Beginnings

To everything there is a season
and a time to every purpose
under the heaven. — Ecclesiastes
3:1

As time changes, so do people and places. Spelman College is an outstanding institution of higher learning for Black women.
Her ninety-nine year existence has proven her worthy of such a title. From her inception to the present, Spelman's example has been one of academic excellence,
achievement, and community service. The Spelman woman is known for her many accomplishments, her initiative
and her assertiveness.

Time waits for no man. The students of Spelman College cannot stand still — for there will be no progress. We cannot be content to rely upon the reputation earned by those in times past. We must instead attend to that which is now, not forgetting that what is now is the basis for the future.

So as the world prepares for a new decade, we as Spelmanites must prepare for a new century.

There is a dimension of learning which is not academic in nature. Spelmanites recognize this. Thus, they devote time to other activities. These interests help Spelmanites to become well-rounded individuals. In the past, Spelmanites attended cultural activities, parties and even enjoyed the greenery of the campus. In this respect we are the same as they. Surely, the Spelmanites of tomorrow will also be cognizant of the need for activities exclusive of academics.

Academics

The purpose of academics is to prepare the Spelman woman for the role which she must assume as a responsible adult. In this the age of specialization, our curriculum has emerged from that which is general in nature to that which is specific. Thus, Spelman fulfills its duty to prepare its students for the future — that which now seems intangible.

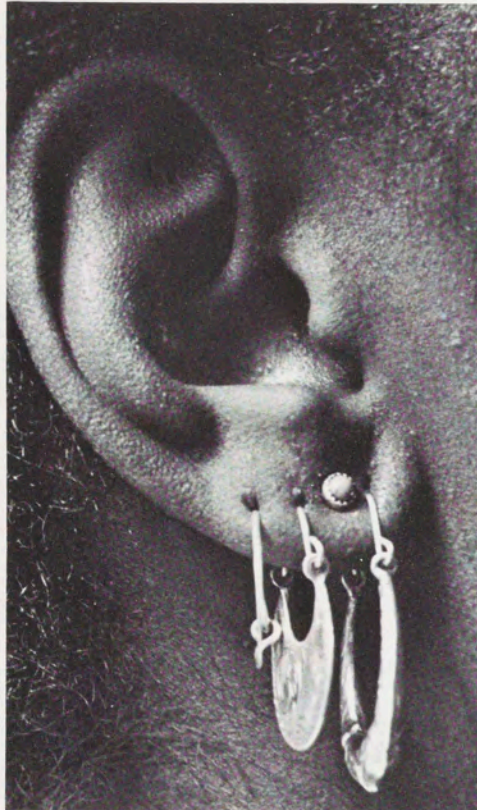

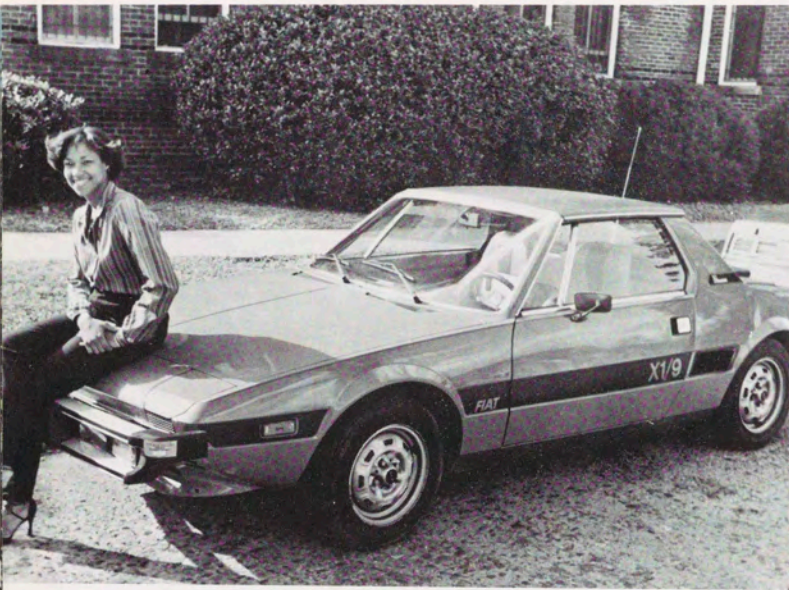

The dress of the Spelman woman has changed due to the changes in society. "White gloves and party dresses," a long remembered tradition, are no longer worn. The conservative mode of dress has been traded for a more individualistic one. Even though fashions may change, the values of the Spelman woman remain the same. Thus, no matter how Spelmanites dress in the year 2000, there should be no change in their ideals.

Spelman's past is highlighted by the many idiosyncrasies and eccentricities of its students. Most of these whims appear strange to us, the Spelmanites of today. We have established our own pet peeves and peculiarities to fit our ever changing moods and fleeting desires. Just as we question the fads of those before us, those to follow will question ours.

