridges,
Architects of arches good
That shall span the mighty chasm
To the age of brotherhood;
Men to match my great skyscrapers,
Tower beyond our present ken,
Forge a peaceful global order,
Build me men! Build me men!

INTERDENOMINATIONAL THEOLOGICAL CENTER

FOREWORD

We here at the Interdenominational Theological Center, prepare ourselves for the preaching and teaching ministry of our Lord Jesus Christ.

The Center is a new seminary, created through the cooperation of four schools of theology, representing four different denominations. The respective schools are: Gammon Theological Seminary, Methodist; the Morehouse School of Religion, Baptist; Phillips School of Theology, Christian Methodist Episcopal; and Turner Theological Seminary, African Methodist Episcopal.

The persons who make up the faculty of the Center have been chosen both for scholarly competence and teaching ability. They constitute an outstanding group among the seminaries of the nation.

Not only does the Center provide theological education for Americans, but for foreigners as well. This year we are happy to welcome to our campus, students from India and Africa. More students from other countries will be coming in the future to study.

It is our prayer that the Center will result in a more fruitful ministry for the hungry masses, under the guiding hand of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ.

As you turn the pages of this Annual, you will get glimpses of the life and constituency of the Center.

The Interdenominational Theological Center is under the direction of a twenty-two member Board of Trustees. Fifteen of these trustees come from the four participating schools. The remaining seven are members-at-large chosen without regard to denominational affiliation. The Trustees employ the Faculty, set the policies and manage the physical and financial resources of the Center.

It is with humility and gratitude that we, the students of the I.T.C., dedicate the 1962 edition of the Center to the Trustee Board; in recognition of the wonderful job they have done over the past three years.

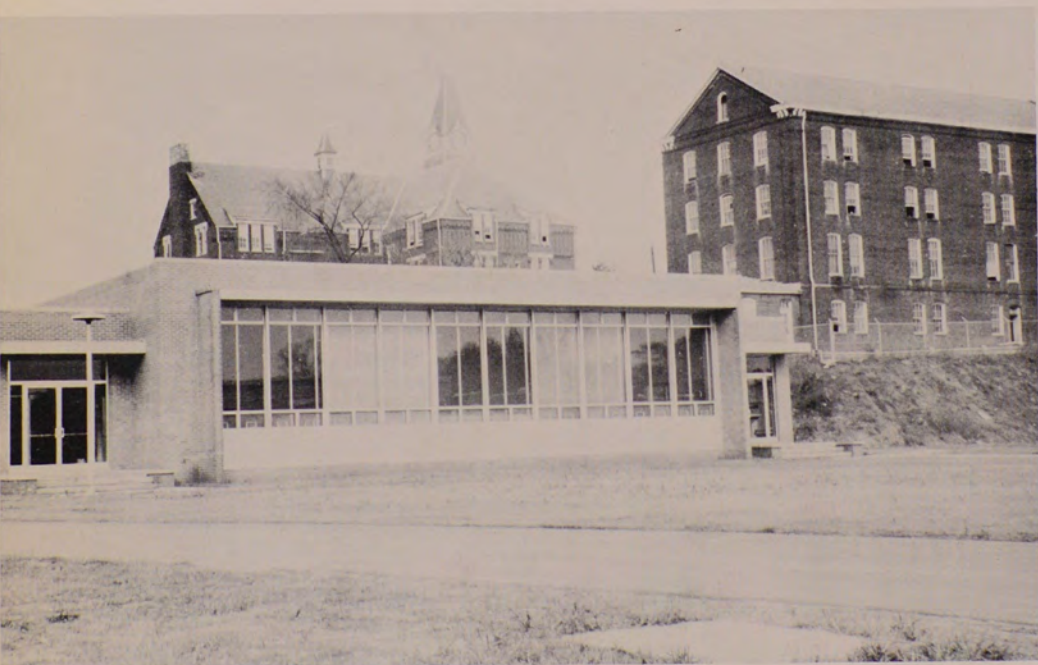

The persons who make up our faculty have been chosen both for scholarly competence and teaching ability.

