Building

Each brick we lay in this blue print of life
Gives direction to those who chose to follow
Our steps may be ordered
And our direction mapped out
To guide us to a brighter morrow

In our duties as leaders
And in our decision to succeed
We add strength to this foundation, and guidance to those in need.

Now tradition is abundant in many facets around our lives
It impacts our choices, and adds smiles to our cries

Though it may not be clear, the extent we impact those to come
Patience and steadfast goodness will ensure they know where they came from.

Leaving a mark on CAU
A Student-Centered, Quality-Driven University

With great pride and humility, I am deeply honored to be the second President of Clark Atlanta University. I am grateful for Dr. Thomas W. Cole’s foresight and vision in creating a strong and thriving academic foundation, which has become a model for other colleges and universities that are in their infancy. In accepting the torch of leadership, I am enthusiastically ready to chart the next course and write a new chapter in CAU’s history, starting with the mantra, a Student-Centered, Quality-Driven University. We have to be a University that intimately and unequivocally embraces the notion that our students are our customers, and with that comes the responsibility of providing them with a quality academic environment that is second to none in all areas: teaching, student services, administrative processes and extracurricular activities. Moreover, in order for it to work effectively, everyone must embrace this concept no matter what position you hold.

Beloved
Shaun Lamont Cunningham

To the Beloved Shaun Cunningham:

Beloved
Is the day we met
Beloved
Are the times we spent
Beloved
Is the joy you gave
Beloved
Are the thoughts we shared
Beloved
Is the life you led
Beloved
Is the memory of you

We suffered a great loss on September 21, 2003, when God took one of his children home. Shaun Lamont Cunningham was a native of New York and graduated from Clark Atlanta University with a Bachelor of Arts in Business Administration. He will be greatly missed by his loved ones as well as by his Clark Atlanta University family. Shaun journeyed through life with his head high, and we shall hold our heads high as he watches from above.

The Office of Alumni Relations

The Office of Alumni Relations is to increase the visibility of alumni. The office of Alumni Relations is now located on main campus, on the corner of Fair and Raymond Streets. The little gray building has become a recognizable welcome center for visiting alumni and students.

Carrie T. Hamilton, '94, Database Manager/Project Coordinator.

The Office of Alumni Relations is a department in the Division of Institutional Advancement & University Relations and is a direct liaison between Clark Atlanta University and her alumni constituency. Alumni Relations continues to work on strengthening the relationships of the University and her alumni. Alumni are individuals who have graduated from, or who have matriculated at least one semester at Clark Atlanta University, Atlanta University, Clark College, or Clark University. These individuals are reminded of the alumni oath as they continue in the University’s motto “I’ll Find a Way or Make One” and “Culture for Service”.

CLASS OF 2007!
Every year at the end of Freshman Orientation, the students are officially inducted into the Clark Atlanta University family. Decked out in dark suits and white dresses, the students gather on the Quadrangle for the event. This year’s event included speeches from Miss CAU, Cherri Alexander; SGA Undergraduate, President Lamont Robinson, and the President of the University Dr. Walter Broadnax. At the end of the ceremony when the students blew out their candles, they knew that they had officially become Clark Atlanta University Panthers.

Foundations For Greatness
Miss Clark Atlanta University, Cheri Alexander, hails from Washington, D.C., and is the daughter of Charles and Maria Alexander. A civil engineering major, she plans to attend Harvard Law School upon graduation. While matriculating at CAU, Ms. Alexander has stood out from the crowd with her adoring smile. While representing the District of Columbia as Miss DC Teen USA, she started a program that helped develop self-esteem and etiquette in young people. During her sophomore year at Clark Atlanta University, her program became an organization entitled L.O.V.E. (Lifting Others through Valuable Efforts). This year she has taken that organization one step further, by chartering it as a member of the CAU Council of Chartered Clubs and Organizations.

