1881 SPELMAN COLLEGE 1981
"A CENTURY OF SERVICE TO WOMEN WHO ACHIEVE"

ike A Perious Pearl, It Was A Product Of An Irritation.

Spelman College, since 1881, has stood proudly behind the shield of womanhood, service, and scholastic achievement. A Spelman woman takes pride in herself, as well as, her school. As we arrive at our centennial Spelman College 1981, would like it to be known that we remember our humble beginnings and take pride in our accomplishments.

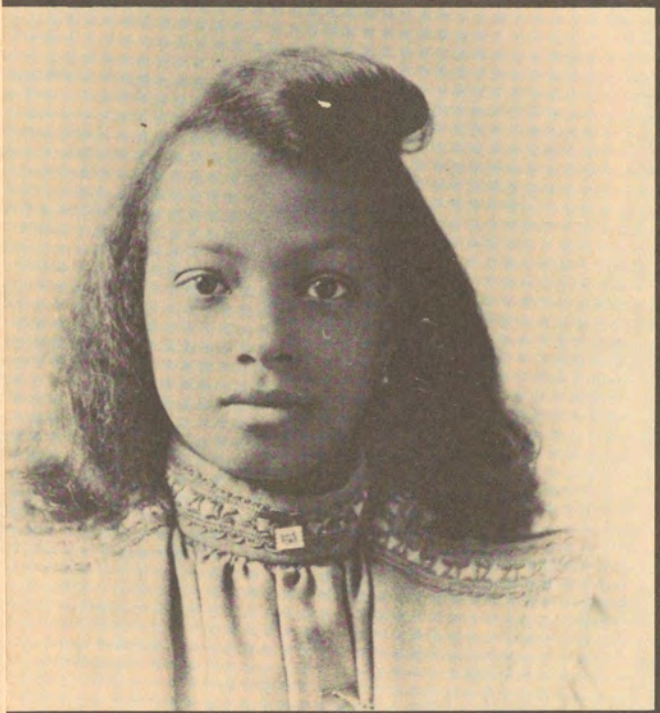

Seminary for Black Women in the South

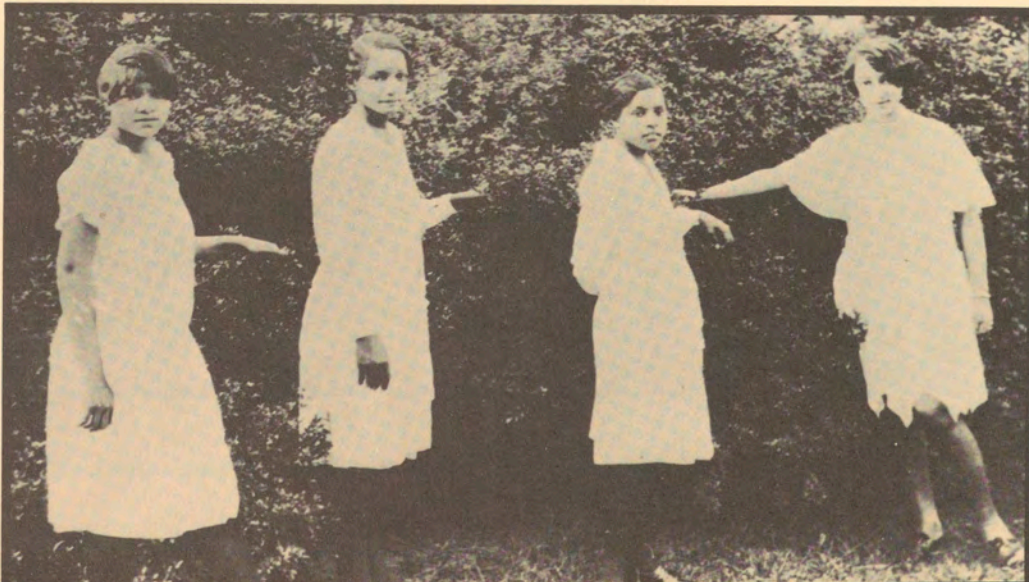

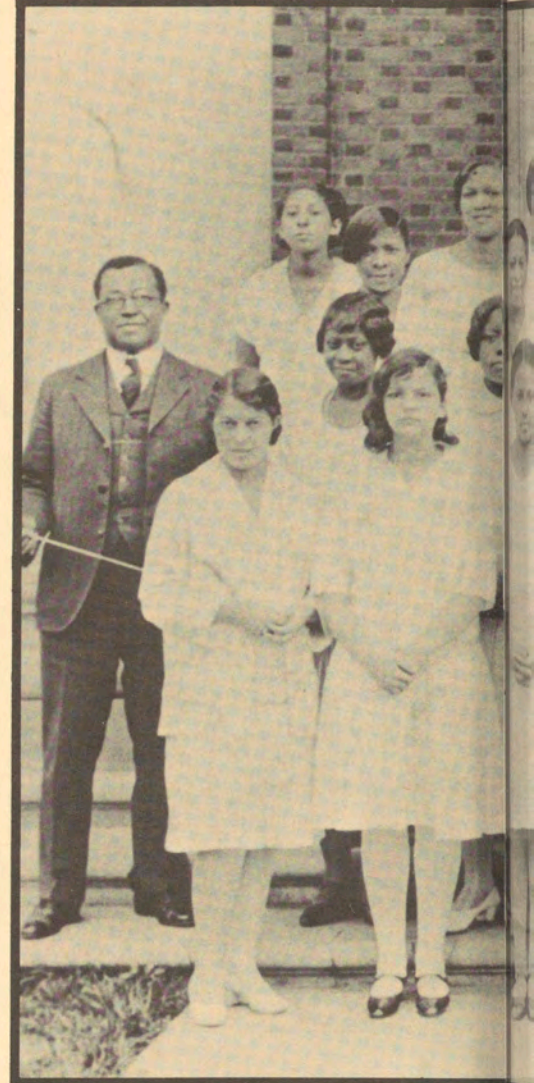

Seminary For Black Women In The South.

Atlanta Baptist Female Seminary, later known as Spelman College, emerged from the mist of much turmoil and personal unrest. Sophia B. Packard and Harriet E. Giles had been long standing friends. They both shared the feeling of disgust when reflecting on the plight of the Black female. During a time when poverty and illiteracy were commonplace among the Black population, these two friends decided to do something to upgrade the education of the Black female. A seminary for Black women in the south would be the answer to their prayers. It took a lot of prayers and hard work before the two women were able to open the doors of their school for the first time.

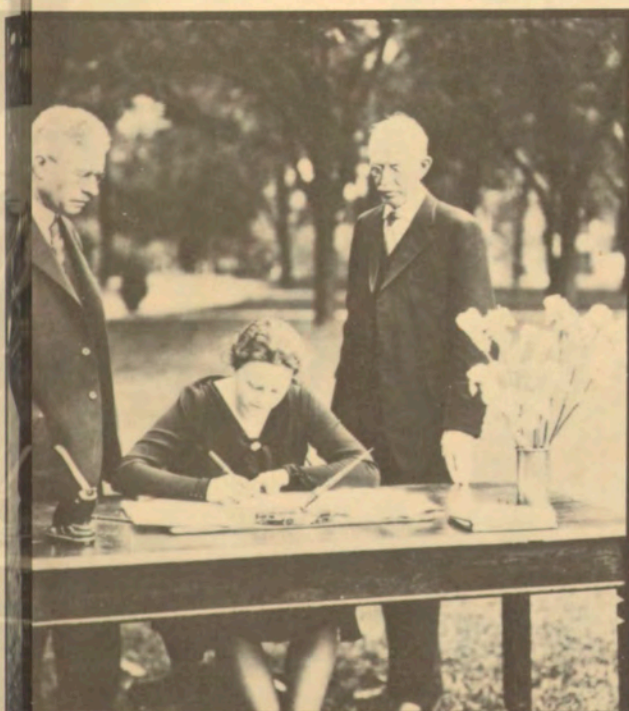