CONVOCATION

This is a most captive audience as great theologians of America expound on the truths that give life meaning. A most reverent tone was endued in the minds of those who witnessed.

The history lay in two facts. . . the first convocation on the new campus and the first witnessing of four great theologians of this nature in our midst.

THE CHARGE

President Richardson stands tall and steady as he anchors the great responsibility of one of the most unique theological centers in the United States. This was one of the significant moments in the life of theological education.

In this important year of the Interdenominational Theological Center, President Richardson has proved himself worthy of the charges of leadership and responsibility conferred upon him.

HARRY V. RICHARDSON

President and Professor of Practical Studies
Western Reserve University, A.B.; Howard
University, S.T.B.; Drew University, Ph.D;
Wilberforce University, D.D.

As the members of this Senior Class approach their graduation we extend to them our heartfelt congratulations and very best wishes. Yet there is a touch of sadness. You are the first class to have received your full training at I.T.C. The three years since you came have passed so quickly. We can hardly believe that you shall shortly be leaving to take up fully your work of Christian service in the world.

As the first full graduates of I.T.C. and your respective schools, you have the responsibility of holding high the name and the hopes of the great school from which you are graduating. Here we have been lifted to new heights of Christian leadership and brotherly understanding. We have received new concepts of dedicated service to our fellow men of all kinds and all conditions.

In this spirit you are going forth to work for the glory of God, for the greatness of the Churches that sponsored us, and for the historic perpetuation of our great school. In this spirit the sadness of your parting will be lost in the greatness of your achievements. Future generations of I.T.C. students will be looking to you for inspiration.

Harry V. Richardson
President

As we went around the world, we found a growing feeling of ecumenicity among all peoples and faiths. I congratulate the first graduating class of I.T.C. upon sensing this feeling of unity, service and witness. I urge that you carry with you this broader vision as you go about your tasks.

SELMA T. RICHARDSON

Our first layd, Mrs. Harry V. Richardson, has worked very closely with her husband in helping to promote greater fellowship between the students, their families, the faculty and administration.