During her time at Clark Atlanta University, Ms. Alexander has offered her time and talents to numerous organizations and causes, including the Spanish Club, the National Society of Black Engineers, and several Royal Courts. Currently she is the president of both L.O.V.E. and Expressions of Prayz Dance Team. Cheri’s goal as Miss Clark Atlanta University, 2003-2004, is to spread L.O.V.E. at CAU, for she believes that, “The greatest gift you can give is love, for love is nothing by itself, it has to have action, and we are that action.”
Miss Education major ... in behavioral patterns. While Ms. Venable has attained high academic standards by making the CAU Dean’s List, she is always actively involved on campus. She is an R.A. of Holmes Hall, a member of the Louisiana Club; president of psychology club, and previous of the Panther Yearbook Staff. She also takes time out to mentor at the Primrose School. Desjane “Tales” lives by the motto, “It is nice to be important but it is more important to be nice.”

First Attendant: Dajene’ Venable is a senior, psychology major from New Orleans, LA. Upon completion of her bachelor’s degree, she would like to enter an M.D./Ph.D. program and subsequently, counsel individuals with disabilities in behavioral patterns. While Ms. Venable has attended high academic standards by making the CAU Dean’s List, she is always actively involved on campus. She is an R.A. of Holmes Hall, a member of the Louisiana Club; president of psychology club, and previous of the Panther Yearbook Staff. She also takes time out to mentor at the Primrose School. Desjane “Tales” lives by the motto, “It is nice to be important but it is more important to be nice.”

Miss Senior: Hailing from the windy city of Chicago, Illinois, Ryan Whitney Thompson is a business administration major with a concentration in marketing. Maintaining a 3.5 GPA, she is a member of the marketing club, Morehouse Business Association, and a volunteer at Centennial Place Family YMCA. An affirmation that she lives, “Success will not lower its standards to us, we must raise our standards to success.”

Miss Junior: A native of Atlanta, GA, Taleisha Gap is an Early Childhood Education major with a 3.0 GPA. Her vocal ability gained her a choral scholarship to attend Clark/Atlanta University. Taleisha loves reaching out to others and firmly believes, “That which men things seem impossible, but with God all things are possible.”

Second Attendant: Tversa Ricks dismantles the saying that, “Your entrance until determines exit.” A senior Business Administration major from Doraville, GA, Tversa is a shining example of strong determination and persistence. During her matriculation at CAU, she has become actively involved on campus. She is a third year R.A. in Beckwith Hall, the president and founder of the Mid–West Club, and a member of the Women’s Initiative Program (WIP). Tversa believes, “It is not sufficient to complain and remain complacent; you must must complain and become a CHANGE AGENT!”

Miss Sophomore: Jacquelyn Payne is the daughter of Clarence and Patricia Payne. A business Finance major from Hillborough, NC, Jackie is very involved in her school activities as well as her community. She is the former Miss Freshman 2002-2003. Ten simple words she lives by are, “If it is to be, it is up to me.”

Miss Freshman: Crystal Harris is a television broadcast major from Charlotte, NC, who aspires to one day become a news anchor. Challenging herself and her class from the beginning, she knows that the exposure and experience gained from being Miss Freshman can only be beneficial. Crystal’s philosophy is, “To love the moment, and the energy of that moment will spread beyond all boundaries.”

The Originators

Alpha Phi Alpha, the first intercollegiate Greek-letter fraternity established for African-Americans, was founded at Cornell University in Ithaca, New York by seven college men who recognized the need for a strong bond of Brotherhood among African descendants in this country.

The Alpha Phi Chapter of the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity has had an interesting and proud history on the Clark College Campus. It was discovered during the school year 1925-1926 that there were a considerable number of men at Clark interested in becoming members of the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity. PURSUANT TO THE DISCOVERY OF THIS INTEREST, THE OASIS CLUB was organized on the Clark University campus in the fall of 1926.

“Sweet” Alpha Pi Chapter

Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc. is the oldest greek letter organization established for black college women. It was founded on the campus of Howard University on January 15, 1908. The purpose of the organization is to cultivate and encourage high scholastic and ethical standards, to promote unity and friendship among college women, to alleviate problems concerning girls and women, and to be supreme in service to all mankind. In efforts to further promote service to all mankind, the Ladies of Alpha Pi chapter participate in community service events throughout the Atlanta community.