Homecoming

One longstanding tradition of Spelman College with Morehouse College is the celebration of a joint homecoming. This year, as in past years, Spelmanites were selected for the homecoming courts. These women represent the beauty and intelligence inherent in each Spelman woman. It is hoped that this tradition of excellence will be perpetuated in the Spelman women and Morehouse men of the future.

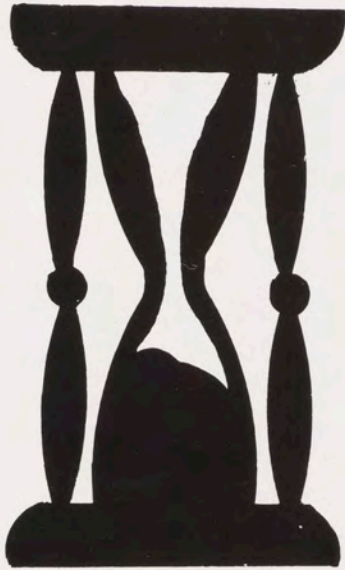

Spelmanites

In the past, Spelmanites came from a very limited geographical area. Their knowledge and their numbers were also limited, but their love for learning was overbearing. This desire to learn was responsible for the increase in Spelman's enrollment. Spelman now has students from most parts of the world. These students have the same appetite for learning as seen in the students of years gone by. With such a desire for learning, who knows from what part of the galaxy the next Spelmanite will come.