Once the doors were open, progress came quickly for the young seminary. In 1883 the seminary moved to its present location. The next year the seminary got its name, Spelman. The name was given to the school in honor of Mr. Rockefeller's mother, Laura Spelman Rockefeller. The still young school was dedicated to the pursuit of academic excellence. The fields of study expanded to include such subjects as nurse training and a teacher's professional department. Spelman Seminary was now taking on a new shape. Academic uplift was followed closely by structural development. Packard Hall was dedicated in 1888 and Giles Hall in 1893. By the close of 1900, Morehouse and Morgan Hall, MacVicar Hospital, and Reynold's Cottage had been erected.

he Institution, However, Remained Firm In Its Commitment To Teach.

In that same year Harriet Giles was appointed President of the Missionary Training Department, Quarles Library was opened in Packard Hall, and two students from Africa were enrolled

Many administrative changes took place during this time. When Harriet Giles died in 1901 Spelman had to once again dig from within and produce another dynamic, energetic, and concerned person to carry on. Could it happen? Could there be another so willing to sacrifice? Yes, Florence Reed. Under Reed's leadership Spelman College became affiliated with Morehouse College and Atlanta University. Time passed quickly and soon the year 1931 came. The year marked Spelman's 50th Anniversary. The test of time was no match for the determination of Spelman's students.