“Beauty unparalleled, grace undefined, an Alpha Kappa Alpha woman is one of a kind.”
On Friday evening, November 17, 1911, three Howard University undergraduate students, with the assistance of their faculty advisor, gave birth to Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc. This event occurred in the office of biology Professor Ernest E. Just, the faculty advisor. The three liberal arts students were Edgar A. Love, Oscar J. Cooper, and Frank Coleman. From the initials of the Greek phrase meaning “friendship is essential to the soul,” the name Omega Psi Phi was derived. Manhood, Scholarship, Perseverance, and Uplift were adopted as cardinal principles. The fraternity as a whole prepares men to represent and uphold the name of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc., through the cardinal principles and rich traditions that shall not be broken. With these cardinal principles, Omega men are blessed with pride, dignity, and humility, which allows them to interact with other men, especially men with similar ideals. The fraternity also practices brotherhood, which allows men of different backgrounds to relate to each other in a family-oriented manner. Through this brotherhood, Omega men hold true to each other by offering a helping hand through service and even the business world. As Omega men hold high positions in various aspects of the world, many brothers may be given the opportunity to make a life better for themselves and those who may follow after.
On January 13, 2003, on the campus of Howard University, twenty-two phenomenal undergraduate women founded Delta Sigma Theta Sorority. These women had a desire to positively impact the world on a level greater than any other black organization. They succeeded, and the women of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc. continue to uphold this legacy by operating under the Five Point Program Thrust, which includes Economic Development, Educational Development, International Awareness and Involvement, Physical and Mental Health, and Political Awareness and Involvement.

Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc. now includes over 900 chapters, both in the United States and abroad. Currently, there are over 200,000 members, more than any other black fraternal organization.
Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, Inc. was founded at Howard University in Washington, D.C., January 9, 1914, by three young African-American male students. The founders, Honorable A. Langston Taylor, Honorable Leonard F. Morse, and Honorable Charles I. Brown, wanted to organize a Greek letter fraternity that would truly exemplify the ideals of Brotherhood, Scholarship, and Service. Their conviction to give back to their communities was mirrored in the Fraternity’s motto “Culture For Service and Service For Humanity.”

5 Pearls  4 Life  3 Crescents
Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Inc. was founded January 16, 1920 on the campus of Howard University in Washington, D.C. by five coeds. These women dared to depart from the traditional coalitions for Black women and sought to establish a new organization predicated on the precepts of Scholarship, Service, Sisterly Love and Finer Womanhood. The trail blazed by the founders has been traversed by thousands of women dedicated to the emulation of the objectives and ideals of the Sorority.

Phi Beta Sigma & Zeta Phi Beta are the only constitutionally bound fraternity and sorority. So remember, whether Sigma or Zeta, it's all Phi Beta!

“Gangster” Gamma Kappa Chapter

Kappa Alpha Psi was founded on the campus of Indiana University on January 5, 1911. The Fraternity’s fundamental purpose is achievement. Early in this century, African-American students were actively dissuaded from attending college. Formidable obstacles were erected to prevent the few who were enrolled from assimilating into co-curricular campus life. This ostracism characterized Indiana University 1911, thus causing Elder W. Diggs, Bryon K. Armstrong, and eight other black students to form Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, which remains the only Greek letter organization with its 1st chapter on the University’s campus. The founders sought a formula that would immediately raise the sights of black collegians and stimulate them to accomplishments higher than they might have imagined. Fashioning achievement as its purpose, Kappa Alpha Psi began uniting college men of culture, patriotism and honor in a bond of fraternity.
Seven ladies came together, with minds as one. They created an entity to be reckoned with for generations to come. They took the finest ideals of workmanship, their dedication to the community and the sheer integrity of true womanhood, and embodied it in 3 letters: Sigma Gamma Rho. But, these ladies were always achievers. At a time when black and white were unable to sit in the same dining hall, these seven intelligent women held their heads up high. Not only did they reach achievement at a predominantly white school, they had the AUDACITY to form a sorority. Undoubtedly, they were pioneers of a new era. These seven women were unique with gifts that were passed down to sorority members to this day. Yes, Mary Lou Little, Vivian Marbury, Hattie Mae Redford, Bessie Mae Martin, Cubena McClure, Nannie Mae Johnson and Dorothy Whiteside, the founders of Sigma, were great women, indeed. These women were the Epitome of Elite Womanhood. These illustrious women would not back down from their course. And neither shall we...

Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority, Incorporated, was founded on November 12th, 1922 on the campus of Butler University, Indianapolis, Indiana. Our ideals are everlasting.
Sinfonia was born on October 6, 1898, at the New England Conservatory in Boston, when a group of thirteen young men under the guidance of Ossian Everett Mills met "to consider the social life of the young men students of that institution" and "to devise ways and means by which it might be improved." Mills, bursar of the Conservatory, sought to create an Order in which men with a shared love of music could develop the virtues of manhood in themselves and in their fellows.

Sinfonia became a national fraternity on October 6, 1900, with the admission of a group of men at the Broad Street Conservatory in Philadelphia. Since that time Sinfonia has grown into the largest music fraternity in the world, with more than 140,000 initiates, and chapters on over 200 college and university campuses across the nation.

For over a century, Sinfonians in nearly every field of study and professional endeavor have transformed the face of music in America. Today, the Brotherhood represents a diverse group of individuals spanning the nation, who continue the proud tradition of advancing the Fraternity's Object:

The Object of this Fraternity shall be for the development of the best and truest fraternal spirit; the mutual welfare and brotherhood of musical students; the advancement of music in America and a loyalty to the Alma Mater.

Sinfonia is a Brotherhood of men bound together for mutual helpfulness. Its purpose is not only to bring men together as friends, but also to provide a network of brothers with whom men can commune and renew their zeal — a support network that helps the individual to meet the challenges that face him in his daily life. By teaching men who are united as brothers to live their lives according to the noble virtues set forth in the Fraternity's Initiation Ritual, Sinfonia builds better, stronger, broader individuals who are able to live in harmony and in sympathy with their Fraternity brothers and their fellow man. The Initiation Ritual of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, which will mark the transition into full membership, is one of the most meaningful and beautiful of the Greek traditions. The dedication to the advancement of universal Truths and brotherly association exemplified in the Ritual are the foundation of individual fraternal friendship, chapter unity, and national solidarity in the promotion of Sinfonia's dual mission: the making of men and the uplift of mankind.

Sinfonians share a love of music that unites them as brothers with a common interest. The Fraternity teaches men to develop themselves and their art, not for the sake of art itself, but as a means of enriching the lives of others. Through a multitude of chapter, provincial, and national events, Sinfonia offers unlimited opportunities for performance, community music outreach, and other activities designed to develop a true appreciation for the power of music to uplift the soul.

Sinfonia's collegiate chapters participate in a broad range of activities emphasizing brotherhood, service, and performance in music. Chapters take music into the community by singing at hospitals and homes for the elderly; sponsoring concerts of American music, jazz and choral festivals, all-campus sings and Broadway-style reviews; providing a large variety of performing ensembles ranging from big bands to barbershop quartets; commissioning new works; bringing prominent performers and clinicians to their campuses; and taking part in a variety of other social and musical activities. The possibilities for participation in musical activities are limited only by the boundaries of imagination, desire, and commitment.

Sinfonia provides many exciting opportunities for the development of social and leadership skills in an atmosphere of brotherhood and mutual support. Leadership roles may be assumed from nearly the first day an individual is pledged to become an active member of the Fraternity. Beyond the chapter, annual province workshops and national events allow members to become more involved and to develop meaningful friendships with other musical students across the nation.

A common phrase heard among brothers in the Fraternity is "Once a Sinfonian, Always a Sinfonian." The spirit of this phrase has fostered alumni loyalty for more than one hundred years. For alumni members, the opportunities to remain active with the Fraternity are limitless. Alumni associations, scattered throughout the country, provide more formalized ways for alumni Sinfonians to gather together and further the ideals and objectives of the Fraternity.
Sigma Alpha Iota was founded on June 12, 1903, at the University School of Music, Ann Arbor, Michigan by Elizabeth Campbell, Frances Caspari, Minnie Davis Sherrill, Leila Farlin Laughlin, Nora Crane Hunt, Georgina Potts, and Mary Storrs Andersen, seven gifted young musicians whose names and lives hold a unique place in the heart of each Sigma Alpha Iota member. The Kappa Delta Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota was chartered on May 5, 2000, at Clark Atlanta University by 22 lovely ladies: Karen Hamilton, Caroline Glenn, Doris Elliot, Lisa Heard, April Smith, Shaminia Smith, Ingrid Hall-Joyner, Davonna Brown, Monicah Cloud, Prisca Barnes, Alexis Cane, LaToya Lee, Casie Matthews, Alana Watkins, DeArroka Winfrey, LaKia Peek, Chasity Daniels, Tahese Tony, Shadrika Childs, Fantara Johnson, Fayth Owen and Jenes Jones.