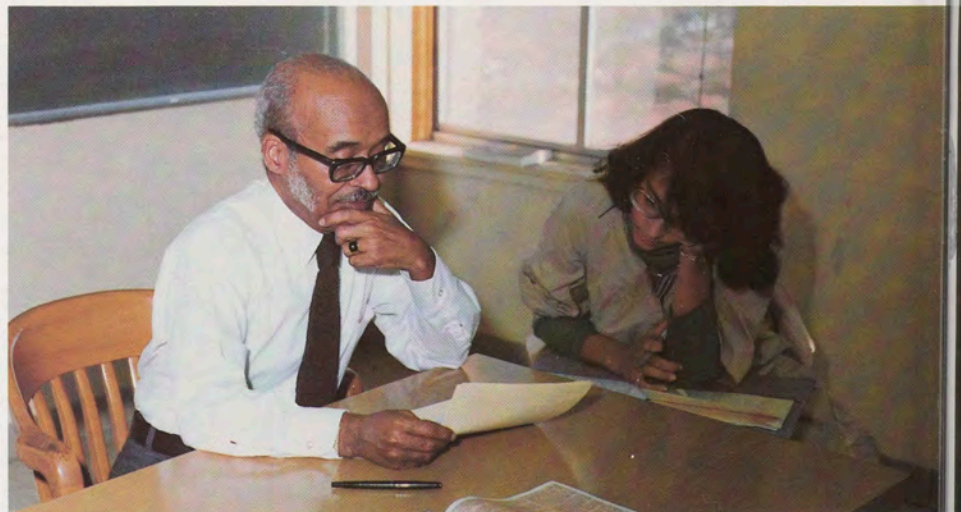

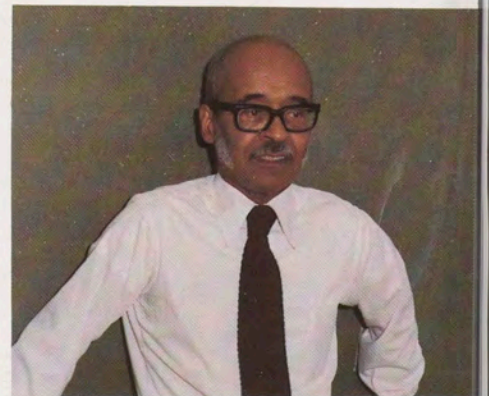

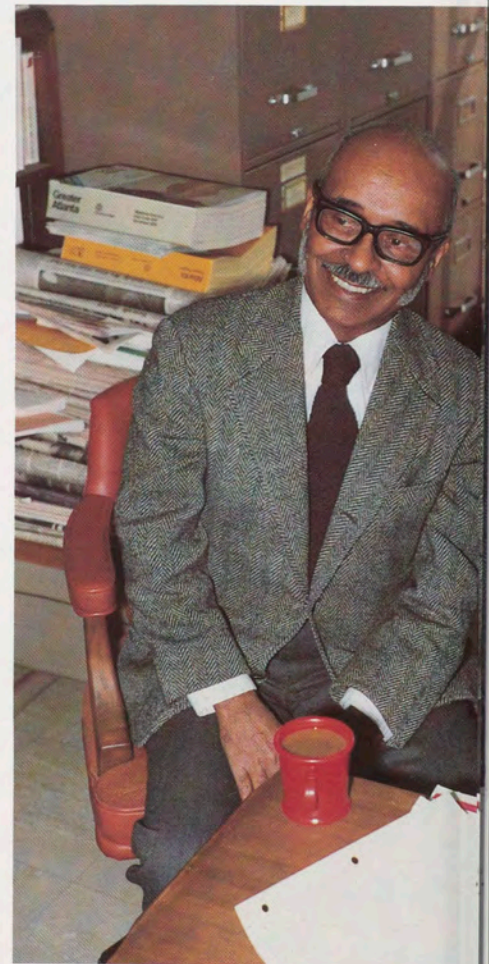

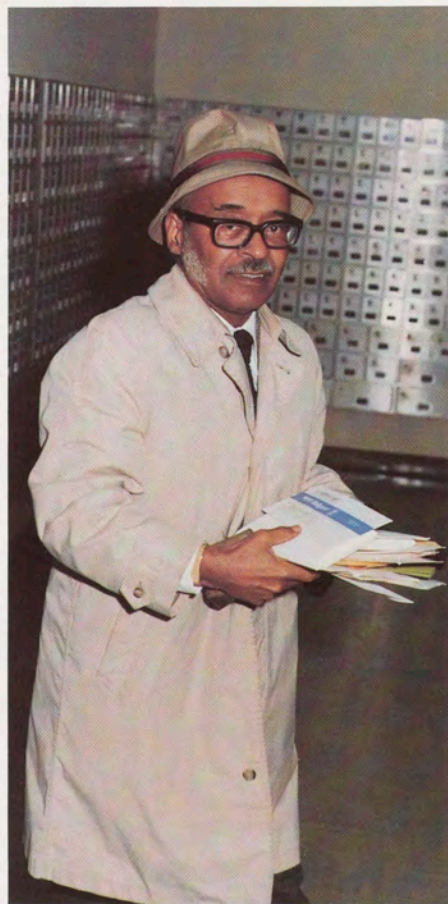

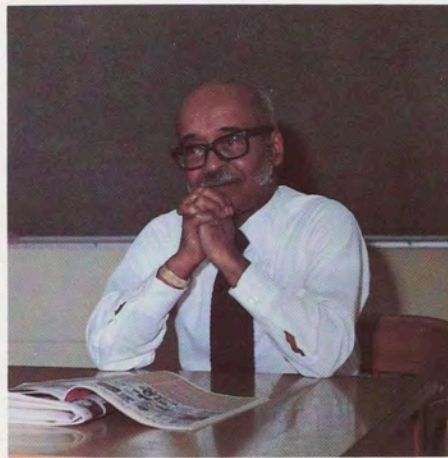

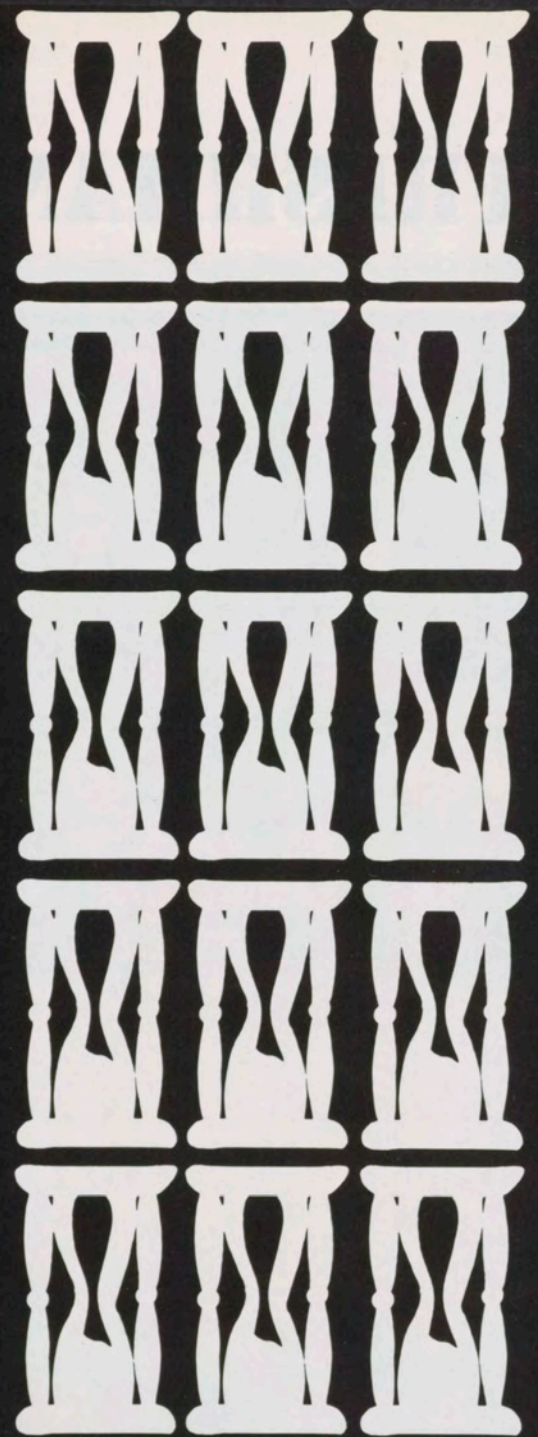

1980 Reflections Dedicated To Dr. Richard Carroll

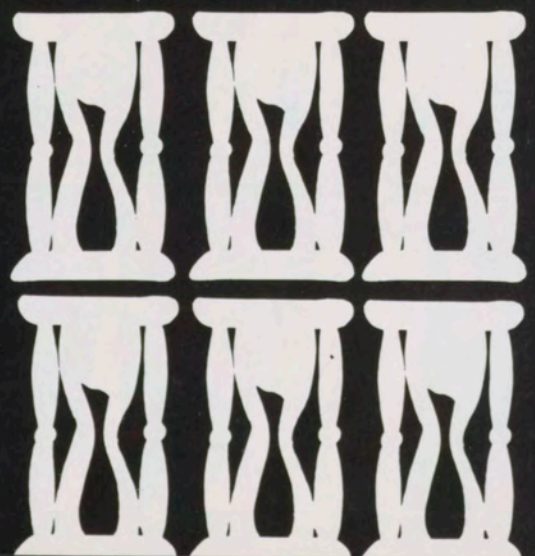

A warm and serene person, yet hard-working, dedicated, and concerned, he has given his untiring efforts to students, as well as the institution.

I dedicate the 1980 Reflections to Dr. Richard A. Carroll, Chairman of the English Department and sponsor of the 1980 Reflections.

STUDENT LIFE

FRESHMAN WEEK

Following in the path of traditional sisterly assistance, upperclassmen at Spelman offer their time and services to their new Spelman sisters during "Freshman Week". Sometime in the midst of the rally, block party, picnic and other Freshman Week events, the neophyte Spelmanites unfold their wings in anticipation of a new adventurous flight . . .

STUDENT CENTER

Since its dedication in 1970, the Albert E. Manley Student Center has served as a catalytic reactor which has prompted a new communal relationship between many Spelman students.