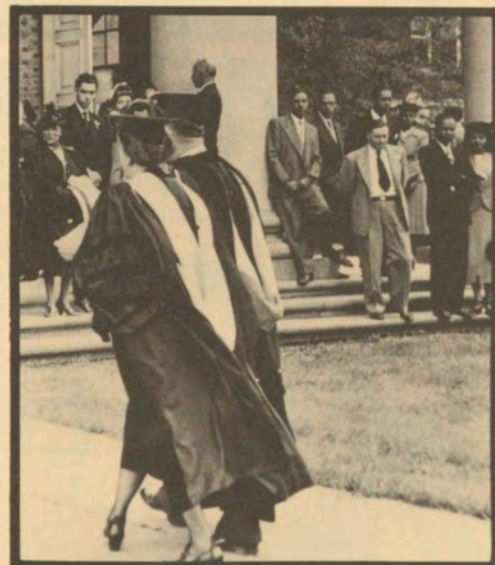

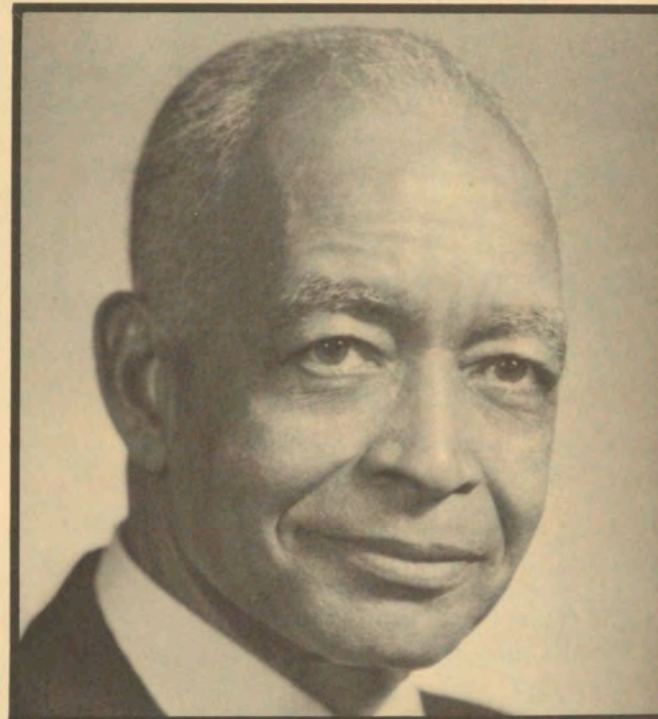

n 1953, The First Black President Came To Spelman, Albert E. Manley.

Dr. Manley served Spelman for 23 years. With the combination of Dr. Manley's wisdom and Spelman's determination great things were bound to occur. And they did. The Charles E. Merrill Travel grants were established and the charter amended. Another milestone was placed in Spelman's history in 1956. Spelman College celebrated 75 years of existence.