The first practical idea for establishing a “band sorority” as a national entity to meet the expressed needs of the growing number of women in college and university bands was presented by band member Wava Banes (Henry), along with her classmates, Emily Surell and Rosell Williams, to director D.O. Wiley of the Texas Tech University Band in the closing months of 1937. This discussion led to a group of bandswomen at Texas Tech University founding a local organization known as “Tau Beta Sigma,” modeled in principle on the example of Kappa Kappa Psi. Much like the Fraternity, Tau Beta Sigma’s purpose at Tech was to serve as an honorary service and leadership recognition society, but it was designed especially to provide the important additional social, educational, and other positive experiences needed by women in the band.

In June of 1943, the Tech women petitioned the Grand Council of Kappa Kappa Psi to become an integral part of the national Fraternity as an active chapter. Accepting the group under these circumstances, however, would have entailed a complete revision of the Kappa Kappa Psi constitution. Because of the war, doubt was expressed as to just when the next fraternity convention would be held so that the issue could be brought to debate. Rather than postponing action on the women’s request indefinitely, a suggestion was made that Tau Beta Sigma form its own national organization, just as the National Fraternity had done in 1919. Until a national convention of Kappa Kappa Psi could be held and the matter clarified, Tau Beta Sigma could be considered the “sister organization” of the Fraternity. The Grand Council of Kappa Kappa Psi agreed that Tau Beta Sigma could share in all fraternal publications.

While applying for a national charter, the Tech Chapter encountered difficulties involving certain Texas state corporation laws. In 1945, A. Frank Martin, National Executive Secretary of Kappa Kappa Psi, was invited to meet with the women and work out a plan that would bring the Sorority the national status the Tau Beta Sigma women were seeking. Mr. Martin then suggested that the local band sorority currently in existence at Oklahoma State University apply for the charter, since fewer difficulties would be encountered in Oklahoma.

So, in January of 1946, the women of the Texas Tech Tau Beta Sigma Band Sorority, through their director, D.O. Wiley, graciously surrendered their name, “TAU BETA SIGMA,” their constitution, ritual and jewelry designs to the local band club at Oklahoma State University, in order that the national organization could be established. By doing so, the Tech women understood that they were permitting the Oklahoma State group the title of “Alpha, the Mother Chapter,” and accepted the status of “Beta Chapter,” the second chartered chapter. On March 26, 1946, a charter was granted by the Department of State for the State of Oklahoma legally establishing “Tau Beta Sigma, National Honorary Band Sorority,” later amended to “Tau Beta Sigma.” On May 4 of 1946, the members of the Alpha Chapter traveled to Lubbock, Texas, to officially install the women of Texas Tech as the Beta Chapter of the National Sorority.

TOTAL YOU TOUR

On Thursday, September 18, 2003, three of the most influential women of our day (Free, Nikki Giouanni, and Donna Richardson) came to Clark Atlanta University to increase awareness about fitness, self-love, and activism. Following the seminar, the audience was able to meet and greet with each of the host to take pictures and receive autographs. “I felt refreshed and enlightened” — Karina Apraez