The two level structure houses Spelman's cafeteria, which is a modern dining hall that aids in the comfort and conversation of meal times. The upper concourse's lounging area, with scenic design, affords a serene atmosphere for all to enjoy. It also houses many facilities, including the office of the Student Government Association, Dean of Students, and school publications. The commuter lounge, locker room and T.V. lounge area on the lower concourse offer comfort to commuters who appreciate having places to relax between classes. The college bookstore and snack bar are also located on the lower concourse.

Mr. Leon Bates

Needless to say (the photo speaks for itself) Leon Bates, pianist, received the undivided attention of his Spelman audience as he gave an informal presentation in a combination concert/workshop in Sisters Chapel.

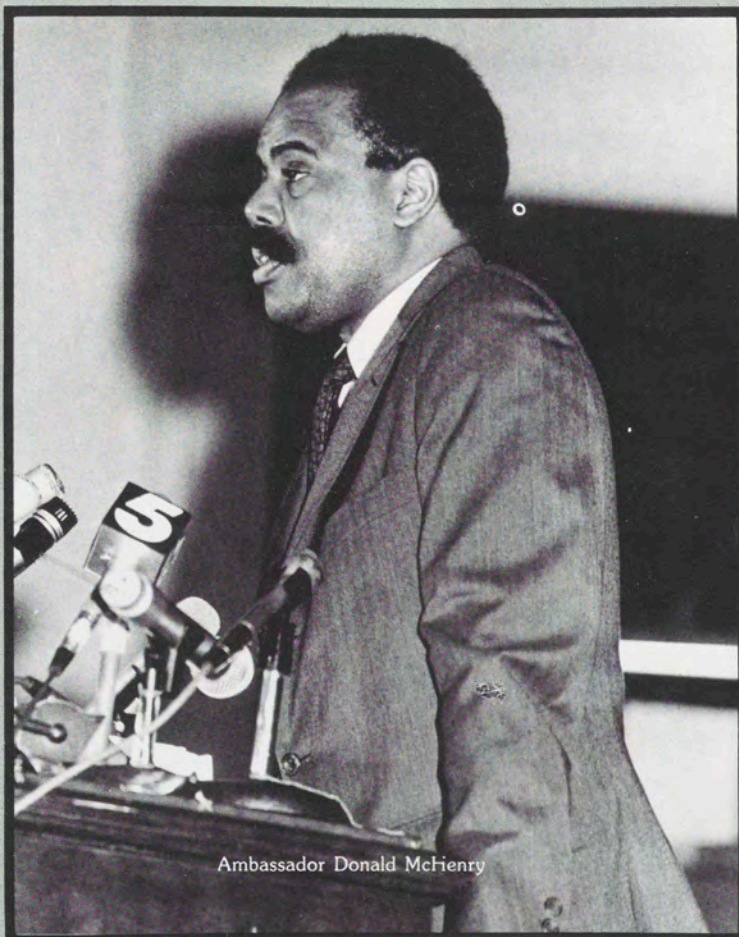

Warming up at Spelman's keyboard with Beethoven's First Movement Sonata in B-Flat Major Op. 22, Mr. Bates later delighted his audiences with Scott Joplin's Maple Leaf Rag. His concert also included Alborada del gracioso by Ravel and Ethude-Tableau in D Major Op. 39, No. 9 by Rachmaninoff.

