Tribute

In 1965, a native of Columbus, Georgia, after completing his high school education at Carver High School, made the decision to continue his education at Morris Brown College. This began, to date, a 25-year relationship between Charles Edward Barker and his revered alma mater. Another Morris Brown alumnus, Dr. Samuel P. Charleston, who was Charles principal and currently serves on Board of Trustees of Morris Brown College, was the person responsible for introducing Charles to Morris Brown.

If ever an alumnus enjoyed his college career, Charles Barker did without a doubt. This is evidenced in his untiring involvement in a myriad of activities during his matriculation.

He served as business manager of his freshman and sophomore classes, and vice-president of his junior class. Even after graduation, Charles served as chairman of Morris Brown's Prom Committee; associate editor and layout designer of the "Brownite" (Morris Brown's yearbook); chairman of the Homecoming Committee; and director of the Coronation for Morris Brown College.

After completing the requirements for the Bachelor of Arts degree in Business Administration and Mathematics, Charles chose to remain in Atlanta and pursue a career in the business world. He has meritoriously climbed the ladder of success for the past years with American General Finance Company, Inc., formerly Manufacturers Hanover Consumer Services. His work performance has earned him the "Employee of the Year Award" for 1988 and 1989. Charles served as Senior Assistant Manager at American General.

Ties between Charles and Morris Brown were never broken after his graduation. The love he had for his alma mater is exhibited through his willingness to gratuitously share his exceptional talents for the betterment of the institution. For several years, he continued to serve as director of the Coronation for Miss Morris Brown College, and under this leadership, this annual event was always a flawless production.

Through the efforts of Barker, Morris Brown College was introduced to the Southern Collegiate Press Institute, who sponsors an annual contest for college publications. For several years, the "Brownite" has been entered in competition. Because of its extraordinary quality, it has received awards for these years — 1980, 81, 84, 85, 88-97, 99-2001.

The excellent quality of Charles' work in the annual compilation of the "Brownite" has not gone unnoticed. Because of his outstanding work, he has designed and produced yearbooks, souvenir booklets and programs for the following churches, schools, and organizations: Atlanta Junior College (Atlanta Metropolitan College), Beulah Baptist Church, Cathedral of Faith Church of God in Christ, Alonzo A. Crim Comprehensive Evening High School, consultant to Ebenezer Baptist Church Centennial Publication, Flipper Temple A.M.E. Church Bicentennial, Greater Rising Star Baptist Church, Harper High School, Haugabrooks Academy, Perkerson Elementary School, 50th Anniversary of the Georgia State Patrol, and the Morris Brown College National Alumni Banquet, Mays High School, 1992, Clark Atlanta University, 1994, 1995, and 1996, Big Bethel AME Church 150th Anniversary.

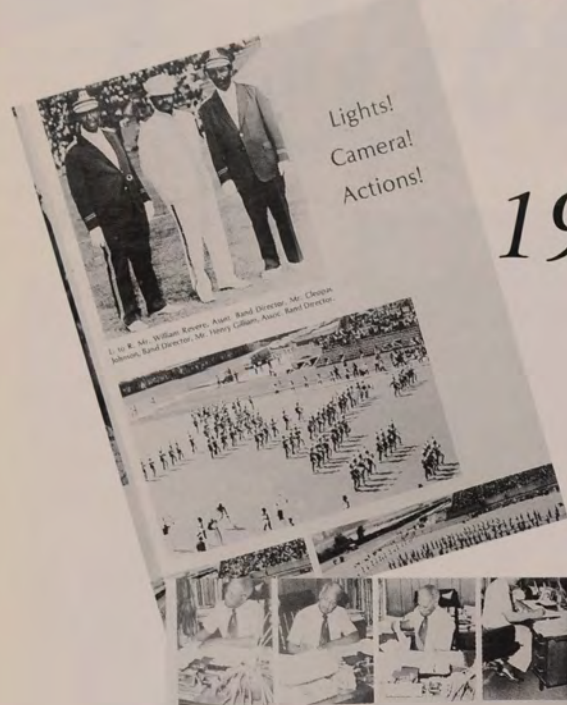

Charles was an active member of Morris Brown Athletic Foundation, the South Metro Atlanta Alumni Chapter of Morris Brown College and the West End Church of Christ.

William H. Cosby
Doctor of Humane Letters

Bill Cosby was born in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Calling himself a "late bloomer," he did not realize the value of a formal education until after the first four days of boot camp in the United States Navy. Cosby said that four years later, immediately after he got out of the Navy, he "hit the ground running" from Norfolk, Virginia and immediately returned to his native home, Philadelphia, and enrolled at Temple University where he completed his undergraduate degree.

Cosby is well known for his commitment to education. He emphatically believes that the best assurance for a satisfying and rewarding life begins with knowledge. Several years after completing his bachelor's degree and long after he had achieved much of his success, Cosby returned to college to obtain his master's degree and his Ed.D.

In fact, Bill Cosby has never stopped realizing the importance of challenging himself. He believes that accepting the challenges of one's own ideas, clarifying the unanswered questions and pursuing the excitement of discovery is what life is all about.

Bill Cosby share his passion for education with his wife, Dr. Camille Cosby. Together they have strived to promote the importance of a good education. They have donated funds to a wide range of universities and they have delivered commencement addresses to further emphasize the importance of learning.

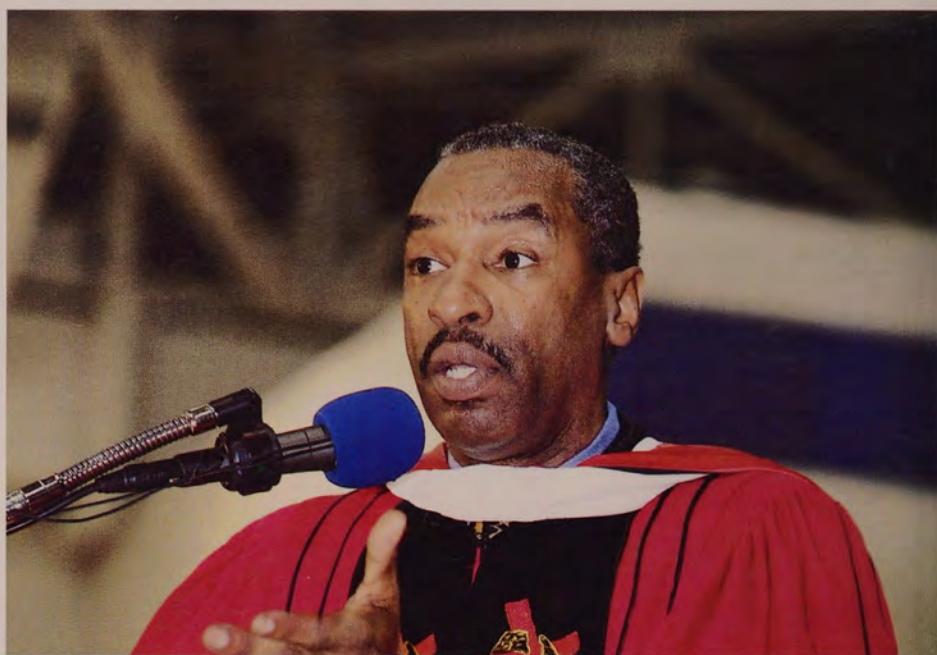

Founders Day 2001

There are many ways to celebrate a birthday. This year Morris Brown College marked its 120th anniversary with prayer, praise and promises.