Sponsored by: PANTENE PRO-V
Ness, Chopper, Fred, Babs, Sara, and Dylan, better known as DA BAND, made one of their first appearances, since the hit MTV show "Making the Band," here at Clark Atlanta University. They came to promote their new album "Too Hot for TV." While they were here they took some time out to answer questions from fans and signed autographs. Their album is set to release September 2003.
For the last five years, Clark Atlanta has sent a party bus to Louisiana for a taste of a Thanksgiving in the Bayou. This trip is open to all students in the Metro Atlanta Area. The main attractions are the game, the greek step show, and the battle of the bands, but of course that's not all THE BIG EASY has to offer. So don't miss your chance next November to have some of the most fun you will ever have.
THE ANNUAL AIDS WALK, which was held at Piedmont Park, marked the beginning of Homecoming week. The AIDS WALK is a six-mile walk around the city to raise money to find a cure for AIDS and support those living with the disease. Several organizations from Clark Atlanta University formed groups and walked together. Some students contributed by helping to pass out snacks and water to the walkers. By participating in the AIDS WALK each year Clark Atlanta University has continued to build traditions of commitment to the community.
For the past two years, a primary emphasis of the Religious Life office has been to reestablish Sunday worship service as an exciting, vital part of campus life. Historically, worship has been the centerpiece of the religious life of African-American communities. Traditionally, African-American worship served as a spiritual bulwark supporting shared moral values, communal relationships, and cultural esteem. In this vein, we believe that an effective religious program can and does have a powerful impact on our campus culture. Over the past few semesters, worship attendance has increased tenfold. Instrumental to achieving this goal has been the establishment of a dynamic, gospel choir for the University's service. From hymns to anthems, spirituals to gospel, and jazz to hip hop, the Clark Atlanta Worship Choir introduces students to a wide range of music composing the rich African-American sacred music tradition. Religious life intends to create meaningful Christian ecumenical worship services relevant to university life and sensitive to the concerns of the university community. Worship service seeks to express the spiritual of the community while bringing to bear the questions of religion on the contemporary cultural and social discourse.
African Ambassador Barbara Masekela Visits CAU

On Thursday, January 15, 2004, Ambassador Barbara Masekela graced Clark Atlanta University with her presence and was the main speaker at the Special Convocation. Ambassador Barbara Masekela received her education in South Africa and Zambia, graduating with a B.A. degree from Ohio in 1971. Later, Ms. Masekela pursued a career in Education and was the founder of the African National Congress Office of Arts and Culture. Ms. Masekela was later appointed by Nelson Mandela to be the Ambassador to France, as well as Ambassador to UNESCO, in 1995. Ambassador Barbara Masekela was the Director of the Standard Bank of South Africa and many other corporations. Presently, she is the trustee of the Nelson Mandela Children’s Fund and Nelson Mandela foundation. In June 2003, Ms. Masekela was appointed by President Mbeki to be Ambassador to the United States.

You have no idea how much stress this year’s yearbook was. But, I am thankful to God for giving me the opportunity and the will to get through it one last year. Tiffany, you are an angel. Thank you for always calming me down and always being there for me. You are going to be a great editor and I hope you learn from my mistakes. Love ya, Danielle. How many organizations are we going to be in together? It has been a pleasure working with you and you too are going to be a great next year. Good luck with everything (you know what I’m talking about!). Lauren, I will miss you. You have come a long way since I first met you in my peer group. I hope I trained you enough! Good luck with all that you do.

Mrs. Nedrick, thank you for all of your light; I knew I was rescued. Thank you for your patience with the staff and me. You did great job. Mr. James, I cannot say enough about you. You are the best. Thank you for working with us and being nice to me when we missed deadlines. I will miss you. To my old advisor and the advisor for every organization that I’m in, DeNeia Whitted, you have become more than just an advisor. You are my auntie and I love you so much. Thank you for helping me in my hard times and making me realize that even though I was not able to accomplish all of my goals at CAU (you know what I mean) God has a bigger plan for me. Thank you and I love you. Dean Robinson, I must say I was scared of you when I first came to CAU. But, you are all right. Thank you for all that you have done for yearbook and orientation. I will not forget you. To the yearbook staff that stuck around: Jonathan, Frankia, Alexis, Courtney G, Chelsea, Quisha, Destiny, Taya, Serrita, Mame, Michelle, Lauren Seller, Courtney L, Latrice, Maya, and little Karina. I love you guys. Thank you for putting up with my attitudes (I know it was bad) and being patient when we did not have any pictures. What you did means so much to me. I will miss you all. To my little freshmen Frankia, Alexis, and Michelle, I hope it is a great year for you. I wish you the best in the future. You are like my little sisters and I will truly miss you guys. Love ya. Maya and Latrice, I can’t thank you guys enough for all the hard work you did. Thank you, Thank you, Thank you. Serrita and Nettie, what can I say? It’s our last year. Thank you for always supporting me and being no matter what. I will always have wonderful memories! I have to thank the non-yearbook people. These people never joined yearbook but were always in the office. They are Gigi (what can I say, there will never be another like you), Kristy (through it all I always had you), MiMe(you are the greatest. Thank you for your four years of friendship. I love you SUPER K), KeKe (I am so proud of you), I can’t thank you enough for your friendship and understanding. Hold it down #2), Marquessa (I love ya and always keep your head up), Curt (I love you Curtly Warty), and Cord (I’m saying go, you take care of my Tricky). Shots out to: My freshmen friends Tim, Rich Foo, Jason, Keena, Omega Phi Phi Fraternity, Inc. Beta Phi Chapter (I love you and will miss you!), The Men of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity Inc. Alpha Phi Chapter (we had some good times and some bad. Thanks for the support when I was down!). Oh how I love that prayer bearing Sigma Chapter (hey, I didn’t know) Werner Hall c/o 2004, Heritage Commons 208, ERIT, OG’s and any one else I forget. Thank you to CAU and the CAU family for making this the most memorable, educational, and crazy time of my life. I will never forget my experience here and I will truly miss it. THANK YOU! Till we meet again (at the wedding)!