Born in Philadelphia, Mr. Bates began his piano study at the age of six, continued at the Settlement Music School, and later studied with Natalie Hinderas at Temple University's College of Music.

"Music is a personal and personable experience," he explained. "Find a goal to reach for and get the education necessary to obtain that goal," he said adding "now is the time to find out how strong you can be."

"Born in St. Louis, Missouri, in 1936, Ambassador McHenry was raised across the Mississippi in East St. Louis, Illinois. He graduated from the University of Illinois in 1957 and received his Master's Degree in 1959. After an extensive study of international law and organizations, he joined the Department of State where he served (from 1963 to 1971) in various positions related to United States policy regarding international organizations.

"Ambassador McHenry reentered government service in 1976 as a part of the Carter administration's State Department transition staff. Subsequently, the President appointed the Ambassador to the United States Delegation to the United Nations. At the United Nations he served as Advisor and Alternate Representative to the Trusteeship Council; Alternate Representative to the Seminar on Apartheid and Racial Discrimination; Delegate to the International Conference on Human Rights; and Consultant to the United States Congressional Delegation to the Inter-Parliamentary Union. The Ambassador was also Deputy Representative to the Security Council." (Spelman International, March, 1980)

Ambassador Donald McHenry

Mrs. Jean Young

"Solving Children's problems takes your head, heart, and mind," Jean Young (Mrs. Andrew Young, Jr.) told her Spelman audience during a special convocation in December.

As National Chairperson of the International Year of the Child, Mrs. Young admitted that the world community of the United Nations couldn't solve the problems of children in one year but the organization could help people to recognize problems and to begin a solution process.

According to Mrs. Young, the International Year of the Child is an outgrowth of a Belgium priest's idea to have a celebration of declaration for the rights of the child and their rights to a free education. With this basis for the year, each country of the United Nations attempts to reach out to the world's children.

"America has its share of concerns and problems," Mrs. Young pointed out. "We have ten million poor youngsters, illiterates in our schools, a suicide rate among children that has tripled, and a high infant mortality.

As the wife of the former ambassador to the United Nations, Mrs. Young reminded her Spelman audience that "We as people who suffer must have a special sensitivity to those in need."

While appearing at Atlanta's Civic Center for the October performance of "Timbuktu", actress Eartha Kitt stopped by Spelman to talk to a packed audience in Sisters Chapel. Her visit was sponsored by the Spelman Student Government Association.

The students listened carefully to the famous, low, soft-spoken, sensuous voice of the "Cat Lady", (Bat Man Fame), as she spoke of her young life as an abused child in North Carolina. Forced to leave home by an unloving stepfather, Ms. Kitt was sent to her aunt in New York wearing a little tag that said — "I am Eartha Mae Kitt."

Miss Kitt went to Julliard on a full scholarship and attended the New York School of Performing Art prior to traveling around the world as a dancer, singer, interpreter, and seamstress.

SPEAKERS

Mr. Lou Rawls

Spelman College was one of four campuses selected by the United Negro College Fund (UNCF) for their National television special to be aired in 1980.

As a result Lou Rawls and a Hollywood production crew did a November filming at Spelman featuring the popular singer and Spelman's own Avis Bynum. Ms. Bynum, a junior, was selected by a panel to represent the Spelman woman for the film which highlights student life. She is vice president of Spelman's Student Government Association, a member of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority and Miss Maroon and White, Morehouse Homecoming Queen, for 1979-80.

The Spelman segment is part of the Lou Rawls' Parade of Stars, a television spectacular to be aired in the Atlanta area as well as in 24 other cities in the summer of 1980.

Since she was eighteen years old, Michele Wallace knew she would write a book about the sexual politics of the black experience in America. She is now twenty-seven years old, and for nearly ten years she has been researching this topic and conducting interviews. It was the striking similarity of responses to her questions by so many blacks which led her to suspect very definite patterns in the way they viewed themselves and their relationships.

On February 7, 1979, The Dial Press published Ms. Wallace's startling controversial work, BLACK MACHO AND THE MYTH OF THE SUPER-WOMAN. In this book she tells us that black leadership has made a fatal mistake by defining itself in sexual rather than political and economic terms. Equating power with manhood, it has created a black macho mystique. It has been largely insensitive to the needs of women and children and has been intent on the disastrous pursuit of its own gratification.

Michele Wallace's articles have often appeared in such publications as Esquire, The Village Voice and Ms., which will be excerpting BLACK MACHO in its January edition and featuring the author on its cover. She is the third generation of her family to grow up in Harlem. Her mother, Faith Ringgold, is a well-known painter and sculptor as well as a college lecturer. Her father, Earl Wallace, was a classical and jazz pianist.

Ms. Wallace began her college education at Howard University, later transferring to the City College of New York where she graduated with a B.A. in English and Writing in 1974. From September 1976 through June 1978 she taught journalism at New York University, and is currently on a leave of absence from that position. She has also been a research at Newsweek.