The celebration, which included the opening of a community cyber center and the dedication of the new archives and museum of African-American history, culminated in an institution-wide convocation held at the John H. Lewis gymnasium Thursday, March 22.

Institutional and community greetings initiated a rousing succession of reverence to dear ole' Morris Brown and its founders headed by the Brownite family, college president Dr. Dolores E. Cross and Atlanta mayor Bill Campbell.

However, it was the celebration's dynamic keynote speaker, Rev. Dr. Floyd H. Flake that literally bought the gathering to its feet.

"Never think that what you receive at Morris Brown is inferior," he said in his pastor-like speech. "It's about your definition of yourself and where you're going with your life that counts."

Flake, who like Morris Brown College is very grounded in history, is the senior pastor of the 12,000-member Allen African Methodist Episcopal Church in Queens, N.Y. He also serves as president of the Edison charter schools and is a former U.S. representative.

He lent his voice and years of experience in the American mainstream to the robed graduates and general student body present, and voiced the claim of a lost social paradigm. According to Flake, the notion a duality between being black and being second-class has been sidelined, and largely can no longer be sustained in the present social system.

"You're only second-class if you believe it," Flake said. "And believing such is an injustice to yourself and your struggles."

Flake prayed for the graduates and the institution's strength, and asked those gathered to call on the name of the Lord in all situations. He praised the vision of Morris Brown alongside that of other

Sophomore Class Queen

Courtney Lyles
Miss Sophomore

"Walking in the footsteps of Christ, I can and will achieve the impossible!"

Courtney Lyles is a gift born into the heart and soul of two God-fearing parents, the Reverend Willie and Rachel Lyles. Born and raised in Columbus, Georgia, Ms. Lyles is the sister to two brothers, Willie and Chris Lyles.

Ms. Lyles was very active in high school and has carried over her positivity and activism to her chosen institution of higher learning, Morris Brown College. Here at Morris Brown Ms. Lyles assumes leadership roles as a member of the Morris Brown College Cheer and Stunt Team, the Student Senate, the Royal Queen's Alliance, as well as the Honors Program. She currently has a 3.67 GPA and is a Frederick and Artisha Jordan Scholar.

Ms. Courtney Lyles, Miss Sophomore 2001-2002, would like to dedicate her crown to her family in thanks for their support, prayers, and unwavering love.

Sharonda Latrael Hunter
Miss Junior, Morris Brown College

A native of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, Sharonda Latrael Hunter is the daughter of the proud parents, Jeffrey Hunter and Sharon Powell and the sister of Jarhon, 15, and Tautianna, 12.

Ms. Hunter is a Brownite with a great spirit for Morris Brown College. She is conducive to such enormous school spirit because she believes that God has truly blessed her to attend this extraordinary institution of higher learning. Ms. Hunter passes the blessing on by serving her fellow Brownites as Ms. Junior for the 2001-2002 school year. In addition to her status as the present queen of her junior class, Ms. Hunter has served this esteemed institution in various other capacities. She has assumed leadership roles as the Public Relations Specialist in the 2000-2001 Student Government Association, as a member of the Albert Edmonds Leadership Program, as an anchor for MBC-TV, and as a Morris Brown College Student Guide. Ms. Hunter is an active member of Christians for Change Baptist Church in Riverdale, Georgia and a Presidential Scholar here at Morris Brown College.

After receiving a Public Relations degree at Morris Brown College, Ms. Hunter will further matriculate at graduate school and pursue a degree in Communication Law in preparation for her ultimate goal of starting her own Public Relations firm. Ms. Hunter contends that success is vain unless it is used for the good of the community so it is her aim to give back all she can to dear ol' Morris Brown College.

Ms. Sharonda Latrael Hunter, Ms. Junior 2001-2002, lives by the motto: "Trust in the Lord with all thine heart and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge Him and He shall direct thy paths." —Proverbs 3:5-6

The Morris Brown College, Adult Education Department offers a unique alternative to the traditional method of pursuing a college degree. The program is designed to enhance employed adult learners' leadership and technical skills for successful competition in a global workforce. The uniqueness of this program is the cohort approach to learning, which promotes group cohesiveness, goal-orientation, open communication, and peer support. The Program has been in existence since 1996. The initial cohort started with six brave students during the 1996 Summer Olympic Games and reached a record enrollment number of 131 in the fall of 1997. To date the Adult Education Program has 96 graduates to become Alumni.

The Department is currently working to expanding its curriculum offerings to include Computer Science and Information Technology, Legal Studies and more.

Greeks & Organizations

Morris Brown College Honor Societies

Golden Key National Honor Society

Golden Key National Honor Society is a nonprofit academic honors organization founded for the purpose of recognizing and encouraging scholastic achievements among students from all academic fields. The Society was founded at Georgia State University on November 29, 1997. Morris Brown College was the first Historically Black College and University (HBCU) to join Golden Key and the second college to become a member of the Society. Since that time, Golden Key has established itself as a positive force in higher education. The Society has 214 active chapters from across the country and Australia.

In addition, over 500,000 lifetime members and 5,000 honorary members, have been induced. Golden Key is a dynamic organization committed to meeting the needs of scholastic achievers.

Beta Beta Beta Biology Honor Society

Beta Beta Beta formally defines itself as "an honor and professional society for students of the biological sciences." Its time of birth (1922) accounts for both its Greek letter name and its original emphasis on a role as an "honorary." However, it has never been a secret society and, from its beginning, many of its activities have been those of professional society. Since it is a society of and for students, particularly for undergraduate majors in a biological science, it is not inaccurate to describe it as a professional society for apprentice biologists. The constitutional restrictions, few though they be, and the activities of chapters, varied as they are, given the structural and functional basis for the claim to professional status.