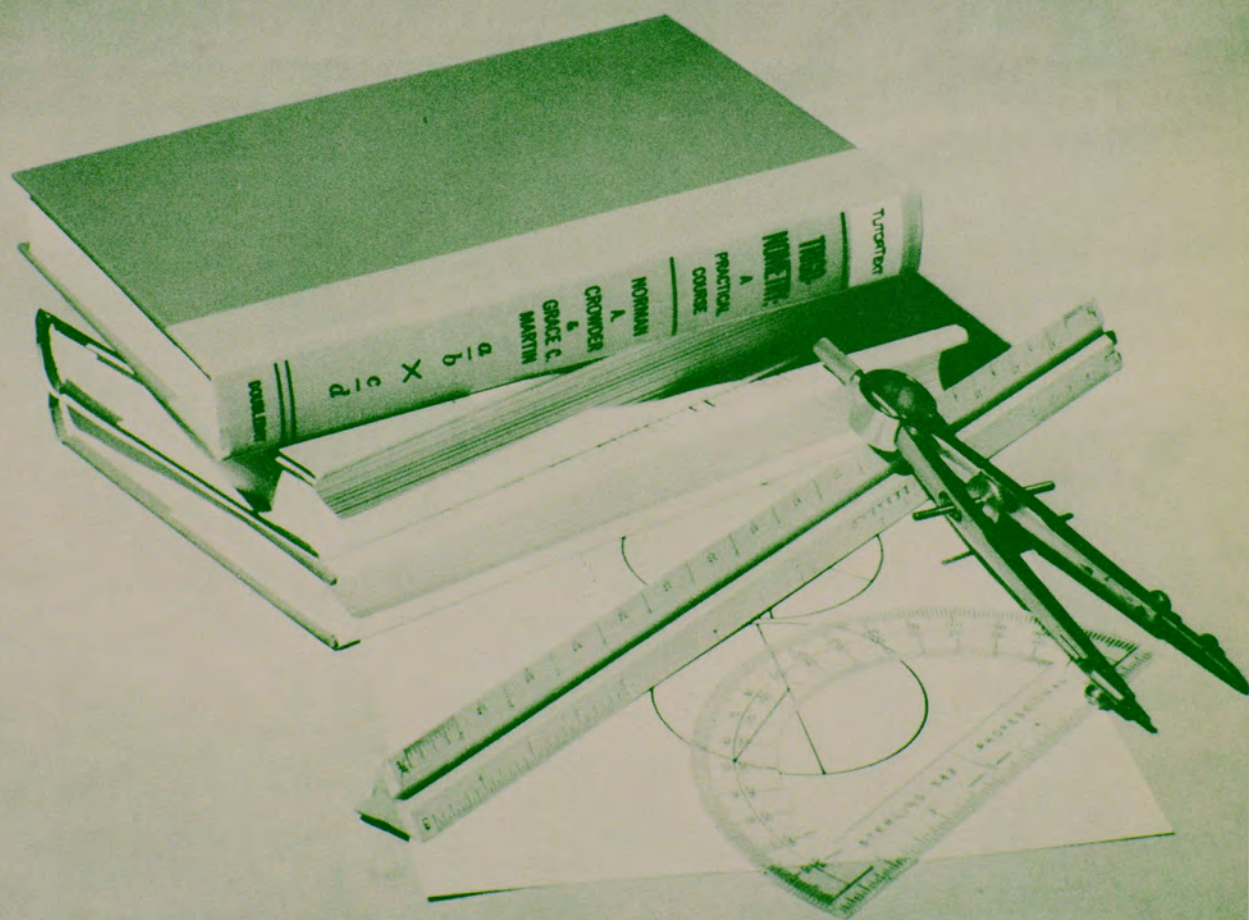

The wonderful service she is rendering, (and has rendered), to the wives of the students and administrators who join our family by helping them make the proper adjustments, is to be commended.

Many thanks to her for a job well done.

HISTORICAL STATEMENT

Morehouse College in Atlanta is an institution for the education of men for constructive leadership and service. It was founded in 1867 by the American Baptist Home Mission Society of New York and was established in Augusta, Georgia, as "The Augusta Institute." One of the purposes was the preparation of men for the ministry and the School of Religion of Morehouse College has carried out this responsibility through the years and continues to do so as a part of the new Interdenominational Theological Center.

It was in 1879 that "The Augusta Institute" was moved to Atlanta and became incorporated as "The Atlanta Baptist Seminary." It was housed in a three-story building which it owned on a spot near the present Terminal Station. In 1890 the school was removed to its present location, and in 1897 was renamed "The Atlanta Baptist College." In 1913 the name "Morehouse College" was adopted in honor of Dr. Henry L. Morehouse, Corresponding Secretary of the American Baptist Home Mission Society and a constant friend and benefactor of the Negro race.

Among its notable early leaders were The Rev. Joseph T. Roberts, LL.D. who was president from 1871 to 1884; the Rev. Samuel Graves, D.D., President from 1885 to 1890; President George Sale, 1890 to 1906; and President John Hope, 1906 to 1931.

In 1931 President Hope resigned and was succeeded by Dr. Samuel Howard Archer, who had served the College as Professor since 1903, and Dean Since 1920. On March 1, 1937 Dr. Charles D. Hubert, Director of the School of Religion, upon the recommendation of President Archer, was elected Acting President. President Archer, however, did not formally retire from the presidency until October 1, 1938, when he became President Emeritus. Dr. Hubert Served as Acting President until July 1, 1940, when Dr. Benjamin Elijah Mays assumed the office of President. The Rev. Melvin H. Watson, Th.D., has served as Director of the School of Religion in recent years.

From the year 1884 through 1923 certificates were granted to several hundred ministers. The first B. Th. degrees were offered in 1925 and discontinued in 1931; the B.D. program has been offered since 1926 to this date. The principal emphasis has been upon training men for the active pastorate.