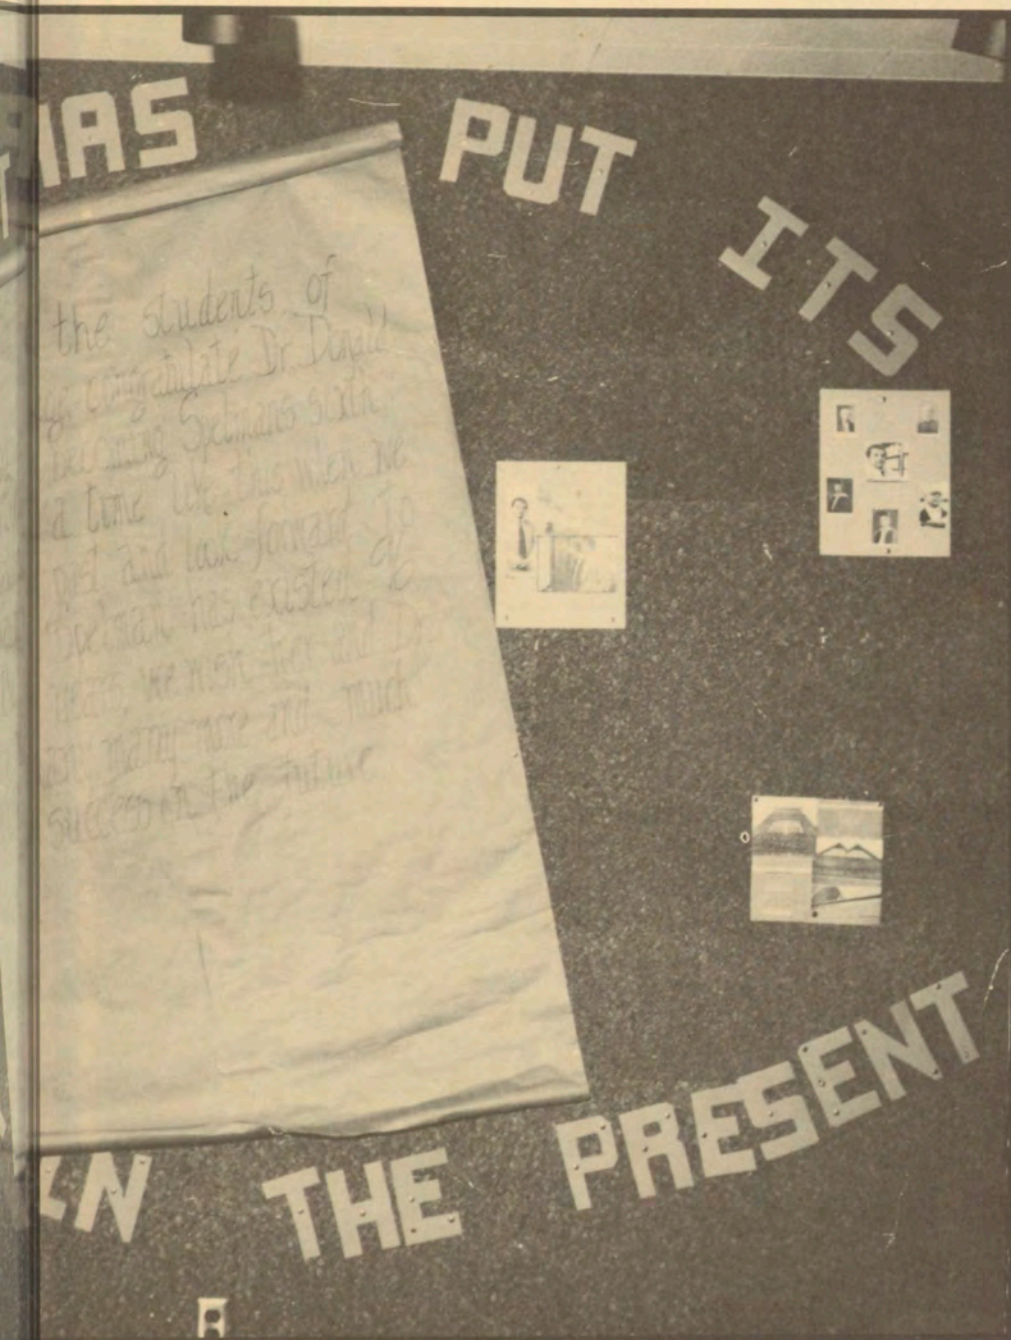

As the 60's approached Spelman students became active participants in the civil rights movement. Sit-ins, boycotts, protests of every kind were infested with Spelman students. Spelman's daughters believe as strongly in their people as they do their school.

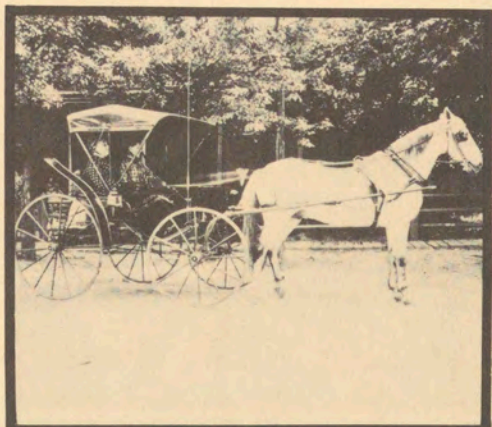

he 1970's Were Both Hard And Happy For The College.

Morgan Hall burned down in 1970 and that same year Florence Reed passed. When all seemed down hill, new hope was initiated. The Albert E. Manley College Center was opened, and the Sarah Sage Mcalpin Hall was erected, Morehouse Hall was renamed Morehouse-James Hall; Spelman was on her way back up. But in 1976, with the retirement of Dr. Manley and the election of Donald Steward as the next president, student unrest occurred. The students locked in the Board of Trustees to protest the Board's failure to appoint a Black female. Despite the students efforts Donald Steward was inaugurated in 1977. Under Dr. Steward's leadership, the first honorary degree was awarded, Marian Wright Edelman (60) came chairwoman of the Board of Trustees and the Centennial, with all its glory, was ushered in. Happy Birthday Spelman College and many happy returns.

Freshman Week

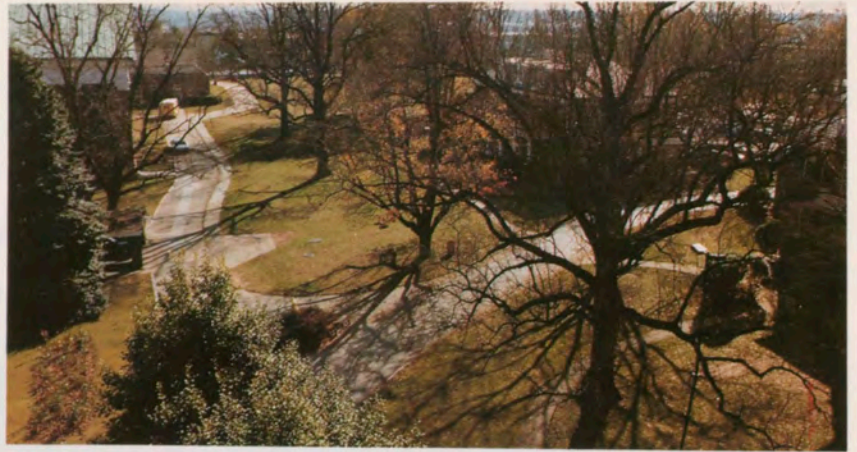

They came to Spelman with the same enthusiasm as the women before them. A melting pot of mixed emotions, the freshmen knew that they were about to embark on a serious journey. So with a kiss, a tear, and a wave good-bye, they picked up their torches and started a new chapter in Spelman's great history.

Campus . . .

The clubs, the social activities and especially the people involved form our life and the atmosphere on campus. It is an atmosphere in which we have the chance to interact and get to know one another. Cramming into the wee hours of the morning, looking for a late night snack, socializing in Manley Center or just relaxing in the dorm fill many of our hours spent on campus.