A dedicated jogger and tennis player, Ms. Wallace lives in New York City. In addition to working on new projects for Rolling Stone and Ms., she is at work on another book of nonfiction.

Ms. Michele Wallace

Third World Cinema, a film festival of twenty-five films produced and directed by Third World filmmakers, was presented free to the public October through early December on Spelman's campus. Sponsored by the National Endowment for the Humanities and the City of Atlanta (Department of Cultural Affairs), the series represented filmmakers from Cuba, Brazil, Peru, Argentina, Chile, Bolivia, Senegal, Angola, Ethiopia, and Nigeria.

One of the largest film audiences gathered near the close of the festival to hear well-known political activist Angela Davis and filmmaker Larry Clarke discuss his Afro-American film, "Passing Through" (1977). Mr. Clarke represents a new generation of black American filmmakers. His work presents the Afro-American reality with creative and sensitively conceived images.

The film is a testament to the lives of black musicians who have struggled to create their music free of the controls and constraints imposed by the recording industry. Clarke sighted how difficult it is to distribute films of the third world and the importance of developing audiences like the one at Spelman as an alternative.

In her opening comments regarding this film on black musicians, Angela Davis said that "In order to know where we are and where we're going, we have to know where we're coming from. She sighted the role of music as a form of communication in Africa and how African people who were brought to this country in chains continued to sing. "Even though rituals were lost, music lived on," she pointed out. "Even when the slave master didn't know what was going on." She recalled the history of work songs of black people as well as religious music and the birth of the blues which she said "allowed black folks to survive at a time when we weren't supposed to survive."

Spelman's Helen T. Albro Guest House was the scene for a few precious and poignant moments with poet Sterling A. Brown. During his brief visit to the campus, Mr. Brown spoke with members of Spelman's English department including his own former student — Ms. Teta Banks, Spelman English Instructor.

During his informal talk with students, staff, and friends, Mr. Brown read a few of his poems. In addition to being a poet, he is also known for being a great teacher, a brilliant scholar, and a critic. Through his national lectures, his critical essays and books, and his personal contact with young black writers, he has been credited with being a key person to influence and direct the course of Negro American writing.

The author of Southern Road (1932); Negro Poetry and Drama (1937), and the Negro in American Fiction (1937); Mr. Brown taught at Virginia Seminary and College, Lincoln University (Missouri), Fisk University, and Howard University where he is Professor Emeritus of the English department. Mr. Brown holds a B.A. from Williams College where he was elected Phi Beta Kappa and has his M.A. in English from Howard University.

Thanksgiving Day Rally

Nowhere is the spirit of Thanksgiving demonstrated more vividly than at Spelman's annual "Thanksgiving Day Celebration". This year Spelmanites joined together to donate over 30 boxes of food to needy neighborhood families. Among the contributing clubs and organizations were the Student Government Association, sororities, classes, and dormitories.

The Thanksgiving Day Rally was held in Sisters Chapel. Rev. Norman Rates, College Minister, was the speaker. A heartwarming feature of the program was a musical presentation made by the children from Spelman's nursery school.

It was truly a day of giving thanks as the Spelman family celebrated their past successes and reflected upon the future.

HOMECOMING . . .

The theme for this year's Homecoming was UJAMAA, a Swahili word meaning "the family". Spelman and Morehouse comprise a family with all the problems and joys of any other family. During Homecoming weekend, those of us here and those of us returning readily opened our arms for our family reunion.

As always Homecoming weekend was filled with many exciting events. The weekend began with coronation — two hours of expression through dance, drama, and song at which Miss Avis Bynum was crowned Miss Maroon and White.

A host of parties and get togethers followed leading up to the gala Masquerade Ball.

This Homecoming was exceptional because the Maroon and White Tigers won the Homecoming football game. The spectators were truly enthusiastic.

To top off the weekend, Norman Conners gave a splendid performance before a full house of anxious fans.

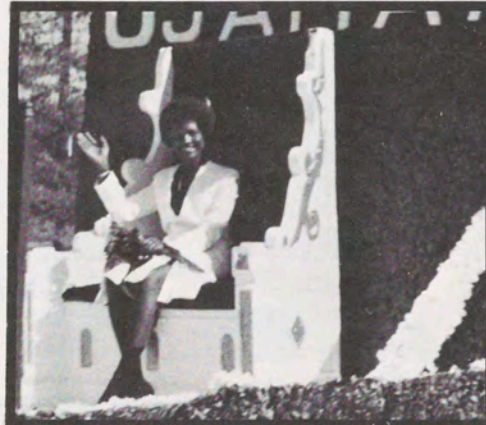

We hope that the Homecomings in the years to come will continue to serve as an affirmation of the bond between Spelman and Morehouse. For truly, we are family.