HISTORICAL STATEMENT

The founders of Morris Brown College believed that to educate the people and leave the pulpit ignorant would be detrimental to the church and to the race; and, therefore, they proposed to have an educated ministry. As early as September 23, 1885, just before the doors of Morris Brown were opened for the reception of students, the Rev. T.G. Stewart, D.D., was elected Dean of Theology.

But it was not until 1894 that a Theological Department was formally opened with D.E.W. Lee as the Dean. Twelve young men matriculated the first day and in three months twenty-four had enrolled. Among those who served as deans and professors during the next few years were: The Rev. J.S. Flipper, D.D.; The Rev. W.G. Alexander; The Rev. M.M. Pomton, A.M.; The Rev. J.D. Bibb, A.M.; and the Rev. J.A. Brockett, D.D.

On June 19, 1900 the Executive Board, by unanimous vote, changed the name from the Theological Department of Morris Brown University to Turner Theological Seminary in honor of Bishop H.M. Turner who had been influential in the development of the school from the beginning. Others who have been deans since 1900 are: The Rev. P. W. Greatheart, D.D., in 1913; The Rev. George A. Singleton in 1928; The Rev. Samuel Hopkins Giles, in 1929; and The Rev. Charles Leander Hill in 1933.

The Rev. Frank Cunningham was elected Dean in 1945 and served until 1954 when the Rev. Edward J. Odom, Jr., was elected. In 1957 The Rev. George A. Sewell, Ph.D. was elected Dean, and served through 1961.

In the fall of 1957 Turner Theological Seminary moved into its own building, apart from the College, where it has maintained lecture rooms, conference rooms, offices, library and a student lounge.