To foster and maintain worthy ideals and ambitions, to bring together in closer fellowship and association men and kindred spirit and compatible minds, similar background and common interest. To promote closer contacts and exchange of ideas between those possessing congenial qualities of cultural growth. To establish assurance that the young and old; intellects that are matured and maturing; men of today, and those who will be men of tomorrow, shall progress and walk together in unity, harmony, dignity, and mutual respect; without just fault in the yes of a critical world. To the end that these things may come to pass, the following pledge is exacted from each and all.

Phi Sigma Iota was founded in 1922 at Allegheny College by Dr. Henry W. Church, member of his department of languages, and advanced students, who used to meet to discuss linguistic and literary matters. It became a national society when Beta Chapter was established at Pennsylvania State University in April 1925, followed less than a year after by Gamma Chapter at the college of Wooster. With these three Chapters as the nucleus of the national organization, the first Convention was held in May, 1926, at Allegheny College. Since that time expansion has been steady.

Psi Chi is the National Honor Society in Psychology founded in 1929 for the purposes of encouraging, stimulating, and maintaining excellence in scholarship, and advancing the science of psychology. Membership is open to graduate and undergraduate men and women who are making the study of psychology one of their major interests and who meet the minimum qualifications. Psi Chi is a member of the Association of College Honor Societies and is an affiliate of the American Psychological Association (APA) and the American Psychological Society (APS). Psi Chi's sister honor society is Psi Beta, the national honor society in psychology for community and junior colleges.

Psi Chi functions as a federation of chapters located at more than 857 senior colleges and universities in the USA.

SIGMA GAMMA RHO SORORITY

Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority, Inc. was organized by seven young women on the campus of Butler University, Indianapolis, Indiana on No. 12, 1922. Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority is a nonprofit collegiate organization with foci on community service. Its purpose is expressed in its slogan, "Greater Service, Greater Progress."

Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority, Inc. gives leadership, service and resources toward removing barriers and inequalities so that all people, especially Black Community, may develop their potential and exercise full citizenship. Activities are encouraged that will further in every way possible the dignity and worth of the individual members. To this end the membership assumes the responsibility to: Encourage and promote high scholastic attainment, enhance in all members the sense of personal moral responsibility which each should have toward a task and towards leadership — fellowship responsibilities, maintain interest and attitudes in harmony with modern thoughts and educational outlook, and work with other agencies and organizations to provide additional community services.

We are committed to working to improve the quality of our lives and the society we serve.

Beta Lambda Chapter

Λ

Alpha LAMBDA CHI

Alpha Lambda Chi was founded on the campus of Morris Brown College on September 16, 1992 by 11 men determined to make a difference in the communities from which they came. Seeing the need for a great bond among African American males in particular, these eleven individuals decided to establish an organization that would unite in a fraternal bond, men for a purpose. This purpose was defined as the betterment of themselves and the surrounding communities through community service activities and to found, what would be the first, Community Service Fraternity in the Atlanta University Center. Inadvertently, Alpha Lambda Chi would also go on to become the first official Alpha Chapter greek letter organization on the campus of Morris Brown College. It was during this year that these 11 men went on to further define what kind of men/workers/leaders they wanted to attract.

All of the planning of the previous year went into effect during the fall semester of 1993. Seven new members were brought into the organization already having deep convictions about their communities. It was known by these and all members, that neither the mission bestowed upon them nor the convictions indoctrinated in them by the founders of this fraternity did not begin nor will they end with Alpha Lambda Chi. They are the responsibilities of all males — especially black males who ever wish to call themselves Men. On the flipside of this coin, it is also the responsibility of the women of our communities to unite and give back to them. Therefore, a few of the founders of Alpha Lambda Chi in conjunction with the new members established a sister organization known as Sapphires. Understand, it doesn't take greek letters to do what all Africans in America should do, but a united front is an unconquerable one. Understand also, What has been accomplished by other greek letter organizations cannot be ignored, therefore we give honor to their unity through our existence.

As a non profit organization, Alpha Lambda Chi has done a great deal of work with the children in the Vine City area through the B.O.Y.S. program in accordance with the Catalyst program. Alpha Lambda Chi has also been involved with feeding the homeless, providing carnivals and entertainment for homeless children, providing tutorial services for local high schools, and elementary schools. We are also in the process of providing recycling bins on the yard of Morris Brown College's campus. Currently, Alpha Lambda Chi is in the process of establishing ties with other larger organizations in order to expand its reach. We have established ties with the Coca Cola Foundation, Kroger's, and have future plans to work with 100 Black Men of Atlanta, as well as Sisterlove, Volunteer Atlanta and many other volunteer help groups.

"I'm going home like a shooting star"

His creativity, visualization and dedication pushed the Brownite yearbook into the spotlight and his active membership in alumni organization was proof of his undying support and love for his alma mater. We'll all miss you Barker.

Spuregeon Dennis Jr. MBC Class of '90

"There is a human bond that connects us all. It may be like a dedicate thread, but in special times it becomes like a line of steel that helps to bind us, one to another. This straud makes our sorrow more bearable, and in the long run that is what really matters. Barker will be missed by family and us, his friends, but the thread of our human bonds will always keep some part of him with us."

Robert and Bessie Barnett — Morris Brown College Athletic Foundation

The Morris Brown College experience is about commitment and dedication to a common cause. It is that same spirit that encourages and motivates students and alumni to give back to the school. And it is that spirit that drew me to Mr. Charles Barker.

As an editor for the Brownite, I often found myself shoulder-to-shoulder with Mr. Barker, working on copy, proofing layouts, etc. We worked long and hard for what would ultimately prove to be an award-winning book year after year. What sticks out most about those memories, however, is Mr. Barker's commitment to excellence. If it did not represent Morris Brown College, and the Brownite staff, to the highest of standards, it simply would not be released from that office.

It is this commitment to excellence that encouraged me to put my best foot forward at all times. It was the time and energy that persons like Mr. Barker put into me that has encouraged me to work toward the completion of my Ph.D. I cherish the memories of Mr. Barker even more now, as I serve the College as the Director of Alumni Affairs.

If I could bottle the fervor with which Mr. Barker accepted his role in promoting and uplifting the College, I would. Mr. Barker represents, to me, what each alumnus of this institution should strive to be. He was a man of integrity, honor, compassion, creativity, and grace. He was capable of finding humor during dark hours, and offering comfort during difficult times. He was fair. He was spiritual. He was steadfast in his commitment. And he will also be a model alumnus to me.