Martin Luther King, Jr. March For Full Employment

In accordance with recent tradition this year's January 15th was preserved as a day of remembrance for Atlanta's own late great Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. The birthday of the astounding civil rights leader has been designated as a holiday by many cities, and there are hopes that it will soon become a national holiday. On A.U.C. campuses, this year's tribute encompasses an entire week of recognition, beginning with a viewing of the film entitled, "From Montgomery to Memphis", which depicted some of the key moments of Dr. King's life.

Also included in the week of events was the Unity Day Program followed by the Unity Ball held at the Sheraton Biltmore Hotel. Stephanie Mills was the guest artist at this year's concert and the A.U.C. Gospel Choir presented a "Joint Workshop Service Gospel Extravaganza."

The celebrated week was highlighted by the Annual Motivation rally and march which began at M.L.K. chapel at Morehouse. Among the dignitaries present were The Honorable Andrew Young, Mrs. Coretta Scott King, Congressman Walter Fauntleroy, Mayor Coleman Young of Detroit, and many others.

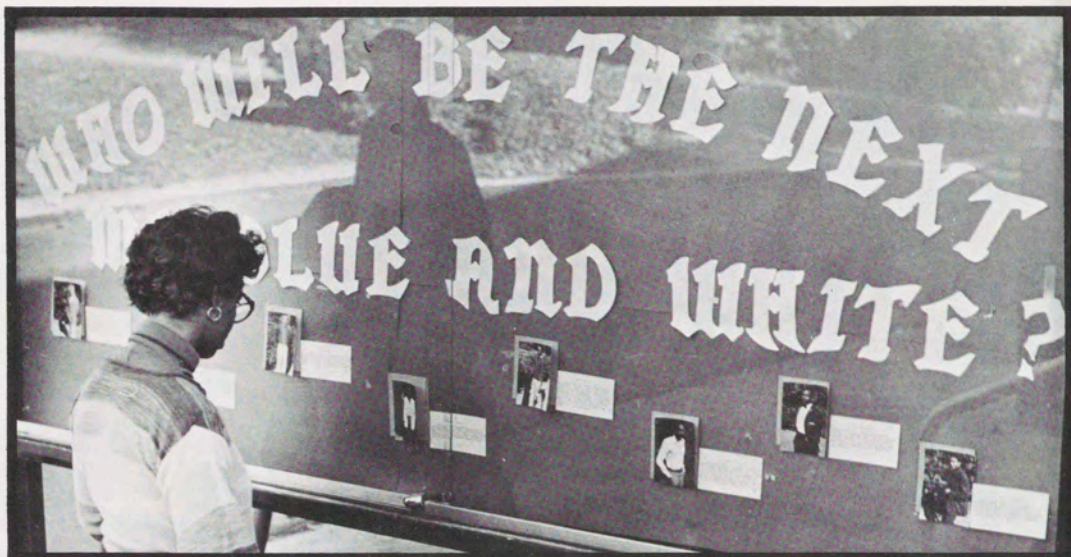

This week of events reignited the flames of many burning memories . . . memories of an unforgettable time and place and the dream of the man . . . Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Blue And White Ball And Coronation

Exquisitely for You in Blue, the 1980 Blue and White Ball was held January 18, 1980 in the Grand Ballroom of the Peachtree Plaza Hotel. Hors d'oeuvres and champagne were served. In semi-formal attire, showcasing the latest in European fashions, the students danced until the wee hours of the morning. As usual, the gala affair was well attended and well received.