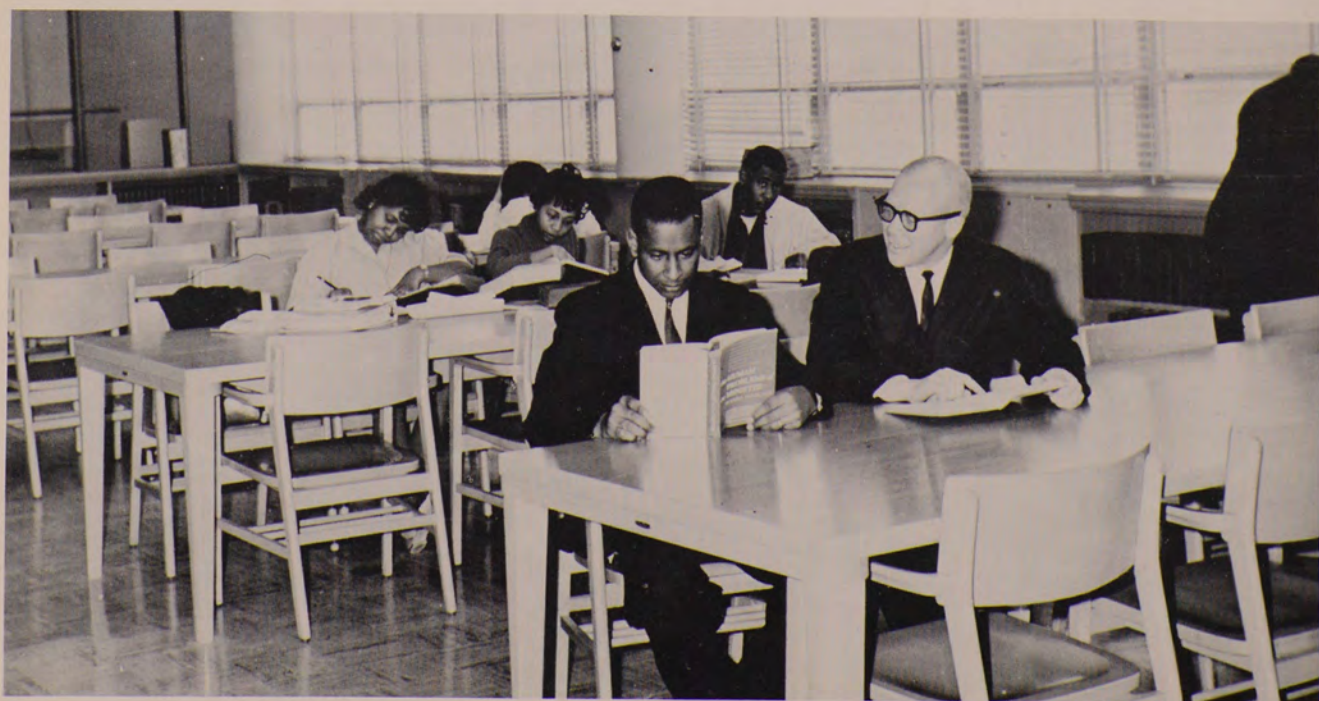

Through the years Turner Theological Seminary has been a major influence in providing a trained ministry for the African Methodist Episcopal Church and other denominations, and now that it is one of the co-operating seminaries of the Interdenominational Theological Center it continues in expanding its tradition of ministerial service.

The Alumni Association has launched a financial drive for the purpose of erecting the Turner Seminary Building on the I.T.C. campus.

"Study to show thyself approved unto God," but also to thyself. There is plenty of Good room and more good books in the library whereby students may fold back the dark shadow of ignorance. Here is to be found a wide range of informative documents in most areas of man's quest for knowledge.

With a growing forty thousand volume collection, the library has available possessions of the most profound scholarship in modern biblical studies. A well prepared and efficient staff is ready to serve you.

Prior to the Christmas Holidays a party was given in honor of the student body and faculty. Dr. Richardson and the "first lady" were unable to serve as host and hostess as they have done in previous years because of their attendance at the meeting of the World Council of Churches in New Delhi, India.

A bit of communication was read as received from the Richardson's which contained a message of peace and good will to all for a joyous holiday season.

Music for the occasion was rendered by the Clark College Choir, under the direction of Dr. J. DeKoven Killingsworth, instructor in Sacred Music at I.T.C.

PRESIDENT

THE STUDENT CHRISTIAN LEAGUE

ADVISER

We should like to express our sincere appreciation and thanks to the Yearbook Staff for its efforts to produce this annual. It has been a cooperative affair, with the support of many friends of the Interdenominational Theological Center. May this production help our friendships to grow more and more.

The Religious Education Program provides training for educational assistants in the local church; certified directors of Christian education in local churches, districts, or conferences and religious social workers in community centers.

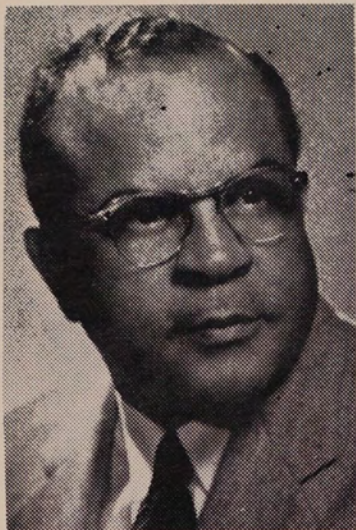

PING-PONG

A change of activity helps to make a well rounded minister. Recreation helps the minister to stay physically fit. The question still remains, who is the champ?

A TRIBUTE TO SAVERS.....

THOSE INDIVIDUALS WHO SAVE MONEY ARE BETTER WORKMEN. THEY DO THEIR WORK BETTER, THEY BEHAVE BETTER. I WOULD SOONER HAVE IN TRADE A HUNDRED MEN WHO SAVE MONEY THAN TWO HUNDRED WHO WOULD SPEND EVERY SHILLING THEY GET.

IN PROPORTION AS INDIVIDUALS SAVE MONEY THEIR MORALS ARE MUCH BETTER, THEY HUSBAND THEIR SAVINGS AND THEY BEHAVE BETTER FOR KNOWING THAT THEY HAVE A STAKE IN SOCIETY.