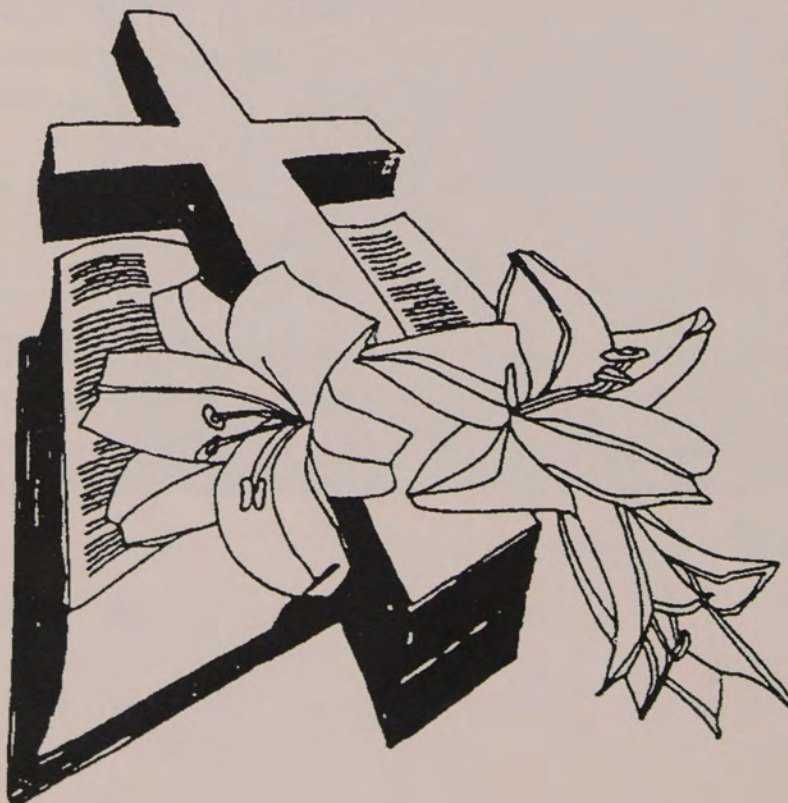

He is sorely missed.

Farewell Remarks — Dr. Dolores Cross, The first female president of Morris Brown College

Dear Colleagues,

As I enter the fortieth month of my presidency I am very proud of what the Morris Brown College family has achieved in staying the course. We have worked hard to respond to 65SACs recommendations, implemented a wireless technology infrastructure and laptop initiative, and attracted over 8 million dollars in grants. We are at this time implementing a debt management plan and have developed a Blueprint for Action to respond to accreditation and department of education concerns. In a conversation with Ann Chara this morning she indicated support for our plan and suggested a SACs consultant to see us through. The visiting team will be coming to campus October 23, 24, and 25 to review our fiscal operation and final audit.

In other conversations this week with the Department of Education, they have agreed to as early as next week to discuss an alternative to reimbursement. We are sending information today to respond to concerns. As you also know, we are pleased that Ms. Margaret Black has joined the team as the new Director of Financial Aid. Unfortunately, she won't be fully on board until early March, but does come to campus every week. She is working already in assisting the development of a corrective plan for financial aid. Parvesh Singh leaves his post at the end of this month and is working now on responding to DOE audit from previous years.

The team in fiscal affairs is focused and moving forward. Key to our success is the time they must take in Banner training. In essence SACS will test the system, review our most recent audit and review our response to the corrective plan for financial aid. We have satisfied the one academic related recommendation for Accounting Professor with a Ph.D. We have also made major strides in improving our net assets through grants.

Key is the ability of Morris Brown College to hold on, to press on, and to appreciate the reality that your personal and professional struggles have not been in vain. You can do this. In my heart of hearts I feel the regulatory agencies want us to succeed. I implore you not to be turned around. We have come too far. You have my respect and remain in my prayers.

Finally, I have no illusions that I have been a perfect president, but I am proud of doing a personal best on a difficult course. And I have not done it alone. In the spirit of the African 'we' tradition ... each of us is moving ahead ... using individual means to like ends. The force stay with us and God bless.

*Dolores Cross
February 6, 200.*

Cross leaving MBC presidency

Dr. Dolores Cross, the first female president of Morris Brown College, has reportedly resigned her position effective June 30, 2002.

College officials would not confirm the resignation to the AUC Digest, but sources to the newspaper said Dr. Cross sent an email to faculty and staff last Friday outlining her plans to leave the institution. She has been president for four years.

No specific reasons were given for Dr. Cross' leaving. MBC staffers referred press inquirers to Board Chairman Bishop Frank Cummings and Vice Chair Robert James of Savannah, Georgia. At our press deadline, both calls had not been returned.

Dr. Cross came to MBC from the City University of New York Graduate School and University Center, where she was a GE Fund Distinguished Professor in Leadership and Diversity. In her teachings and writings, Dr. Cross focused on creating access and generating opportunities for minorities and women in higher education and the corporate sector.

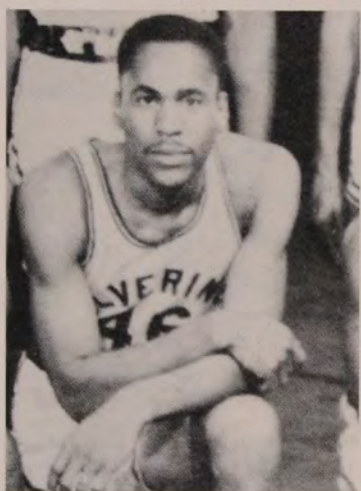

Dr. Cross' departure this year will be the fourth among AUC presidents leaving their posts. Dr. Thomas W. Cole, Jr. of CAU, Dr. Audrey Forbes Mantley of Spelman and Dr. Louis Sullivan of the Morehouse School of Medicine are all scheduled to retire June 30, 2002.

Dr. Robert Franklin, president of ITC, is currently on sabbatical.

Morris Brown College Family Legacy

The Harris/Mason/Conley Family at Morris Brown College

During the fall of 1952, Dean Willie Frank Payne traveled to Stanton High School in Jacksonville, Florida and recruited four young ladies to attend Morris Brown College. Three of those ladies were high stepping majorettes for the Stanton High School Marching Blue Devils band. One of those ladies was Deloris Harris. In the fall of 1952, she boarded a train from the Old Union Station in Jacksonville and journeyed to Atlanta to attend school on a band scholarship and participate as a Majorette for the Morris Brown College Band. While at Morris Brown, she was active in the Pre Teachers Organization. Two years later, Herman Mason arrived on the campus (after meeting Deloris Harris at a dance during the Christmas break in Jacksonville) and enrolled at Morris Brown. He was able to try out for the Wolverines Basketball Team, where he made the team and played for two years on the old hardwood floor of the Joe Louis Gymnasium. Deloris Harris graduated with a degree in Education in 1956, and Herman "Pop" Mason completed his studies in Physical Education in 1958. Mrs. Mason, now a retired school teacher is a member of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority. Herman Mason, Sr. died in September of 2000. Several other family members attended Morris Brown including cousin Robert Mays from Jacksonville, Florida. Carolyn Mays graduated in 1971. In 1972, cousin Patricia Conley was elected Miss Morris Brown College. In 1981, Skip Mason became the second generation of the family to attend Morris Brown. During his years at Morris Brown College, he served as President of the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, President of the Senior Class and was a member of the Marching Wolverine Band. Today, Alumnus Rev. Skip Mason is the Associate Vice President of Student Affairs/Dean of Students and the College Historian.