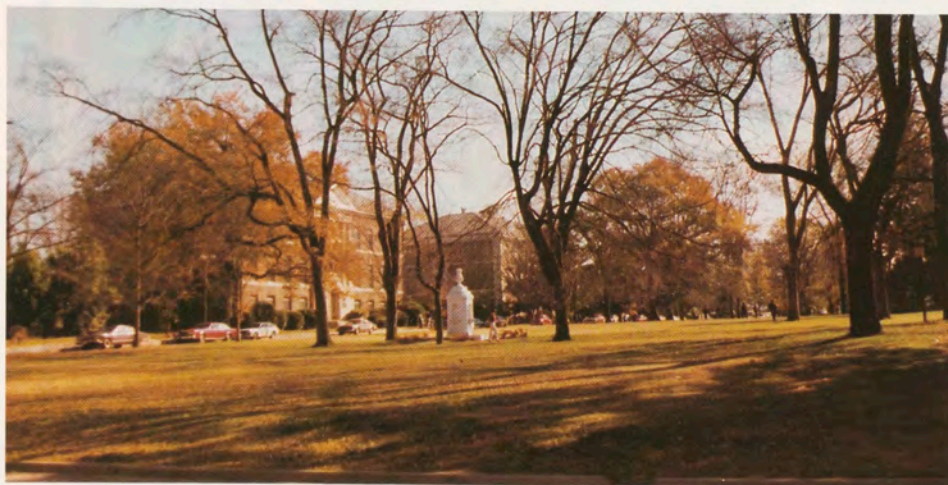

With the force of a hurricane it hit, leaving in its path numerous victims. Spelman was among the first schools in the center to fall prey to the "New Wave" syndrome. It quickly caught on "Whip It", "Sling It", "Pump It Out", and many other phrases took over the native language. We became serious . . . yet wild . . . We accepted it with open arms because it was as creative and as universal as we were.

New Wave

Commuters . . .

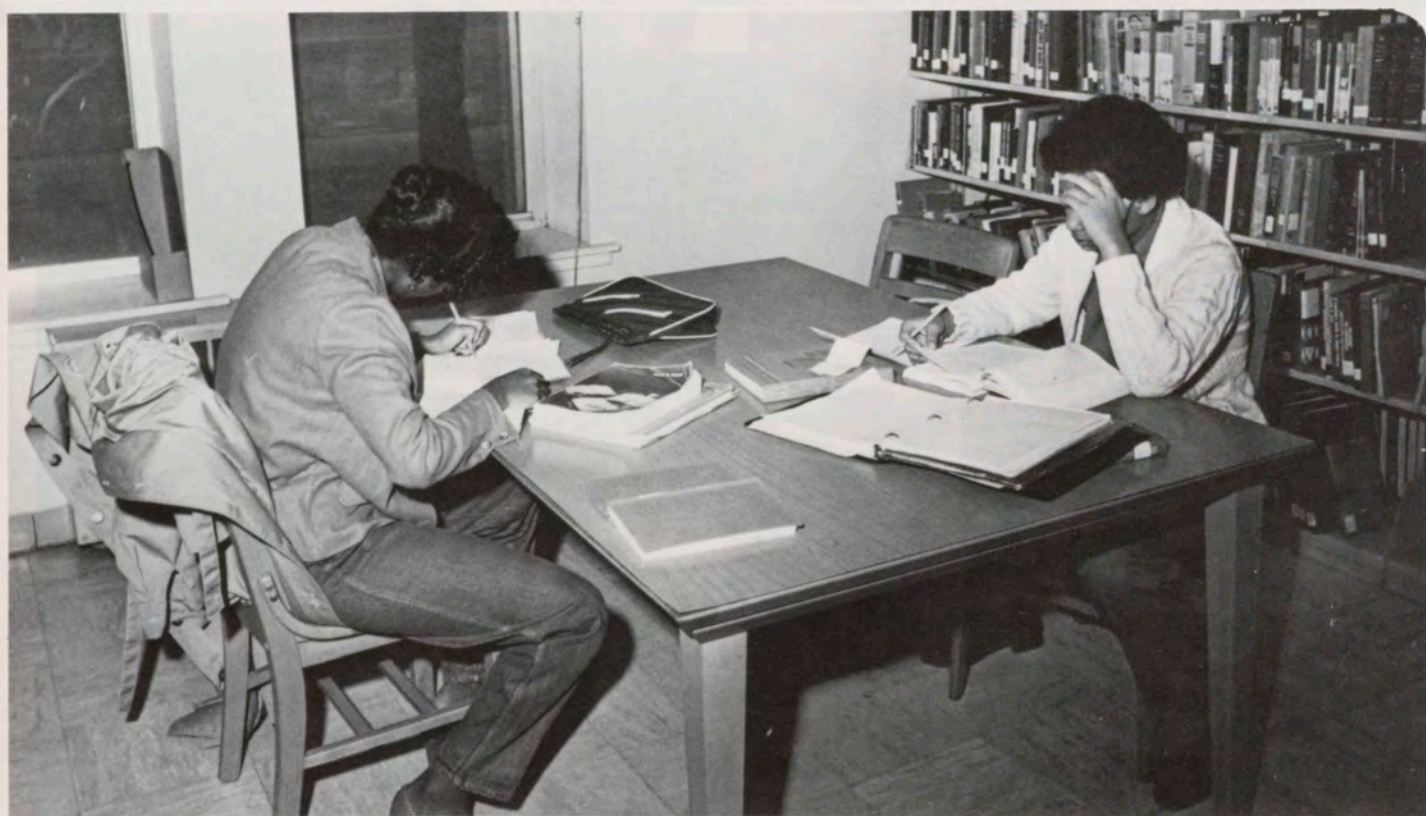

Although we came here to dedicate ourselves to books and we do enjoy the beauty of our campus, there is another dimension that is important to our growth-life in Atlanta. There is more to education than academics and more to the world than our campus. Atlanta is a growing city with a lot to offer and although it is just a small part of the world, it represents a great part of our overall experience.