What a year! I cannot even begin to write this without thanking God for helping me to get through this stressed but very blessed year. Throughout everything that happened this year, there were two people who continued to be there for me through the good times and the bad. Candid, despite everything, you know that I love you to death. Your contribution to the staff for the past three years has been indispensable. I know that there will be nothing but blessings to come in your life. I love you girl! Tiff, what can I say about one of the kindest people I have ever had the pleasure to meet. You have nothing but sweet bones in your body and you work harder than anyone else I know. I'm glad I have you to have my back next year. Lauren, as crazy as you are, I know that you will be ready to step up to the plate when your time comes. Thanks for always being there. To all of our Section Editors, know that this yearbook would not have happened without you. LaToya, girl you did your thing this year. Sports looks ten times better than it ever has thanks to you. Marquisha, thanks for all your hard work with Activities. Even when you did not have pictures, you still made it happen. Kym, your patience with the Faculty pages was much appreciated. Despite having almost no staff, you still did a great job. Serrita, your positive attitude is why you did such a fantastic job this year. Thank you for making Clubs and Orgs great. Mentie, thank you for all your hard work on Student Life this year. We could not have gotten it done without you. Maya, words cannot express the gratitude I have for you. Your hard work, dedication, and smiling face while working on classes will not be forgotten. Thank you for always giving 110%. To our crazy staff, I am so grateful for your hard work this year. The yearbook looks great and it is all due to you guys. To Latrice, Frankia, Johnathon, Chelsea, Michelle, and Destinee, I especially thank you for always being there even when you did not have to be. Last but certainly not least, special thank-you to Mr. James, Miss Vledrick, and Herff-Jones. Your help and support were crucial to our getting the book out this year. Thanks for everything. I will miss everyone and let's make it even better next year!

Hugs and Kisses,

Danielle

GUIDING THE NATION'S ECONOMY

The Federal Reserve System is the central bank of the United States—and one of the world's most important, influential, and prestigious financial organizations.

From the Board of Governors, located in Washington, D.C., and twelve regional Reserve Banks, Federal Reserve employees work on domestic and global matters that affect economies and consumers in countless ways.

This challenging work demands the skills of a Wall Street professional and the intellectual curiosity of an academic, all combined with a passion for public service. The Federal Reserve System offers a variety of career opportunities in Business & Finance, Economics, Law, and Information Systems Technology.

Ever consider working for Wells Fargo?

Your great, great, great grandparents did.

Today, most companies make the connection between diversity and service. In 1852, only a handful did. Wells Fargo is proud to have been among the first American companies to recognize the value of inclusion.

For some companies, inclusion has been a long time coming. At Wells Fargo, it's been here all along.

Long ago, Fannie Mae realized that diversity was a driving force for both innovation and change. We saw that the more our work force reflected the shifting demographics of our nation, the more competitive we would be. So to help us realize the potential of such visionary thinking, we created the Office of Diversity.

By providing pathways for all employees to grow, we have increased minority representation in management to 25 percent. And women hold nearly 45 percent of our management positions.