Family Legacy

Out of the Island of Bermuda came one of Morris Brown's most beautiful jewels. Juliette Burgess graduated in the year 1988 Magnum Cumulate with a GPA of 4.0. She also reigned as Miss Morris Brown College from 1987 to 1988. In the year 1998 ten years later, her nephew Kyjuan Brown made the right choice by attending this historically black institution of higher learning. Kyjuan Brown is a W.E.B. DuBoise Academic Scholar, senior biology pre-med major and the Chief of Staff on the Morris Brown College Student Government Association. To add to this family legacy another two family members have made the best choice in attending Morris Brown College. Roneeka Burgess and Jecoon Tucker both freshman Business Administration majors have been inducted into the Morris Brown family. As you may see the small majestic, islands of Bermuda breed not only beauty and poise but intellectual and politically active individuals.

The Pledge Friends Make

Remember who we met?

We were at school and I had just got back from being absent for a couple of days because I was sick. I asked what was going on in one of our classes, and you told me about all the work I missed, and who was giving a test. From then on you always had a way of looking out for me. I appreciated that, so in turn I schooled you on a few things and we became cool. You're my Ace, my Peoples, my Fam, and my Friend.

A Dap!

When I see that how I show you much luv.

A Hug!

When I haven't seen you for while, it's that embrace that'll let you know that we'll always be a team.

Yeah, you deserve more than that. that's why we say the pledge.

Left hand palm up in the air, Right hand over the heart.

Loud and a proud we say,

I pledge to be loyal because without loyalty I can't be trusted.

I pledge to be honest, true, and dependable, that person that you can call on when you need someone to be there.

I pledge to be sincere, genuine, and consistent.

I pledge to honor the tie that bonds.

The National Football League doesn't give many deserving athletes a chance to play in the game, but former Morris Brown College linebacker Donte Curry is getting his chance.

After starting out his career with the Green Bay Packers he found a new home with the Washington Redskins. Curry was signed from the Green Bay practice squad on Oct. 3, 2001 and has made a significant impact on special teams. Curry is currently third on the Redskins depth chart at outside linebacker, and will be getting his opportunity during the off season to compete for a starting position.

With patience and hard work, Curry will eventually make significant impact on defense and be one of the premier linebackers in the game.

Mini Mag

After the terrible tragedy of September 11, 2001 the country seemed to come together. Morris Brown College was no different. Everyone seemed to have a different outlook on life and most petty arguments were put on the back burner. We saw people on television running for their lives and programs with others who had lost family members and friends. At that time I was thankful that I decided to attend a college that was founded by a church and based on religion.

I realized how much I took for granted. Someone I know or myself could have been a victim of that terrible morning. I was sacred for my life and for my countries well being and it was great to have a close knit family environment to turn to. For as long as I live September 11th will always be remembered as my wake up in my growing up. I am also proud to say that Morris Brown will also be a part of my life that I will never forget. Thank you Morris Brown for being there.

God Bless You,
Lawana Marshall

Poetry corner by Angela McDowell

In the Morning

In the Morning
When clouds veil the moon

Save Yourself

Oftentimes there is no
Salvation in things I write

Dispossession

some men promise things in the heat of the moment
ecstasy, euphoria,
reparations, atonement

And stars mourn in darkness
Deaths of comets, too soon

Writers welcome their fate
At the start of a new day
Reborn once again
To revel in wordplay

The light, moist air moves easily through tunnels to their lungs
Ain't it grand how I wrote this Without mentioning the sun

Sometimes there are no endings.
If you ever get lost in a poem

Fasten your eyes, and pretend
You can fly.
It always works

Remembering with you the wonderful ways
your loved one blessed the lives
of so many people.*

Morris Brown College Administration 2001-2002

President, Dr. Dolores E. Cross

Greetings from Dr. Cross:

As we celebrate another year of the Brownite, we must pause to express how grateful we are for the contributions of a man who made this publication possible for so many of its 61 years. Mr. Charles Barker, Class of 1969, untiringly loaned his creative genius to the Brownite for 36 years up to the time of his passing on August 27, 2001. It is most appropriate that this yearbook is dedicated to him and his legacy.

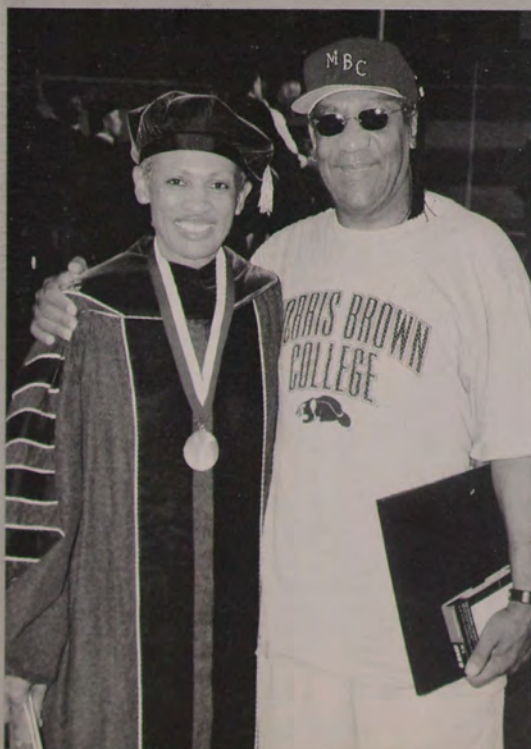

Over the years, there indeed has been much to celebrate — reaffirmation of accreditation, commencements, successful alumni, publication awards and so much more. Through pictures, text and first-hand accounts, we have seen the years unfold in the Brownite. I look forward to each publication, and I know that this year's many events and accomplishments will be immortalized in the pages herein.

In closing, warmest regards and best wishes to our graduating seniors to whom this year's Brownite will hold dear and infinite memories.