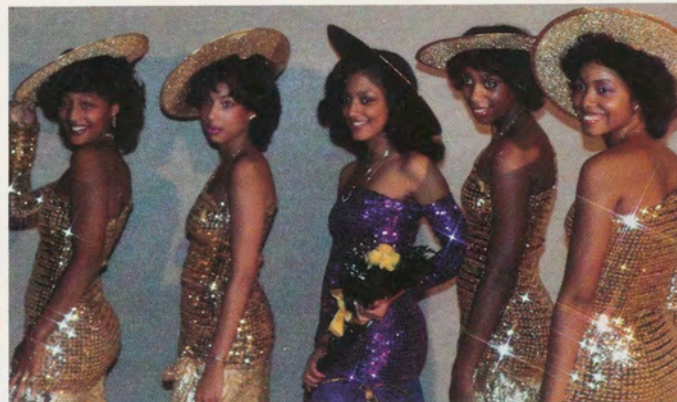

Academics

There is no doubt that the curriculum has changed within the past 100 years of Spelman's existence. Many majors have been added allowing Spelman's graduates to successfully enter fields formerly closed to women. This new decade has caused many of us to reflect upon our position as Black women and how we can improve in the coming years. Part of this improvement is taking place now through our academic development, which will be a part of us to take into the world and nurture.

Homecoming . . .

Once a year a cry goes out to all Spelman and Morehouse graduates: "Come home." Like a mother calling for her children the cry echoes around the world. It is time for a Homecoming

... Keeping in the tradition Spelman actively shares in the Homecoming events. This year the men at Morehouse honored us with a coronation that was a "Tribute to Black Women." We came to the activities in large numbers to show our appreciation for the tribute that our brothers from across the street gave us.

Enlightenment

This year, as every year, Spelman opened her arms to guest speakers. Her daughters were eager to hear new pearls of wisdom. Since each student has her own interest, many different speakers were asked to come. This year our cup runth over with new thoughts and ideas. Benjamin Hooks, Ruby Dee, Ossie Davis, Charlene Harper-Bolton, and many other eloquent speakers came to share in our centennial celebration. We thank them all and acknowledge these few as a symbol of our gratitude.

RENEE DUJEAN is the Director of the National Urban Leagues' BEEP Program. The BEEP program was set up to expose Black college students to the business world. Ms. DuJean was the team leader for the Innovations for Women Seminar sponsored by the Career Planning and Placement Office.

MONA BAILEY, national president of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., came to Spelman College by the request of Etta Kappa Chapter to celebrate our centennial with us. She spoke to the student body about the leadership opportunities for young people through Greek-lettered organizations. Mrs. Bailey is also an Assistant State Superintendent of Public Instruction for the state of Washington.

STEVEN A. MINTER came to Spelman to speak at one of the very first Centennial Invocations. He is the former Under Secretary of the U.S. Department of Education.

AUTHER LANGFORD is a native of Atlanta and a graduate of Morris Brown College. He is the founder and president of the United Youth Adult Conference in Atlanta. Mr. Langford has been the director of the Atlanta Youth Conference (1969-70), youth editor of the Atlanta Inquire Newspaper (1968), and he is presently on the Commission of Public Safety in Atlanta. He is also a member of the NAACP and SCLC. He spoke on the topic of the missing and murdered children.

Our shelter from the stormy blast, And our eternal home

Before the hills in order stood, Or earth received her frame,
From everlasting Thou art God, To endless years the same.

A thousand ages in Thy sight Are like an evening gone;
Short as the watch that ends the night Before the rising sun.

Time, like an everlasting stream, Bears all its sons away;
They fly forgotten, as a dream Dies at the opening day.

Our God, Our help in ages past, Our hope for years to come,
Be Thou our guard while troubles last, And our eternal home.

Amen.

Congresswoman Cardiss Collins, Chairwoman of the Congressional Black Caucus, was elected to fill the position of U.S. Representative in Congress for the Seventh Congressional District of Illinois left vacant by the death of her husband, Congressman George Collins. Since that time she has run on her own record of providing service to her constituency, never capturing less than 85% of the vote. Congresswoman Collins has earned a reputation of being a Member who "does her homework." She was the first woman and the first black to be appointed by the Democratic Party as Whip-at-Large and to be the Chair of the House Government Operations Committee.