GREEK WEEK

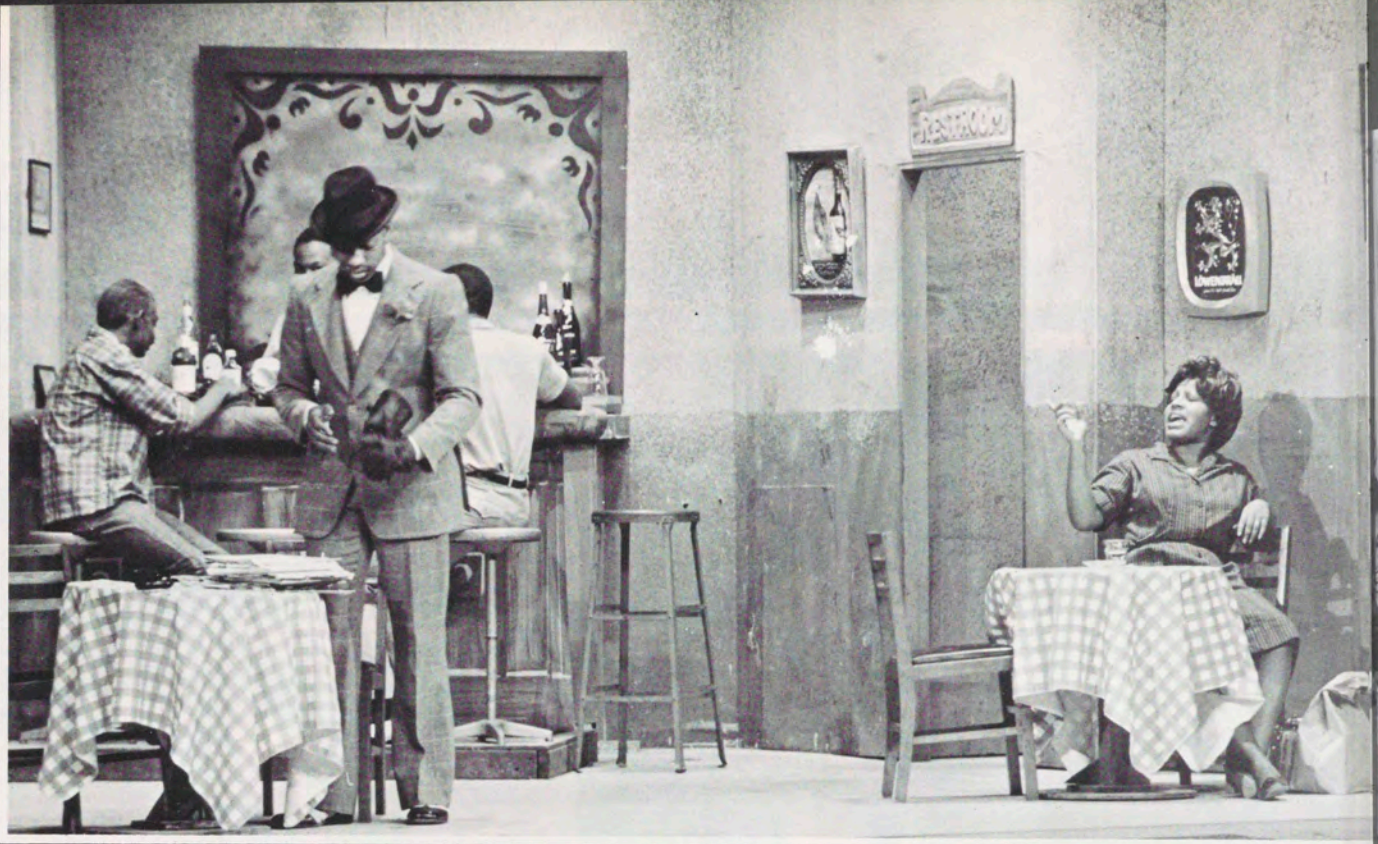

Greek week, sponsored by the Spelman Student Government Association, was held on March 17-22. This activity not only promoted unity between the students as a whole, but it also gave the students a chance to see the greek organizations from Spelman and Morehouse. Activities for this week included softball games, basketball games, swimming competition, displays, and a stepdown.

99th Founders Day

April 11, 1980 marked the 99th birthday of Spelman College. Many events focusing on the heritage of Spelman reminded the students of what Spelman was and what Spelman should be. The celebration began with the Annual Founders Day Convocation at which the graduating Seniors displayed for the first time their caps and gowns. Dr. A. Lenora Taitt, Class of '61 and Program Coordinator/Director of the United States National Commission on the International Year of the Child, gave the address.

The celebration continued with a rally at which the classes presented songs and skits, and campus organizations presented their gifts to the school.

Other events of the celebration included a Founders Day Fair, a Birthday Disco, Anniversary Worship Service with the Rev. Yolande Herron — Class of '76 as guest minister, and a Centennial Class Cabaret.

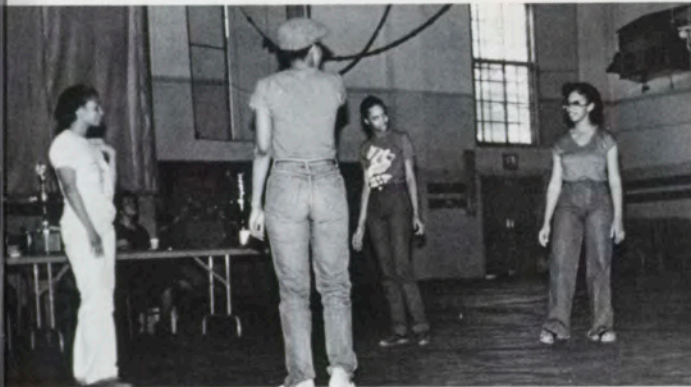

This is always a rewarding time for Spelman students and faculty as it provides the spark for the revitalization of Spelman's tradition of excellence.

I have enjoyed each minute of my life at Spelman. Many friendships have been born — hopefully never to be forgotten. Our four years at Spelman have been filled with laughter, joy, tears, and sadness. We, like the seeds of a flower, were planted four years ago — to grow, to develop, to mature. The time has come for us to part; to go our separate ways, to seek new horizons, and to meet new challenges. We the Class of 1980 have a challenge to ourselves, as well as to mankind. We must go forth with a smile upon our face and a song in our heart.

Thanks to those who stood by me in the production of this book. To the Class of 1980, I wish you the best of luck in your endeavors. To my Spelman sisters, I wish you the patience, understanding, love, and peace in the years to come. I hope that the moments captured in these pages will hold great memories for all of you.

May God Bless each one of you!
Cathy Renee' Henry