Sincerely,

CHARLES EDWARD BARKER

C—Caring, Creative, Charismatic

E—Extraordinary, Energetic, Extrovert

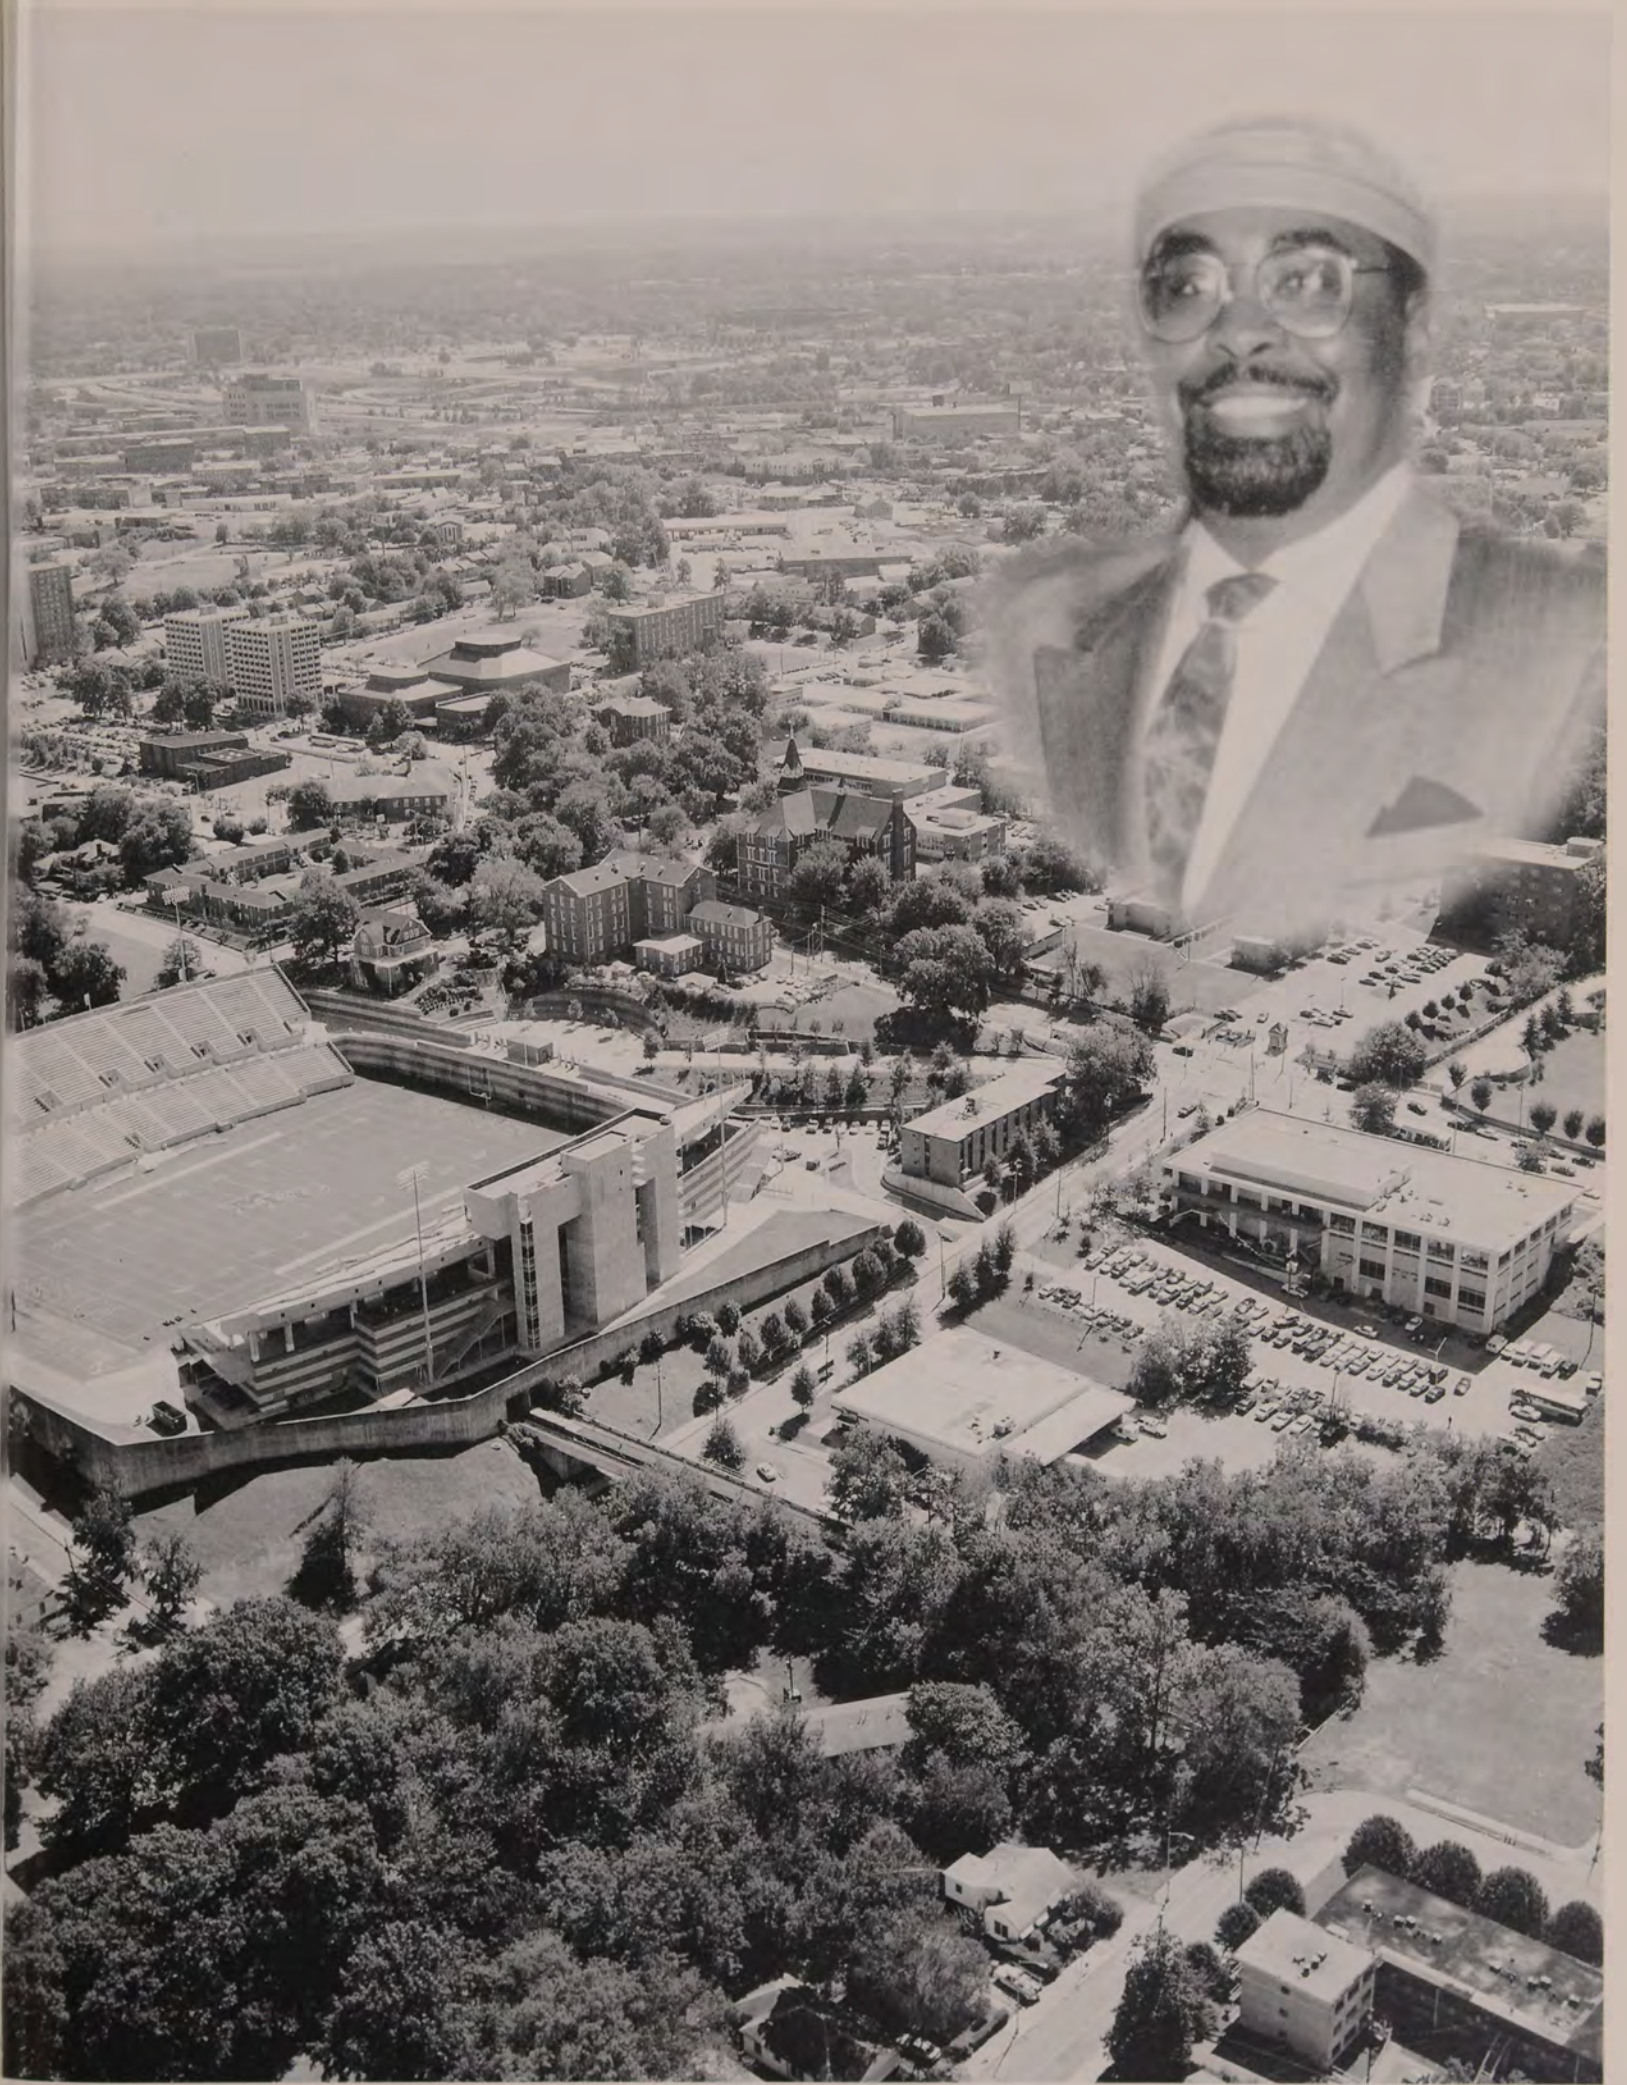

B—Brilliant, Busy, Brotherly, Best

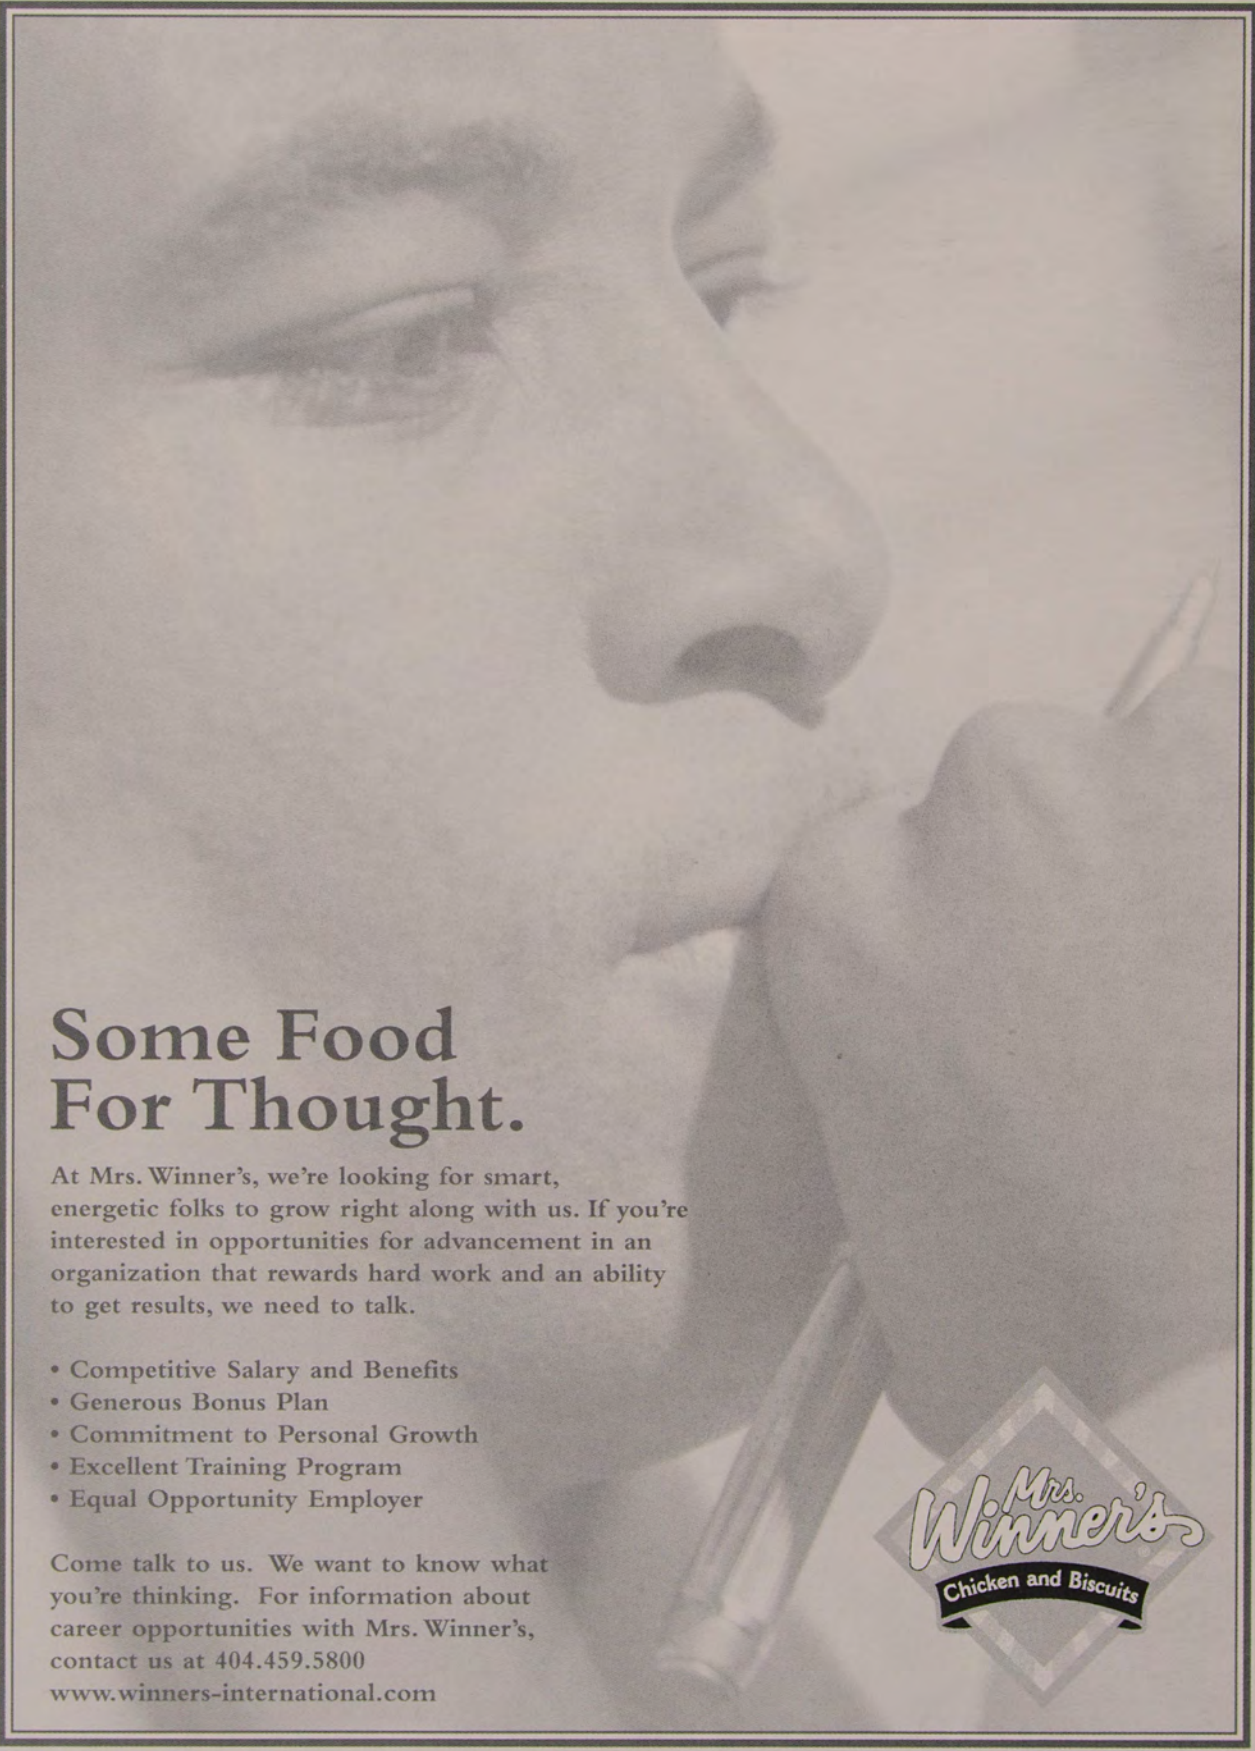

"Barker," which was my name for him, was a phenomenal creative genius, one-of-a-kind, a generous benefactor, a dedicated Morris Brown College alum, a GENUINE FRIEND!!

*Many the friends who will walk by your side when you travel a smooth, even road.
But few who remain when it's rocky and steep and you struggle to carry your load.
Many the friends who will praise your success and applaud when you're up on the top
But few who are there, giving comfort and care when the cheers and the accolades stop.
How rare are the friends who, time and again, will show their commitment and worth.
But a warm-hearted friend who is true to the end is a joy and a treasure on earth.*

*Barker, my brother, you were that kind of friend to me.
Thanks for the love, laughter and support!
You left us much too soon.