Dr. Effie O'Neal Ellis, a 1933 graduate, received her Bachelor of Science degree in biology from Spelman. As a graduate student at Atlanta University, in 1935 she continued her scientific career, specializing in parasitological research. A world renown physician, Dr. Ellis received her degree with honors from the College of Medicine of the University of Illinois in 1950. After serving a pediatrics residency at Massachusetts General Hospital, she did additional pediatrics work at Johns Hopkins University Medical School. Dr. Ellis is formerly Co-Director of Chicago's Quality of Life Program and now serves as a consultant for the Health Systems Agency. The wife of Arthur W. Ellis, she has served as a role model for hundreds of Spelman women.

Dr. Albert Edward Manley, a distinguished scholar, became the first male and the first black President of Spelman College where he served for 23 years. He received his bachelor's degree with honors in the fields of physics and mathematics from Johnson C. Smith University in 1930 and holds a Master's degree from the Teachers College of Columbia University as well as a Doctor's degree in Education conferred by Stanford University in 1946. Dr. Manley has been a high school teacher and principal in Asheville, North Carolina and later state inspector of Negro high schools under the North Carolina State Department of Public Instruction. In 1946 he accepted a position at North Carolina College as Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences and Professor of Education. Noted as an administrative pioneer, builder, and humanist, Dr. Manley has served on numerous boards. He is married to Spelman alumna, Audrey Forbes Manley, M.D.

Mrs. Mary Olivia Brookins Ross is currently President of the Women's Convention Auxiliary to the National Baptist Convention, U.S.A., Incorporated, an organization with an outreach of more than three and a half million Baptist women. One of Spelman's top ambassadors, she has done graduate studies at Wayne State University and the University of Michigan and taught in the states of Georgia and Michigan. Mrs. Ross, a member of numerous organizations, has received many awards and citations for her untiring efforts in the fields of Christian Education and Public Service. She has authored and edited several books. Mrs. Ross is the widow of the late Dr. Solomon David Ross, who pastored The Greater Shiloh Baptist Church in Detroit, Michigan.

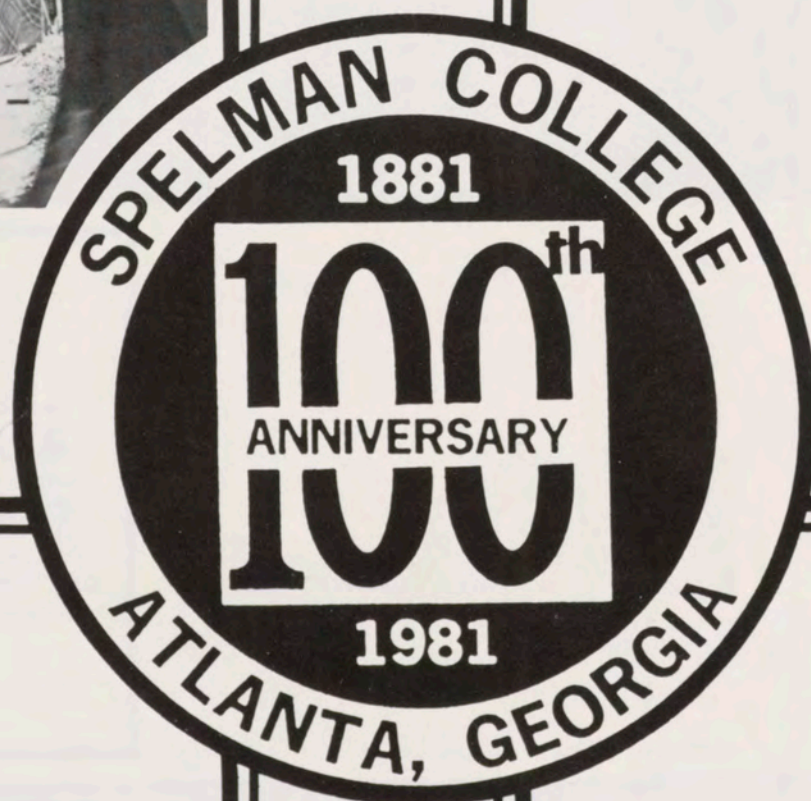

Goodbye Spelman

We Love You.

Reflections is an appropriate name for this fine book which depicts the life in our College in this very special year of Spelman's Centennial. Indeed, we have reflected a great deal on the past accomplishments and growth of this unique institution which have taken place during the last 100 years. Now with special tribute to our Centennial Class, the Class of 1981, we reflect on the future of our beloved Spelman and that future is bright indeed.

This year, we graduated 220 students, many of whom will now go on to exciting new careers in the worlds of business, education, medicine and the like. How proud we are of these young women and the generations of Spelman women who have preceded them. Now building on the past, we accept the challenges and new responsibilities of the future. 1981 is our "turning point."

We now look to go on and on to higher heights. Class of 1981, we salute you.

Sincerely,

Donald M. Stewart

Spelman thy name we praise;
Standards and honors raise.
We'll ever faithful be,
Throughout eternity.
May peace with thee abide
And God forever guide
Thy heights supreme and true.
Blessings to you.