The energy of our diverse work force has been instrumental in helping Fannie Mae successfully meet the diverse housing needs of American families. And in 2002, we did just that by helping nearly 7 million families into homes of their own. At Fannie Mae, we are committed to breaking down the barriers to homeownership while opening the doors of opportunity.

BEFORE THE AIR FORCE SHATTERED
THE SOUND BARRIER,
THESE AIRMEN SHATTERED THE RACE BARRIER.

Tuskegee Airmen of the first all-black fighter squadron.

Lieutenant Charles B. Hall
99th Fighter Squadron

Chances are, you know about the people who broke the sound barrier, but how much do you know about Charles Hall?

In 1943, while flying over the coast of Sicily in his P-40 Warhawk, he downed a German Focke-Wulf 190 fighter, and, with it, all the misconceptions of what a black pilot was capable of.

Charles Hall was part of a group of pilots known as the Tuskegee Airmen, black combat pilots who didn't settle for being as good as other pilots; they were determined to be even better.

They flew more than 15,000 sorties. They destroyed hundreds of German aircraft.

The Tuskegee Airmen were awarded hundreds of medals, including 150 Distinguished Flying Crosses.

And they took home 150 Distinguished Flying Cross medals.

In fact, the Tuskegee Airmen had an unsurpassed combat claim: In World War II, they never lost an escorted bomber to enemy fighters.

Thanks in part to the Tuskegee Airmen, when you Cross Into The Blue in the United States Air Force, the world of opportunity and honor is available to everyone. They made the most of their opportunity. What will you do with yours?

Variety makes us strong...

These are the secrets behind nature's genius. From rain forests in the Amazon to modest backyard gardens, each creature and every species helps maintain the health and stability of these wondrous surroundings. And the more diverse the environment, the more beautiful it is to behold.

...Harmony makes us successful

At Delta, we take great pride in the diversity of the people who make us what we are — a company of many cultures, languages, backgrounds and experiences. These differences serve to bring us together, make us stronger and give us a unique understanding and sensitivity to the needs of our customers and the communities we serve.

However, like the most dedicated gardener, we're never satisfied with how our garden grows. We constantly strive to build on our achievements to make Delta fertile ground for our employees, partners and suppliers around the globe.

Delta — sowing the seeds for success worldwide, naturally.

My best friend from school recommended I look at Nationwide’s Tom Joyner internship program as a great opportunity to get real-world experience.

Like other college students, I needed to get experience, but who would give me a chance to build my skills for the job market after graduation? I wanted an internship at a company that would allow me to work on real projects and learn on the job.

Nationwide can be that place. They’re one of the largest financial services companies in the country. And, they need talented interns from diverse backgrounds in all kinds of areas, from accounting to information systems and almost everything in between. They offer a casual work environment and lots of extras not found in other companies.

I’m glad my friend recommended Nationwide’s Tom Joyner internship program. I learned a lot, got paid and made some great contacts.

For more information regarding the selection process for the ‘On Your Side’/Tom Joyner internship program, see our online application at www.nationwide.com/diversity/events.htm.

At Relational Funding Corporation, it's our goal to open as many of those doors as possible. Behind each one lies an opportunity. An opportunity to incorporate the unique capabilities and perspectives each of us possesses so that we may reach our full potential. As one of the largest independent integrated technology supply and finance companies, we recognize that respecting and integrating these individual strengths will not only foster good corporate citizenship but also create more innovative and successful business solutions.

To that end, we've formed partnerships with a variety of minority-owned banks including Dryades Savings Bank, Seaway National Bank, and United Bank of Philadelphia. These collaborative alliances encourage diversity by creating opportunities and promoting growth in communities both locally and nationally. At RFC, we believe if we continue to acknowledge and reward the value of individuality, the power of diversity will be recognized globally, as well.

A Student Prayer

O God,

Bless me with a community that understands me, supports me, loves me, prays for me. With a place to return when I reach the depths of my existence and when I experience joy only You could send me.

Bless me with people in whose eyes I might look to see myself. And...

Bless me with people who might sometimes be perplexed by my existence, with people I might sometimes find it hard to accept, so that we can learn from one another's differences.

Show Yourself to me in ways that will broaden my understanding of You. And most of all, bless me with a place where nothing and no one interferes with Your will for me.