I miss you, and I pray that we will see each other again in eternity.*

Reta J. Lacy Bigham

In case you hadn't noticed,

diversity and opportunity.

“I often tell people that we are not in the restaurant business, but we are in the opportunity business. If there is no affirmative action, there is no action.”

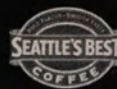

~ Frank Belatti
Chairman & CEO of AFC Enterprises

The people you see and those you don't see are important ingredients to our success. Our mission is to create equity by providing opportunity and then sharing our successes with the many people of AFC. People like Chicago-based PENMAN Partners, an African American-owned investment banking firm which owns a share in AFC; or like our suppliers, where expenditures have increased from $250,000 to $22 million since 1993. About fifteen percent of our top-paid officers are African American. Minorities and women own fifty-three percent of our franchises. Those actions and others like them are part of our New Age of Opportunity® philosophy, based on our conviction that inclusion and equal opportunity are for all people of AFC regardless of their race, religion or gender. For us, this is a core business strategy.

Which one of these people
is different?

All of them.

Every single one brings special strengths matched by no other person in the world. Which is why they work at Lockheed Martin Aeronautics Company.

We are proud of them. Proud of the commitments they make at work.
Proud of the community they shape at home. Both efforts require a special sense of dedication measured by a variety of strengths. Like integrity.
Purpose. Commitment.

These values are shared by people who know the world is changing.
Lockheed Martin is changing with it. And we are meeting new demands with new leadership and more opportunities for success.

We also have a special secret -- and it is really no secret at all: Our people make the difference. And we value their unique contributions ... at home and around the world.