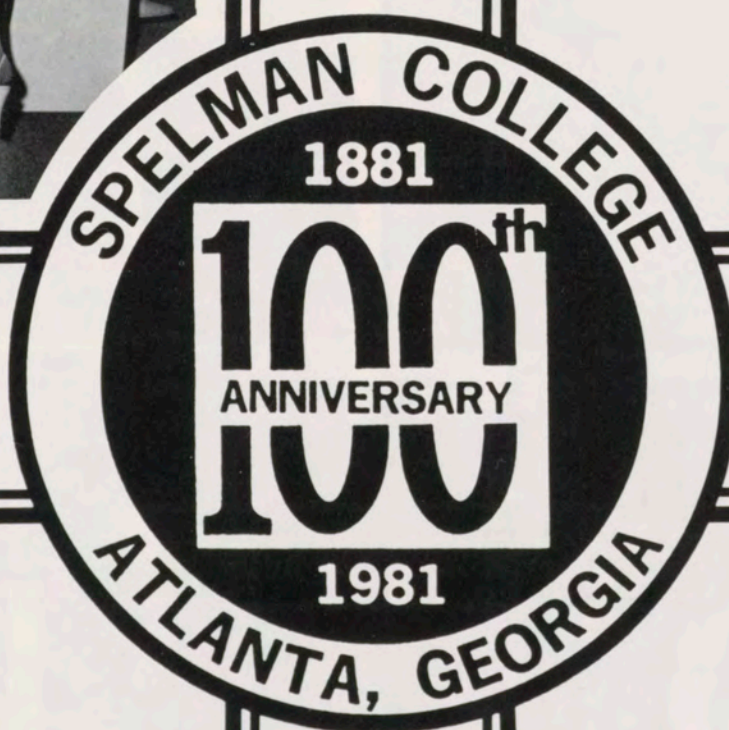

Through years of toil and pain,
May thy dear walls remain
Beckons of heavenly light,
Undaunted by the fight.
And when life's race is won,
Thy noble work is done,
Oh God forever bind,
Our heart to thine.

EXPRESSIONS . . .

A black and white photograph of a forest path, slightly out of focus. In the foreground, there are several large, bright, circular bokeh lights that appear to be reflections or light sources, creating a dreamy atmosphere. The path leads into the distance, flanked by trees and foliage.

Two different worlds we come from, but of one mind are we neither weaker or stronger yet strength in unity together we weren't meant to be (at least not for eternity) yet by meeting of the minds and souls, destiny has given us a common goal perhaps not by united endurance (for by separate paths we strive) and not by similar implements (but instruments of our own lives) yet somehow we are together overtime
Someplace
Somehow
for each of us is living and in our lives we hold the beauty of a giving which can enrich one's soul time gave us time to give not love as shared by lovers, but understanding and reassurance that makes a life endurance

Our Love

I feel loved when your near I feel love when I hear ... your voice, your car, or a song
All these things just cheer me along.

Every day I wonder how we've come so far to where we are now.
Through our love I see the many things people need and want to be ...

Our love is here to stay,
no one can take our love away, not in the night, nor in the day cause our love is here to stay.

Expressions . . .

That's How I Feel

Sometimes I wonder how I'm ever going to make it through the night.
I thought it wouldn't matter, but it does . . .

Being warm, I mean.

My blanket has become my best friend and my tears my insulation. (That's not the way its supposed to be)

I've always needed somewhere to hide someplace safe where I can look out but (they) couldn't look in and I would comfortably do my thing, enhanced by the warmth of your love.
(That's the way its supposed to be!)

I realize that no one but me can really understand what's going on in here . . .
I just wanted to let you know . . .
That's how I feel . . .

Tomorrow

Tomorrow really came yesterday but could only stay for 24 hours, Breaking promises
and keeping them simultaneously,
I still have faith that tomorrow will bring freedom and justice, Hopefully they will be able to stay forever,
If not,
tomorrow will be the same as yesterday,
Breaking promises
but always coming back the next day.

-Tyrone Harris

Peace

Warm smiles glowing, silent rivers flowing majestic birds in flight
A cold starry night
the muffled fall of snow
A fireplace aglow ...
Are things which mean to me ...
How lovely peace can be.

-Stephanie Cooper

Why do I continue to have faith in you?
Maybe I sorta like you
... maybe I'm kinda naive
... or perhaps I'm just stupid
Whatever the reason-let it pass.

I am of the firm belief that for each and every soul, there exists a corresponding one with the sole purpose of pleasing.

Now, as I am a hopeless romantic, might I please make this final suggestion:
Could we try again to seek happiness:
and go our separate ways?

They build them high
They look upward
They call it progress
They will suffer much for

They seek new horizons
They leave home going west and west and west until west becomes east and the east is home.
They make a circle of doom
and destruction

We are the open space that is cluttered with buildings
We prize the horizon,
We respect the untouched,
We suffer because of their obsession.
We too seek and smile and dream and sacrifice
We achieve, we perceive, we believe we are Black.

Expressions

There Never Was

If there never was a flower, mountain, or a tree
symbols of God's great universe that means so much to me

If there never was a flowing stream or brook
nor a rolling sea,
never a sunny starlit sky
where clouds float incessantly never the darkened moonlit night when stars gleam bright and gay never the seasons days or nights when these wonders are displayed if there never was such natural beauty untouched, though some are threatened still then there could never be me

My African King

With the strength of the pyramids
With the rush of the Nile
With the knowledge of the elders
With the courage of our people
With all these components you can only be a King:
